Note 1. The Motion to Reconsider is a special case. It is only in order during the meeting the motion to be reconsidered was acted on or at the next meeting. See Model Rule 17, ¶ 2 for exceptions and special restrictions. If the time limit has not expired, the motion can be made at anytime and it takes precedence over all other motions, yielding to nothing. This precedence is necessary because of the time constraints. Once the motion is made, however, the discussion of the motion drops back to the same precedence as the motion it proposes to reconsider.

Note 2. The incidental motions have no rank among themselves; except as described in Model Rule 16, they rank below the privileged motions and the Motion to Lay on the Table. Once an incidental motion is made, it takes on the precedence of the motion to which it is incidental.

Model Rule 14. Privileged Motions.

The five privileged motions are the highest ranking group of procedural motions, with the Motion to Adjourn having the highest precedence of the group. Only the Motion to Reconsider has higher precedence. Privileged motions can be made at anytime; the Motion to Adjourn, the Motion to Raise a Point of Privilege, and the Motion to Convene an Executive Session can interrupt another member who has the floor. When making one of these three motions, the council member should get the attention of the chair. The chair, interrupting anyone then speaking, recognizes the council member, who then states the motion.

Privileged motions require no second, cannot be reconsidered and, except for the Motion to Recede [Take a Recess], are not debatable. All privileged motions pass by simple majority. Specific characteristics of each privileged motion, listed in order of precedence, are set out below.

Comment: See Table 1 at the end of this publication for a recap of all of the procedural motions. Included in the recap is whether each type of motion can be amended, debated, or reconsidered, as well as the vote required to pass it, whether the motion can interrupt another person who has the floor, and whether a second is required.

1. Motion to Adjourn.

An unqualified Motion to Adjourn is the highest ranking privileged motion and requires, if approved by a majority vote, that the meeting end immediately and reconvene at the next regularly scheduled or called meeting. As the highest ranking privileged motion, the Motion to Adjourn can be raised at anytime, except when a vote is being taken or being counted. It can be interrupted only by the motion to reconsider; it can interrupt any person having the floor. The Motion to Adjourn cannot be amended, debated, or reconsidered; it requires a majority for passage. Like all privileged motions, it does not require a second.

Comment: See RONR § 21. Any qualification of the Motion to Adjourn (e.g., “I move that we adjourn in 45 minutes” or “I move that we adjourn and meet again next Thursday”) changes the status of this motion from a privileged motion to a main motion.

2. Motion to Recede [Motion to Take a Recess].

A recess is a short intermission, taken immediately upon passage. Following the recess, the meeting takes up at the same point where it was interrupted. The motion cannot be debated or reconsidered, but can be amended as to the duration of the recess. It requires a majority for passage. Also, the Motion to Recede is out of order if anyone has the floor or a vote is being taken or counted. Like the Motion to Adjourn, the Motion to Recede is privileged only if the
