South Carolina Right to Farm Act

Title 46 - Agriculture

CHAPTER 45.

NUISANCE SUITS RELATED TO AGRICULTURAL OPERATIONS

SECTION 46-45-10 Legislative findings.

The General Assembly finds that:

(1) The policy of the State is to conserve, protect, and encourage the development and improvement of its agricultural land and facilities for the production of food and other agricultural products.

(2) When nonagricultural land uses extend into agricultural areas, agricultural operations often become the subject of nuisance suits and as a result (a) agricultural facilities are sometimes forced to cease operations, and (b) many persons are discouraged from making investments in farm improvements or adopting new technology or methods.

(3) This chapter is enacted to reduce the loss to the State of its agricultural resources by limiting the circumstances under which agricultural facilities and operations may be considered a nuisance.

(4) The purpose of this chapter is to lessen the loss of farmland caused by common law nuisance actions which arise when nonagricultural land uses expand into agricultural areas. This purpose is justified by the stated social desire of preserving and encouraging agricultural production.

(5) With the exception of new swine operations and new slaughterhouse operations, in the interest of homeland security and in order to secure the availability, quality, and safety of food produced in South Carolina, it is the intent of the General Assembly that state law and the regulations of the Department of Health and Environmental Control pre-empt the entire field of and constitute a complete and integrated regulatory plan for agricultural facilities and agricultural operations as defined in Section 46-45-20, thereby precluding a county from passing an ordinance that is not identical to the state provisions.

SECTION 46-45-20. Definitions.

(A) For purposes of this chapter, "agricultural facility" includes, but is not limited to, any land, building, structure, pond, impoundment appurtenance, machinery, or equipment which is used for the commercial production or processing of crops, trees, livestock, animals, poultry, honeybees, honeybee products, livestock products, poultry products, or products which are used in commercial aquaculture.

(B) For purposes of this chapter "agricultural operation" means:

- (1) the plowing, tilling, or preparation of soil at the agricultural facility;
- (2) the planting, growing, fertilizing, or harvesting of crops, ornamental horticulture, floriculture, and turf grasses;
- (3) the application of pesticides, herbicides, or other chemicals, compounds, or substances to crops, weeds, or soil in connection with the production of crops, livestock, animals, or poultry;
- (4) the breeding, hatching, raising, producing, feeding, keeping, slaughtering, or processing of livestock, hogs, aquatic animals, equines, chickens, turkeys, poultry, or other fowl normally raised for food, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, rabbits, or similar farm animals for commercial purposes;
- (5) the production and keeping of the honeybees, the production of honeybee products, and honeybee processing facilities;
- (6) the production, processing, or packaging of eggs or egg products;
- (7) the manufacturing of feed for poultry or livestock;
- (8) the rotation of crops;
- (9) commercial aquaculture;
- (10) the application of existing, changed, or new technology, practices, processes, or procedures to an agricultural operation;
- (11) the operation of a roadside market; and
- (12) silviculture.

(C) For purposes of this chapter "new swine operations" means: porcine production operations not in existence on June 30, 2006.

(D) For purposes of this chapter, "new slaughterhouse operations" means agricultural operations that:

- (1) are established after this chapter's effective date; and

(2) slaughter or process more than two hundred million pounds of livestock, hogs, aquatic animals, equine, chickens, turkeys, poultry, or other fowl normally raised for food, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, rabbits, or similar farm animals for commercial purposes.

(3) a new slaughterhouse operation does not include a slaughterhouse located within the corporate limits of a city that relocates within that same county.

SECTIONS 46-45-30. Repealed 63)by Section 47-20-165(E).

SECTION 46-45-40. Established date of operation.

For the purposes of this chapter, the established date of operation is the date on which an agricultural operation commenced operation. If the physical facilities of the agricultural operation are expanded subsequently or new technology adopted, the established date of operation for each change is not a separately and independently established date of operation and the commencement of the expanded operation does not divest the agricultural operation of a previously established date of operation.

SECTION 46-45-50. Liability for pollution and flooding.

The provisions of section 46-45-70 do not affect or defeat the right of a person to recover damages for any injuries or damages sustained by him because of pollution of, or change in condition of, the waters of a stream or because of an overflow on his lands.

SECTION 46-45-60. Local ordinances to contrary null and void.

(A) Notwithstanding any local law or ordinance, an agricultural operation or facility is considered to be in compliance with the local law or ordinance if the operation or facility would otherwise comply with state law or regulations governing the facility or operation. With the exception of new swine operations and new slaughterhouse operations, to the extent an ordinance of a unit of local government:

(1) attempts to regulate the licensing or operation of an agricultural facility in any manner that is not identical to the laws of this State and regulations of the Department of Health and Environmental Control and amendments thereto;

(2) makes the operation of an agricultural facility or an agricultural operation at an agricultural facility a nuisance or providing for abatement as a nuisance in derogation of this chapter; or

(3) is not identical to state law and regulations governing agricultural operations or agricultural facilities, is null and void. The provisions of this section do not apply whenever a nuisance results from the negligent, illegal, or improper operation of an agricultural facility.

The provisions of this section do not apply to an agricultural facility or agricultural operation at an agricultural facility located within the corporate limits of a city.

(B) The provisions of this section shall not preclude any right a county may have to determine whether an agricultural use is a permitted use under the county's land use and zoning authority; provided, if an agricultural facility or an agricultural operation is a permitted use, or is approved as a use pursuant to any county conditional use, special exception or similar county procedure, county development standards, or other ordinances that are not identical with the laws of this State or the regulations of the Department of Health and Environmental Control are null and void to the extent they (a) apply to agricultural operations or facilities otherwise permitted by this chapter, the laws of this State, and the regulations of the Department of Health and Environmental Control, and (b) are not identical to this chapter, the laws of this State, and the regulations of the Department of Health and Environmental Control.

SECTION 46-45-70 Established agricultural facility as nuisance; changed conditions in surrounding locality.

No established agricultural facility or any agricultural operation at an established agricultural facility is or may become a nuisance, private or public, by any changed conditions in or about the locality of the facility or operation. This section does not apply whenever a nuisance results from the negligent, improper, or illegal operation of an agricultural facility or operation.

SECTION 46-45-80. Setback distances; waiver.

Any setback distances given in R. 61-43, Standards for Permitting of Agricultural Animal Facilities, are minimum siting requirements as established by the Department of Health and Environmental Control. The department may require additional setback distances on a case-by-case basis considering the factors set forth in the regulation. Such distances may be waived or reduced by written consent of the adjoining property owners, or otherwise without consent of the adjoining property owners, when there are innovative and alternative technologies approved by the department pursuant to the Innovative and Alternative Technologies Section of R. 61-43. All agricultural animal facilities affected by these setback provisions must have a vegetative buffer between the facility and the affected residence as established by DHEC unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the adjoining landowners.

2020 Comprehensive Plan Executive Summary

A message to the residents of Oconee County

Oconee County has prepared a new Comprehensive Plan that guides the County's growth and development decisions over the course of the next 10 years. The Plan is required, by State law, to be revised every five years. It is a living document that should be updated regularly as conditions change and shifts occur in public policy.

Primary input for the Comprehensive Plan was developed with input from the residents. Over the course of seven months, nine public outreach meetings were held in all five voting districts. Approximately 500 citizens attended these meetings and 250 comments were received. Five surveys were included as supplements to the Upstate Journal which resulted in over 1,100 completed surveys with an additional 350+ survey comments. In short, the County reached out for citizen input using radio and newspaper advertisements. The following pages describe the results of public participation that informed and guided this planning document.

The Comprehensive Plan is the County's principle guiding or vision document – designed to formulate a coordinated, long-term planning program to maintain and enhance the managed growth and viability of the County. The Plan lays out the desired future for the County and relates how that future is to be achieved. It serves as a resource to both the public and private sector by projecting how land will develop, housing needs met, training developed to attract businesses with well compensated jobs, how recreational interests are developed while protecting the environment, and how public services and facilities will be provided and improved.

The County will use the Comprehensive Plan in the following ways:

- Goals, Objectives, and Strategies

The Comprehensive Plan provides objectives and strategies that guide short term actions to reach long term goals. These strategies, which are reflections of County values identified through public outreach efforts, will be used as guidelines in the analysis of managing growth and other capital investment decisions.

- Future Land Use Map

The Future Land Use Map shall be referenced in making managed growth and capital investment decisions. It provides a representation of the County's vision helping to guide development based on citizen input, development needs and preferences and indicates areas where various types of land uses should be encouraged to grow.

- Implementation Plan

The Executive Summary includes an Implementation Plan that will direct public investment and private initiative: Plan implementation is carried out through the adoption or revision of ordinances and through the completion of projects and programs outlined in the goals, objectives and strategies sections.

A call to action

This is a dynamic time for Oconee County. Rapidly changing technology, national demographic shifts, and changing market preferences are reshaping our county. Many of the changes Oconee County has experienced over the last decade present daunting challenges. But at the same time, the County has had successes addressing needs and cultivating its unique assets. The Plan's recommended actions include more visionary efforts to address our challenges and build upon our assets.

Challenges to Overcome:

- Stagnant workforce growth
- Transportation Infrastructure planning for cars, bikes, and pedestrians
- Need for more higher paying careers.
- Lack of emphasis on training for skilled jobs
- Critical shortage of affordable & obtainable housing
- Shortage of housing and planning for housing and care for our aging population
- Limited internet availability
- Divided population regarding managing growth
- Limited entertainment options

Assets to Build On:

- Growth Region
- I-85 corridor
- Clemson University and Tri- County Technical College
- Retirement communities
- Agricultural areas
- Mountain, lakes, and rivers
- Strong light-industry base
- Geographic placement and mild climate
- Quality tourist-areas
- Quality K-12 education
- Recreational activities - biking, hiking, boating

How to measure progress

The many strategies in the Comprehensive Plan vary widely by their very natures. Some are relatively easy to measure; while others are more complex and subjective, reflecting such words as “encourage”, “leverage” or “promote.” Consequently, there is no single uniform system of measuring the success of all these strategies. As progress of a strategy is identified, regular updates will be made to the County Council. Once experience is gained completing a strategy, the lessons learned will be adapted to the remaining similar strategies.

How can citizens become involved

The foundation of the Comprehensive Plan rests on input from the County’s citizens. Once the plan has been accepted by the County Council, the Planning Commission will begin addressing the goals, objectives and strategies that fall within their purview. Other boards, committees and commissions, along with the County Council will address other identified priorities. Continued input from citizens and nongovernmental organizations will be critical to success. This can be accomplished by attending and speaking at meetings of the Planning Commission or County Council. Additionally, making written comments to these groups, meeting with Commission members, or any combination of these means is encouraged. Meeting dates and times of these groups can be found on the county’s web site: oconeesc.com

Who we heard from

The Comprehensive Plan is revised based on citizen input. To encourage citizens to attend upcoming meetings, newspaper advertisements and radio announcements were used. Nine public outreach meetings were held in all five voting districts. Approximately 500 citizens attended these meetings and we received over 250 comments. Additionally, five newspaper inserts were published with surveys to 10,000 addresses, of which 1187 surveys were returned with an additional 350+survey comments. There were 14 initial focus-group meetings held with stakeholders representing industry, business, environmental, social and community groups. Additional meetings were held with 15 interested stakeholder groups. Multiple emails were received from individuals and groups. Lastly, there were 20 planning commission meetings dedicated in whole or in-part to the Comprehensive Plan process.

How to implement the Plan

Comprehensive Plan priorities should be an agenda item at the annual County Council strategic planning session. The County Administrator will present a priority list of Plan strategies, funding needed, progress goal timelines and estimated completion dates to County Council. These annual items for funding and completion will be taken directly from the Comprehensive Plan. Funding (and lead time for funding) is a critical component for priorities and will communicate to the citizens of the County that their priorities are being addressed each year, both objectively and financially.

Acceptance of priorities by County Council should be publicized to demonstrate the County's effort to address the citizens input to the Comprehensive Plan.

The County, along with other agencies, is listed in the Comprehensive Plan as an "Accountable Agencies". For the strategy to be effectively completed, all the listed agencies must devote the resources and cooperation to complete the strategy. It is the responsibility of the County staff (Administrator and department heads) to identify the individuals in these organizations who are accountable for "partnering" to accomplish the strategy.

The County Administrator should assign action items to department heads for coordination with the responsible individual in the "Accountable Agencies". The department heads should report at regular intervals on the expense status, timeline status of key goals and if help is needed with outside agencies.

The strategies noted as "On-Going" are projects, relationships and activities that should be reviewed by the planning commission and looked at dynamically and not held to a specific point in time. The strategies noted as "Annually" are projects, relationships and activities that may be linked to other organization's timelines and may need to be addressed on a yearly basis by the planning commission.

The County Administrator should report progress to County Council on a regular basis as a part of the performance review process.

Consequences of inaction

- Loss of trust in government to respond to residents
- Missed opportunity to keep residents involved in long term planning
- Disillusionment by public after such a major public effort to revise the Comprehensive Plan
- Continued unmanaged sprawl with business/population growth
- Cost to correct problem increases with delay
- Perception that another study will 'go on the shelf'
- Short term actions causing long term problems

Chapter 2. Population Element

Population growth directly impacts the physical growth of a community. Increases in population are accompanied by increased demand for housing, education, health care, human services, water and sewer, recreation, and other key community services. In turn, the characteristics of the population can shape the scope and delivery of these essential community services and infrastructure.

The Population Element serves as the foundation for the other elements of the Comprehensive Plan, providing a detailed assessment of Census data combined with other key social indicators. This Element provides an overview and analysis of key demographic aspects of the County including: historic growth trends and population projections for the County and its municipalities; the income and family status characteristics of Oconee County households; the educational levels of County residents; the race, gender, and age characteristics of the County's population; and related factors that impact future growth. It also provides the context for understanding the existing and future needs of the County and its municipalities with respect to housing, employment and job growth, education and community services, infrastructure, and future land development.

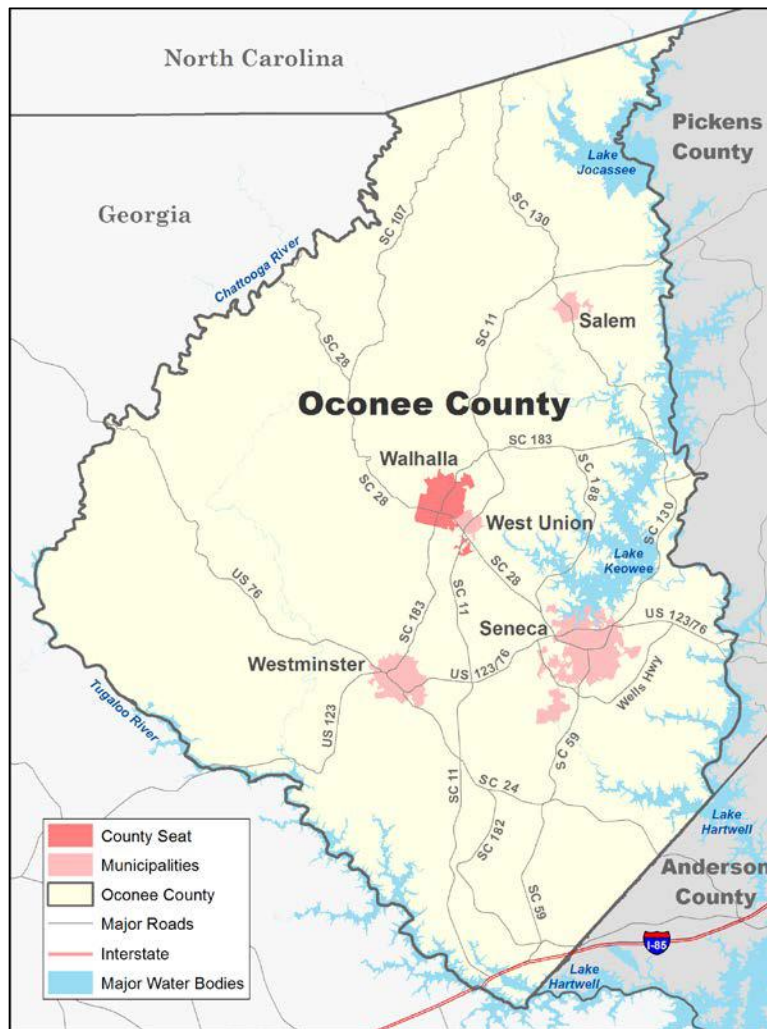

A. OCONEE COUNTY AND MUNICIPALITIES

Five municipalities are located within the County. The City of Seneca is the County's largest municipality, both in land area at 7.55 square miles and in population, with 8,228 residents in 2016. The City of Walhalla is the County seat and is the second largest municipality in the County at 3.96 square miles and 4,263 residents, followed closely by the City of Westminster at 3.41 square miles and 2,482 residents. The Towns of Salem and West Union are both less than one square mile in size, with populations of 305 and 149 residents, respectively. Map 2-1 illustrates the location and size of the County's municipalities.

Oconee County is part of the six-county Appalachian Council of Governments (ACOG) region that also includes Anderson, Cherokee, Greenville, Pickens, and Spartanburg counties. ACOG is a voluntary organization of local governments governed by a 44-member Board of Directors that includes local elected officials, citizens, and minority members. Authorized in 1971 as one of the ten councils of government in South Carolina, the ACOG provides a number of services and assistance to local governments in the region including public administration, planning, information systems and technology, grants, workforce development, and services for the elderly population.

B. DEMOGRAPHIC TRENDS

The U.S. Census Bureau is required by Federal law to conduct a census every ten years to determine the number of people in the United States. The count, commonly known as the decennial Census, is conducted every decade on April 1 in years ending in zero. The American Community Survey (ACS) is a yearly survey conducted nationwide by the U.S. Census Bureau that collects a wide range of demographic, social, economic, and housing data. The data is compiled into three-year and five-year estimates, with the five-year compilation considered to be the most accurate depiction of the data. While the main function of the decennial Census is to provide population counts for Congressional apportionment, the primary purpose of the ACS is to measure the changing social and economic characteristics of the U.S. population.

Oconee County ranks as South Carolina’s 18th largest county in population with an estimated 2016 population of 75,375 residents (2012-2016 ACS). Table 2-1 provides comparative data on population growth in the County, the Appalachian Council of Governments Region, and the State by decade since 1970. The countywide growth rate during the 40-year period from 1970 to 2010 was higher than that of both the Region and the State at 82.4%. Figure 2-1 illustrates population trends for the County, Region, and State from 1970 to 2010.

Oconee County grew by 1,102 residents from 2010 to 2016, with a growth rate of 1.5% over the same period. The County seat of Walhalla had the largest population gain from 2000 to 2010 among Oconee County municipalities, with an increase of 462 people and a growth rate of 12.2%. Similarly, the City of Seneca added 450 people during the same period for a growth rate of 5.9%. The Town of Salem experienced moderate growth of only nine people (7.1%). However, Census data indicates population declines in the City of Westminster of 325 people (or 11.8%) and the Town of West Union of six people (or 2%) during the decade. ACS data from 2012-2016 reveals moderate population changes since 2010 in all of the County's municipalities, ranging from an increase of 126 people in Seneca and 64 in Westminster to only 24 residents in Salem and West Union. Walhalla experienced no increase over the previous six-years.

As illustrated in Table 2-2, migration has been the primary source of population change in Oconee County since 1990. Net migration increased slightly from 2000 to 2010 over the previous decade, but migration in recent years slowed to an annual average of 426. However, net migration increased to 743 from 2015 to 2016 – a trend that if continued may result in a higher net migration for the decade.

Total population change is also impacted significantly by the rate of natural increase provided through births and deaths. While births exceeded deaths in Oconee County in the two decades since 1990, that trend reversed after 2010 with deaths outpacing births. This trend is projected to continue through the end of the decade.

Patterns of population change are illustrated by an analysis of growth by Census tract. Three tracts were added to the County for the 2010 Census, with 2000 Census tracts 304 (304.01 and 304.02), 306 (306.01 and 306.02), and 309 (309.01 and 309.02) each split into two tracts (Map 2-2). Several Oconee County tracts encompass sizable, primarily rural areas, whereas tracts in the Seneca and Walhalla areas are comparatively smaller and more densely populated.

C. DEMOGRAPHIC OUTLOOK

Oconee County posted an 18.3% growth rate between 1990 and 2000. The County's rate of population growth slowed to 15.2% from 2000 to 2010. The rate of increase continued to slow from 2010 to 2016 with a six-year growth rate of only 1.5% (1,102 residents).

The potential for future population growth may be fueled by continued single-family residential development in areas along the U.S. Highway 76/123 corridor between Seneca and Pickens County, in the areas surrounding the County's larger municipalities, in the areas near Interstate 85 that offer an easy commute to the Greenville and Atlanta Metro areas, and in remaining undeveloped infill areas bordering Lake Keowee. Potential multi-family development may also occur in the areas between Seneca and Pickens County. However, many other factors can influence future population changes including interest rates, local tax rates, the economy, the housing market, fuel prices, and an aging population.

South Carolina is projected to gain 400,000 new residents between 2010 and 2020 (UNC Carolina Population Center, 2015). The percentage of the aging population with the financial resources to relocate will increase as more of the “baby boomer” generation enters retirement. Kiplinger ranked South Carolina twelfth highest among the “Best States to Retire” in 2018, noting the State’s mild weather, below-average living costs, tax exemptions on social security and other retirement income, and low property taxes as influential factors. Given the frequency and severity of natural disasters such as hurricanes affecting popular retirement destinations along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts – coupled with rising property taxes, housing costs, and sharp increases in coastal insurance premiums – many retirees are seeking less expensive, less vulnerable communities further inland that offer many of the same amenities.

The ten-county Upstate Region is widely considered an attractive retiree destination within the State. Oconee County offers convenient regional access through the interstate and intrastate road systems; close proximity to Clemson university; abundant natural resources and a myriad of outdoor recreation opportunities including whitewater rafting, fishing, paddling, horseback riding, camping, and hiking. For many of the same reasons, families and individuals looking for a more rural residential setting, opportunities for an active lifestyle, or alternatives to more densely developed areas find Oconee County to be an attractive option. SmartAsset, a financial technology company that provides personal finance advice and decision tools, ranked the City of Seneca among the top 10 places to retire in South Carolina and the 15th best place to retire in the Nation in 2015. The list is based on tax friendliness, medical care, and social life.

The Environics Analytics Company, a leading global data and analytics company, provides annual estimates and five-year projections of population and other demographic data. The Company’s Claritas Pop-Facts data uses proprietary methodologies, combined with Census and American Community Survey data, to estimate current population and provide five-year projections for a range of geographies including counties and municipalities. The current edition provides 2018 estimates and 2023 projections for current-year geographies including counties and municipalities. County population projections through 2030 can be made using annual growth trends based on these five-year growth projections.

Claritas Pop-Facts estimates indicate that the population of Oconee County will reach 80,260 by 2023, with a projected increase of 10% to 84,739 residents by 2030 (Table 2-4). Growth is also projected in four of the County’s five municipalities over the 12-year period. The cities of Seneca and Walhalla are projected to grow by 8.2% (691 persons) and 6.5% (286 persons), respectively. Although the Town of West Union is projected to grow by only 26 persons, the rate of growth is similar to Seneca at 8%. Modest growth of less than one percent is anticipated for the City of Westminster and no change is expected for the population of the Town of Salem in the coming decade

The future growth rate is also dependent on many factors including household and family size, availability of new housing, in and out-migration, economic activity, and the availability of a range of appropriate housing options. For municipalities, future annexations may also play a role in population growth.

D. URBAN AND RURAL POPULATION

Urban areas are defined by the Census as “densely settled territory”.

Rural areas are defined as all territory located outside of urban areas. In 2010, the County ranked 20th statewide in the percentage of rural population, with 64.9% of its residents living in rural areas (2010 Census). However, the County is becoming urbanized at a faster pace than urbanization statewide.

Oconee County’s urbanized areas include the cities of Seneca and Walhalla and the surrounding unincorporated areas, including areas along the south shore of Lake Keowee and its southern border with Pickens County. The County’s five predominantly urban tracts include the greater Seneca and Walhalla areas, ranging from 100% urban in tract 307.01 that includes a southeastern portion of Seneca to 64.1% in tract 304.01 that includes most of Walhalla. The County's six rural Census tracts are in the northern, western, and southernmost portions of the County. Map 2-3 details urban and rural population data by Census tract.

E. DEMOGRAPHIC COMPOSITION

Insight on population composition is essential to the local planning process. Data relating to age, race, gender, educational attainment, income, and household characteristics is requisite for determining the need for, and location of, new services or facilities such as parks, schools, emergency service centers, transit routes, health care facilities, and senior centers.

1. Age and Gender

The State and County populations are continuing to age as baby boomers near and enter their retirement years. The large number of post-World War II births, combined with an overall increased life expectancy, has contributed to an aging population nationwide. The median age of Oconee County residents compared to surrounding counties is shown in Table 2-6. Oconee also posted the highest median age of any Appalachian COG Region county in the 2000 and 2010 Census.

Table 2-6. Median Age in Years by Decade for the Appalachian COG Region and State 2000, 2010 and 2016

The age distribution of Seneca and Westminster residents are similar to that of the County. In contrast, the age of Walhalla and West Union residents is younger, while that of Salem residents is older. Nearly 29% of Walhalla residents and 27% of West Union residents are children under the age of 18 years. Well over a quarter (28.2%) of Salem residents are aged 65 or older. Figure 2-2 compares the age distribution of County and municipal residents.

Map 2-4 illustrates age distribution by Census tract for Oconee County. The tract with the youngest population is 307.02 with a median age of only 30 years. This tract is bordered by Lake Hartwell and is near the City of Clemson and Clemson University. Tracts 304.01 (includes Walhalla) and 306.02 (bordered by Lake Keowee and Pickens County near Clemson) also have comparatively lower median ages at 37.1 and 37.7 years, respectively. Two of the County's more rural areas also have the oldest populations. Tract 302 in the northeastern area of the County that includes Lake Jocassee has the highest median age at 61.5 years, followed by a median of 53.5 years in tract 309.01 in southern Oconee County at the Georgia border. Tract 306.01 that includes a portion of the northern area of Seneca and bordered by Lake Keowee, and tract 303 east of Walhalla that includes a portion of Lake Keowee also have older populations with median ages of 50.6 and 50 years, respectively.

Map 2-4. Median Age by Census Tract, 2016

The percentage of female residents in Oconee County mirrors the Nation at 50.8%, but is slightly lower than in the State at 51.4%. The gender balance decreases dramatically within the 85 and over age group in which nearly two-thirds (63%) are female. Younger mortality rates and war casualties among older men are the leading causes of the disparity between males (46.8%) and females (53.2%) among residents in the age 65 and older category. While males slightly outnumber females in children aged 5 to 17 and young adults aged 18 to 44, females outnumber males by a small percentage in all other groups. Women comprise nearly two-thirds (63%) of residents aged 85 and older.

The age and gender composition of residents can be a significant factor in local planning. An aging population requires a host of special services such as health care, specialized housing and transportation. Estimates of median age by gender reveal that both males and females in Oconee County are notably older than their counterparts throughout the State and Nation (Table 2-8).

Female	46.1 years	40.3 years	39.0 years

2. Racial and Ethnic Composition

The racial composition of Oconee County is predominantly White at more than 88%, well above the State at 67.3% and Nation at 73.3% (Table 2-9). The County has a lower percentage of African-American residents at 7.4%, as compared to the percentage statewide at 27.4% and nationwide at 12.6%. The percentage of County residents of other races, including persons of two or more races, is similar to that of the State at 4.4%. The same is true for the percentage of the County population whose ethnicity is Hispanic at 4.9%, which is slightly lower than the statewide percentage of 5.3%. An individual is considered to be of Latino or Hispanic origin if the person is of Cuban, Mexican, Puerto Rican, South or Central American or other Spanish culture of origin, regardless of race. Therefore, residents of Hispanic origin are counted within the racial categories of Caucasian, African-American and Other Races as provided in Table 2-9 and are also shown separately as an ethnic subcategory.

Oconee County has experienced racial and ethnic composition changes in recent years. The County's White population increased by 10.4% in the 2000s. During the same decade, the number of African-American residents increased by only 1.1% (63 persons). There were substantial increases among persons of “other races” and persons of “two or more races” at 110.8% (1,213 persons) and 115.6% (630 persons), respectively. Table 2-10 provides racial composition data for Oconee County for 2000, 2010 and 2016.

The County ranks 18th highest statewide in the percentage of Hispanic population and 17th in the number of Hispanic residents (2012-2016 ACS). By comparison, South Carolina’s Hispanic population statewide grew by nearly 148% from 2000 to 2010, while increase nationwide was much less at only 43%. Research by the Sisters of Charity Foundation indicates that there are a number of factors that draw Hispanic immigrants to South Carolina including opportunities for employment, low cost of living, a relatively safe place to live, desire to reunite with family members already in the area, access to quality education and healthcare for their children. (Latino Immigrant Families in South Carolina, 2013).

The County’s Hispanic community continues to grow, adding 351 persons since 2010, for a growth rate of 10.5% during the 6-year period. This is slightly higher than Hispanic population growth statewide at 9.6% and nationwide at 9.4%. In addition to being predominantly Mexican (71.4%), ACS data reveals that the County’s Hispanic population is evenly divided between females and males, with a median age of 25.3 years. More than one-fourth of the County’s Hispanic residents (637 persons) speak little-to-no English and nearly one-half (870 persons) lack a high school education. Over 40% of Hispanics in Oconee County (1,485 persons) live in poverty.

Lack of English proficiency can pose significant language barriers for residents seeking housing, education, employment, medical care, and financial and legal services. However, fewer than 4,000 (5.5%) of the County's population over the age of five speaks a language other than English at home. This is lower than the statewide percentage of 6.9% (Table 2-12). While most people who speak another language at home also speak English, many are not fluent. More than two-thirds (70.4%) of County residents who speak another language at home speak Spanish, and of those Spanish-speakers, less than half (42.5%) speak English "less than very well."

More than two-thirds (67.8%) of County households consist of a family – defined as two or more persons living in the same household who are related by birth, marriage, or adoption. The percentage of family households countywide is similar to the percentage statewide at 66.4%. There are 20,932 families in the County, with an average family size of 2.89 – lower than the State average of 3.13 persons per family. Nearly three-fourths (74.4%) of County family households consist of a married couple and 28% of these families include children younger than 18 years. Females with no husband present comprise 17.8% of all family households (3,724 households) and almost half of these include a child under 18 years of age.

More than a quarter (25.8%) of all County households include a child under the age of 18 and over a third (36.2%) include at least one person aged 65 or older. There are 9,935 non-family households, representing 32.2% of all Oconee County households. Most of the County's non-family households (86.9%) consist of an individual living alone, with 45.3% of these single-person householders aged 65 years or older.

4. Educational Attainment

Educational attainment is a key indicator of current and future earnings potential. As shown in Table 2-19, educational levels measurably improved in Oconee County between 2000 and 2016. The percentage of County residents with a Bachelor's degree or higher rose from 18.2% to 23.5%. Likewise, the percentage of residents with some college, including those with an associate degree, increased from 22.5% to 28.8%. The percentage of County residents who lack a high school education dropped by almost 10% from 2000 to 2016. Educational attainment compared between Oconee County and the state is shown in Table 2-13.

F. SPECIAL POPULATIONS

Special populations can experience a greater need for community services than the public as a whole. Data reveals that special populations in Oconee County include residents with low incomes, the elderly, and single-parent families. Consideration of these residents and their needs should be addressed through each Plan element.

1. Elderly

The needs of an aging population can increase demand for services such as adult day care, home meal delivery, in-home respite services, home repair and modification, transportation services, long-term care, and focused recreational and fitness programs. Oconee County has the highest percentage of residents 65 years and older among the six Appalachian Region counties at 21.5% (ACS, 2016). The percentage of older female residents in the County is even higher at 22.6%. Nearly 10%, or 1,351 of these Oconee County seniors, live in poverty. The poverty rate for senior females is more than double that of males. More than one-third (35%) of households with one or more people aged 65 and older are comprised of elderly persons living alone. One of every three County seniors (6,203 persons) has a disability and of these, 28.8% (1,788 persons) has cognitive difficulty. Over 2,330 elderly persons in the County have difficulty living independently.

2. Veterans

South Carolina's large veteran population often has special needs in the areas of long-term care, employment assistance, homelessness, and medical care. The 2012-2016 ACS reported that there were 6,508 veterans living in Oconee County. Nearly one fourth (24.2%) of the County's senior residents (aged 65 and older) and 21.3% of males are veterans. Veterans comprise 10.8% of the County population. Area veterans are attracted to the Upstate Region by the factors that appeal to other retirees – temperate weather, recreation, cultural and natural amenities, and lower housing prices.

More than 60% of living veterans in Oconee County (3,933 veterans) are aged 65 years or older (ACS, 2016). Over one-third of all Oconee County veterans (2,197 veterans) are disabled. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development estimates that 12.3% of South Carolina's homeless population are veterans, with many more living in poverty and at risk of becoming homeless. These conditions generate a growing need for a full spectrum of home and community-based support programs. The number and percentage of disabled veterans continues to climb as aging veterans of the baby boom era develop disabilities and younger service personnel suffer disabling injuries while serving in recent conflicts.

3. Hispanic Population

According to the 2012-2016 ACS, 17.3% of the population of the United States is Hispanic or Latino as compared to 12.5% in 2000. In South Carolina, the Hispanic population has more than doubled from 2.4% in 2000 to 5.3% of the State's total population. These numbers do not include an estimated 87,000 undocumented immigrants (Migration Policy Institute, 2018).

In Oconee County, 4.9% of the population (3,700 persons) is Hispanic, more than double the 1,562 persons of Hispanic origin (2.4%) in 2000. The County ranks 18th highest statewide in the percentage of Hispanic population and 17th in the number of Hispanic residents. In addition to being predominantly Mexican (71.4%), ACS data reveals that the County's Hispanic population is evenly divided between females and males, with a median age of 25.3 years. Over 40% of Hispanics in Oconee County (1,485 persons) live in poverty. Nearly one-fifth of the County's Hispanic residents (637 persons) speak little-to-no English and nearly one-fourth (870 persons) lack a high school education. Communication is a major issue of concern for many Hispanic residents, who often find it difficult to find and obtain government services, health care, and other essential services because they do not understand materials that are provided only in English and cannot communicate effectively with providers in person or online if only English is spoken.

The continued growth of the County's Hispanic population will create new service demands on local service providers, particularly the School District and area health care providers. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) report that while Hispanics in the United States have slightly lower rates of heart disease and cancer than Caucasians, they have 24% more poorly controlled high blood pressure, 23% more obesity, are 28% less likely to be screened for colorectal cancer, and are 50% more likely to die from diabetes or liver disease (CDC, 2015). Hispanics are more likely to lack health insurance than any other racial or ethnic group, with one in four uninsured (National Center for Health Statistics, 2015). Language barriers can compound these factors. The local hospital emergency room is a common point for medical treatment for immigrant residents who often lack a primary care physician (Hispanic Access Foundation, 2016).

4. Homeless Population

The homeless population encompasses a broad range of individuals and families with special needs. National research indicates that more than one third (37%) are in families and nearly two-thirds (63%) are individuals (National Alliance to End Homelessness, 2016). More than 8% of the Nation's homeless population are veterans. Homelessness is a significant risk factor for a broad range of health and social problems. Alcohol and drug abuse, domestic violence, and mental illness are common problems among the adult homeless population. Domestic violence is a leading cause of homelessness, with 15.8% of the Nation's homeless adults identified as survivors of domestic violence (HUD Continuum of Care Homeless Populations and Subpopulations Report, 2017). While families who are doubling up (staying) with friends or relatives because they have no other housing options are not included in the HUD definition of homeless individuals and families, they are often at risk of losing that shelter and becoming homeless. Doubled-up friends or families often impose space and financial burdens on the host family and the guests are often asked to leave after a short time. In smaller and more rural communities with no public shelters, doubling up is often the stop-gap measure before sleeping on the streets.

Oconee County is located within the service and planning area of the Upstate Consortium Continuum of Care (Upstate CoC) that encompasses a 13-county region that spans Abbeville, Anderson, Cherokee, Edgefield, Greenville, Greenwood, Laurens, McCormick, Oconee, Pickens, Saluda, Spartanburg and Union Counties. The Upstate Continuum consists of more than 80 partner agencies that provide services to the homeless or near homeless. Oconee County is also a member of the local Tri-County Chapter that includes Anderson and Pickens Counties.

Although methodologies exist to count the homeless who take advantage of services offered by various agencies, it is a challenge to determine the true number of homeless within the County. The most accurate assessment of the homeless population at the county, state and national levels is provided through bi-annual point-in-time (PIT) counts. In an effort to standardize homeless counts nationwide, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development mandated that an unduplicated count of homeless persons and families be conducted in each state every two years. Point-in-time counts are one-night counts of both sheltered and unsheltered homeless populations.

United Housing Connections provides the organization and planning for recent point-in-time counts in the Upstate CoC region. The homeless count includes those in shelters, in transitional housing, living on the street, or in other locations not meant for human habitation. The most recent point-in-time count was conducted in January 2018. On that date, 54 individuals were counted as homeless in Oconee County (S.C. Point in Time Count Report, 2018). Of these individuals, 16 were unsheltered and 38 were housed in shelters or temporary housing. Included in the count were three veterans and nine chronically homeless persons. This is a decrease from the 2017 PIT count for Oconee County that reported a total of 63 homeless individuals, of which 22 were unsheltered and 41 were sheltered.

Oconee County has a number of precariously housed families and individuals who are at risk for homelessness based on cost-burden, overcrowding, and income eligibility for the federal school lunch program. Residents with low and moderate incomes can have difficulty affording adequate and safe housing in Oconee County. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) defines low and moderate income (LMI) households as those households with incomes below 80% of median family income (MFI). More than 40% of all Oconee County households are considered to be LMI. More than one-fourth (25.7%) of all households in Oconee County (7,840 households) are cost-burdened, paying more than 30% of their income for housing costs (U.S. HUD CHAS Data, 2018). At particular risk for homelessness are households that spend more than half of their income on housing and related expenses. Housing costs exceed more than half (50%) of household income for 2,020 homeowners in Oconee County, or 8.9% of all owner-occupied units. Among renter households, 22.9%, or 1,815 households, pay more than 50% of their monthly income in housing costs. These households are considered at risk for homelessness, sometimes spending so much for housing that other life necessities such as medical care and food must be deferred.

Housing overcrowding results from doubling up with family and friends is often the last resort to ending up on the streets. Housing units are considered to be overcrowded when there are 1.01 or more household members per room, including baths and kitchens. In Oconee County, 627 housing units are overcrowded based on this definition (2012-2016 ACS).

Free and reduced lunch data for Oconee County schools also indicates a significant number of low-income households. To be eligible for the school lunch program, families must meet annual criteria based on household size and income. Under the guidelines for the 2018-2019 school year, a family of four making $46,435 ($893 per week) or less would be eligible for reduced price meals and the same family making $32,630 ($628 per week) or less would be eligible for free meals (U.S. Department of Agriculture, 2018). Children who are members of households that are eligible to receive Food Stamps or Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) are automatically eligible for free meals. More than half (51.2%) of students countywide, or 5,202 students in grades K-5 through 12, meet federal income eligibility limits for free or reduced lunch (Oconee County School District, 2018).

Chapter 3. Housing Element

Adequate, safe housing is a basic human need. The American Public Health Association ranks housing as one of the top three issues affecting personal and community health. The quality, availability, and affordability of a community's housing stock weighs heavily in the decision-making process of businesses and employers when considering new locations. Newcomers to Oconee County consider a variety of factors when choosing their new homes such as quality of schools, public safety, and convenience to jobs and services, as well as other community amenities. However, the deciding factor in housing choice is typically the quality and affordability of the available homes in an area.

The purpose of the Housing Element of the Comprehensive Plan is to assess the condition, availability, and affordability of Oconee County's housing stock and to project future housing needs. The prediction of future housing needs poses a distinct challenge as homes are essentially expensive consumer products with a demand that is greatly influenced by economic conditions. Interest rates and the overall economy have dramatic effects on the housing market. When such factors make home ownership unattainable for lower income persons, many residents find themselves dependent on the rental market. This element considers both owner-occupied and rental housing needs for the next ten years in Oconee County and its municipalities.

Oconee County is faced with a myriad of possibilities and challenges in planning for future housing needs. A thorough study of current housing conditions and probable trends for the future can identify a balance of housing types to accommodate the diverse housing needs of current and future County residents.

A. HOUSING GROWTH

Growth in housing supply is closely associated with population growth. While population growth can provide the impetus for an increase in housing supply, a housing stock that offers variety, affordability, and quality can also attract people to a community. Oconee County experienced a 12.2% increase in population from 2000 to 2010, accompanied by a 19.7% increase in housing units. Housing growth outpaced population growth by 7.5% during this period. This disparity between population and housing growth rates can be attributed in part to movement of current residents from older housing units to newer homes, resulting in no population increase, but higher housing vacancy rates – rising from 15.7% in 2000 to 21.1% in 2016.

Beyond the general counts provided in the 2000 and 2010 Census, detailed housing data is available through the American Community Survey (ACS) in single-year and multi-year compilations. The most reliable and accessible of these are the five-year ACS estimates that are based on 60 months of collected data at all geographic levels including municipalities, Census tracts, block groups, and blocks. The most recent five-year ACS is the 2012 to 2016 survey.

As detailed in Table 3-1, Oconee County has 39,139 housing units, with 7,632 (19.5%) of these units located in incorporated areas, including 4,230 units in the City of Seneca. The 19.7% growth rate in the Oconee County housing supply from 2000 to 2010 mirrors housing growth statewide at 21.9%. In contrast, housing growth among the County’s municipalities has varied widely in since 2000 as shown in Table 3-1.

Oconee County is the most rural of the ten counties in South Carolina’s Appalachian Region and ranks as the 18th most rural county statewide. More than 68% of its housing units (26,394 units) are located in rural areas outside of municipalities (Table 3-2). The percentage of rural housing units in the County is substantially higher than the 43.8% of statewide housing considered as rural. However, the County has become more urban in recent decades, Urban housing units in Oconee County increased by more than a third in both the 1990s and the 2000s.

Housing growth by Census tract is illustrated in Map 3-1. The percentage of growth among the County’s Census tracts from 2000 to 2010 ranged from a loss of 11 units in tract 307.01 (includes the southeastern portion of Seneca) to a 44.3% growth rate in tract 303 (west of Walhalla and bordering Lake Keowee). Tracts with the highest rates of growth are bordered by Lake Keowee or Lake Hartwell.

1. Residential Building Permits

An examination of single-family residential building permits provides additional information on housing growth trends in recent years. Single-family residential permit data for Oconee County from 2014 to November 2018 is listed in Table 3-4 and illustrated in Figure 3-1. This data includes single-family, site-built construction as well as manufactured homes that were moved into the County.

Single-family, site-built homes accounted for nearly three-fourths (73.2%) of these permits (1,539 housing units) during the period. Permits for single-family, site-built homes have exceeded those issued for newly located manufactured homes in each of these years. County permitting for single-family residential homes peaked in 2017 at 541 permits, with the lowest number issued in 2014 at only 270 permits. While permitting for manufactured homes has remained relatively steady since 2014, permitting for site-built homes rose sharply in 2016, a trend that continued in 2017. Based on permits issued through November 2018, single-family permitting for that year is consistent with 2017 activity.

B. HOUSING LOCATION

Land in residential use comprises more than 11% (42,909.5 acres) of the County's unincorporated land area (Table 3-5). Single-family residential includes single-family homes, as well as manufactured homes on individual properties. Multi-family residential includes duplexes, structures with three or more dwelling units, zero lot line and patio home developments, condominiums, and townhouses. Manufactured home parks in Oconee County are defined as "a parcel (or contiguous parcels) of land divided into two or more manufactured home lots for rent or sale." Properties less than five acres in size that are classified as agriculture or forestry for tax purposes, but also include a residence, are shown as residential. Single-family is the most prevalent type of residential use, accounting for 98.3% of all residential land in the County. Only one percent of residential land is in use as manufactured home parks and less than one percent as multi-family. In addition, there are more than 3,000 properties larger than five acres in size and in use as agriculture or forestry that also include a residential use.

Land in residential use is found throughout the unincorporated area of Oconee County, with the exception of land in the Sumter National Forest. Single-family homes are generally concentrated near municipalities, along major transportation routes, and along or near Lake Keowee and Lake Hartwell. Most of the County's multi-family housing is found near the cities of Seneca and Walhalla and along the corridor between Seneca and Clemson, with some developments located near Lake Keowee and Lake Hartwell. Map 3-2 illustrates the location of land in residential use in the County.

C. HOUSING OUTLOOK

Housing growth projections are used by local governments to plan for infrastructure and services that will be needed to accommodate future growth. Predicting future housing growth for jurisdictions is influenced by the economy, interest rates, condition and availability of existing housing, infrastructure, in and out migration, job growth, and intangible factors such as buyer or renter preference. Additional factors for municipalities include annexation and land availability. These variables can significantly impact housing development in smaller jurisdictions, while the impacts on larger jurisdictions with larger populations and land area may be less measurable.

Claritas Pop-Facts data provides 2018 estimates and 5-year growth projections for housing units. Projections for 2030 can be made using yearly growth trends based on the five-year growth projections. However, assumptions based on these estimates require updating over time as they are influenced by other factors including household and family size, availability of new housing, in and out-migration, economic activity, and the availability of a range of appropriate housing options. These base projections of future housing growth can be adjusted as new information provides additional insight.

Oconee County's housing supply is projected to reach 43,518 units by 2030, a 12-year increase of 8.4%. Growth is also projected in each of the County's municipalities. Table 3-6 includes housing unit estimates and projections for the County and five municipalities.

The location of future housing growth is difficult to predict, with multiple factors at play in the development process such as the availability of water and sewer, proximity to major transportation routes, natural and other resources, employment centers, past development trends, and related amenities associated with urbanized areas. It is anticipated that much of the County's future residential development and growth will continue to be focused along the U.S. Highway 76/123 corridor between Seneca and Pickens County, in the areas surrounding the County's larger municipalities, and in the areas near Interstate 85 that offer an easy commute to the Greenville and Atlanta Metro areas. Infill residential growth is also anticipated along the shores of Lake Keowee, with possible multi-family development in areas closest to Clemson and near Lake Hartwell.

Two developments are under construction off of U.S. Highway 123 near Clemson University that will add to the County's housing inventory. Clemson Epoch is a residential mixed-use development that will include a total of 298 housing units including cottages, townhouses and apartments as well as a meeting house, market pavilion, café, and fitness facility. The development is on Jacobs Road near Clemson Boulevard. Partial occupancy began in the fall of 2019. Lakeside Lodge is a 118-unit condo-hotel located off of Clemson Boulevard on Lake Hartwell. The Lodge is expected to be ready for occupancy by fall 2019. Condo-hotels typically combine traditional condo ownership with modified hotel amenities and services. Condos are sold to individual investors who may use the property as a vacation home and also generate income through participation in a short-term on-site rental program, managed by a property management company.

Residential growth is possible on nearly all of the County's vacant land and land currently in use for agriculture or forestry, totaling almost 191,398 acres. Of this land, more than 89% (170,664 acres) is within the Control Free zoning district that currently allows all types of residential uses and densities. Nearly 12,500 acres of vacant or agriculture/forestry land is zoned as Traditional Rural District and allows detached single-family and multi-family residential uses, as well as residential subdivisions. Among the County's vacant or agriculture/forestry land, 6,354 acres is in the Agricultural zoning district that allows single-family detached residences and smaller residential subdivisions of ten lots or less.

D. HOUSING TYPE

Housing types available to Oconee County residents range from single-family units to multi-family housing. Single-family (one-unit detached) units are detached from other houses, with open space on all four sides. The Census Bureau includes single unit modular housing (built off-site and transported to the site) in the definition of single-family units, in addition to site-built homes. Single units that are attached (1-unit attached) have one or more walls extending from ground to roof that separate the unit from adjoining structures. Most single-family housing is constructed entirely on-site, in compliance with local building code standards. Duplexes include two housing units in one structure. Multi-family buildings contain more than two housing units within the structure. Manufactured (also known as mobile) homes are constructed off-site and transported to the site on wheels that are attached to the structure.

As of 2016, more than two-thirds (67.6%) of all housing units in the County were single-family, detached homes, a slight increase from the 2000 Census share of 63.2% (Table 3-7). These percentages exceeded the statewide percentages of 61.5% in 2000 and 62.9% in 2016. Costs for attached single-family and duplex construction are also generally less per housing unit than site-built single-family homes. However, in Oconee County these housing types make up a very small percentage of the total housing stock, together accounting for only 3.5% of all housing units.

Manufactured housing offers a less expensive alternative to site-built housing. Manufactured homes account for more than 20% of County housing units, a lower percentage than in 2000 when one in four housing units were manufactured homes. More than one in every five units (8,037 units) in the County's housing market is a manufactured home.

Construction costs for multi-family development are generally less per housing unit. These lower construction costs are passed on as savings to buyers of condominium units and renters, making this housing type generally a less expensive alternative. Only 7.8% of the County's housing stock (3,344 units) is multi-family. Most of the County's multi-family housing (3,016 units) is in smaller developments of 3 to 19 units. This market segment has experienced significant growth, almost doubling from only 1,879 units in 2000 to 3,344 units by 2016. While affordable multi-family options continue to be needed for low and moderate income residents, some multi-family developments in areas within proximity to Clemson University have increasingly transitioned to housing for college students seeking affordable options close to campus. New projects are also oriented to students, including the Epoch Clemson development that will add 298 townhome and apartment units once completed in early 2020.

E. HOUSING AGE AND CONDITION

Oconee County housing is similar in age to housing statewide, with a median year built of 1986 (Table 3-8). The County's municipalities have older housing stock, with median year built of 1966 in Westminster to 1978 in Salem and Seneca.

Nearly one-fourth (23.9%) of Oconee County's housing stock (9,370 units) was built 49 years ago or earlier. More than half of the County's housing stock (20,620 units) was built between 1970 and 1999. Almost one-quarter of Oconee County housing (9,149 units) were built in 2000 or later, with 11% of these newer homes (1,003 units) built in 2010 or later.

As illustrated in Map 3-3, Census tracts with older housing include 307.01 (1974), 304.01 (1975), and 311 (1978). Smaller tract 307.01 includes the southeastern portion of Seneca, while tract 304.01 includes most of Walhalla and tract 311 includes a small northern portion of Westminster. Tracts with the newest median housing age include 304.02 (1994), 309.01 (1992), 303 (1991), and tracts 302 and 309.02 (1990). Three of these tracts are bordered by Lake Keowee and two are bordered by Lake Hartwell.

One indicator of housing condition is evidence of overcrowding. Housing units are considered to be crowded when there are 1.01 or more household members per room (including baths and kitchens). Only 2% of housing units in Oconee County (627 units) have 1.01 or more persons per room (Table 3-9). The City of Walhalla has the largest number of overcrowded homes among the County’s municipalities at 81 housing units. While West Union has the highest percentage of homes that are overcrowded at 9.4%, this equates to only 12 housing units.

Although specific data on housing condition in Oconee County is not available, input from local agencies and community stakeholders indicates the need to explore options for upgrading and replacing substandard housing in areas that include the Utica and Walhalla mill villages. Redevelopment of the former Utica Mill property has been identified as a potential catalyst to revitalize the surrounding area. The County is exploring various economic development incentives for these and other areas within the County.

F. HOUSING OCCUPANCY AND TENURE

The Oconee County housing market has a 21.1% vacancy rate, a substantial increase over the 2000 rate of 15.7%. This rate is significantly higher than the State rate of 16.1% (Table 3-10). The percentage of vacant housing units is varied among the County’s municipalities. Unoccupied units are most prevalent in Westminster at 20.3% (260 units), while only 9.6% of homes (404 units) are vacant in the City of Seneca and less than 16% (302 units) are unoccupied in Walhalla.

The County’s homeownership rate of 72.9% is well above the State rate of 68.4%. While homeownership in Salem at 84.4% is higher than both the County and the State, the other four municipalities have much lower ownership rates. Walhalla has the lowest owner-occupied rate at 55%.

G. HOUSING COSTS AND VALUE

Quality housing that meets diverse economic and social needs is essential to achieving a balanced and sustainable housing mix within a community. Housing affordability is a leading factor in the decision to locate in a community, it is equally important to have a variety of housing types from which to choose. The residential trickle-down effect – the process of residents buying or moving into more expensive housing when their financial situations allow and subsequently freeing less expensive housing for persons with lower incomes – only works when there is an adequate range of homes available. Conversely, older residents are often looking to “downsize” by moving into housing that is smaller, requires less maintenance, and is generally less expensive than their previous home.

The median value of owner-occupied housing units in Oconee County in 2016 was $151,100 – $7,500 more than the statewide median value of $143,600 (Table 3-14). The median value of owner-occupied housing units in Oconee County ranked 11th highest out of the State's 46 counties. This median value was higher than Pickens County ($124,000) and similar to Anderson County at $151,100. Median housing values among the County's municipalities range from a high of $139,500 in Seneca to a low of $75,000 in Salem – a stark difference of $64,500.

Gross rent is defined as the contract rent plus the estimated average monthly cost of utilities (electricity, gas, water and sewer) and fuels (oil, coal, kerosene, and wood) if these costs are paid by the renter or paid for the renter by another party. Median monthly gross rent in Oconee County at $698 is significantly lower than the State median of $811 (Table 3-14). Median gross rents varied among the municipalities in 2016, from $544 in Seneca to $636 in West Union. Median gross rent was not available for the Town of Salem in the 2012-2016 ACS.

The housing value data for owner-occupied homes included in Table 3-15 reveals higher percentages of more expensive homes from $300,000 and up, but lower percentages of homes in the low and moderate cost range between $50,000 and $299,999. However, Oconee has a larger percentage of homes in the lowest value range of less than $50,000. More than a quarter of homes are valued between $200,000 and $499,999. Among owner-occupied homes, 2,090 (9.3%) are valued at more than $500,000 and, of these, 396 are valued at $1 million or more.

An examination of recent Multiple Listing Service (MLS) data for Oconee County reveals a steady increase in residential sales from 2009 through 2017 that likely continued through 2018

(Table 3-16). Sales prices decreased annually from 2010 through 2012 to a median low of $143,750 before steadying and rising to a median high of $179,500 through November 2018. The difference between annual median listed price and annual median sale price for residential units reached a 10-year high of almost 23% in 2018, with the median list price exceeding the actual median sale price by $53,400. While this gap fluctuated throughout the decade, the lowest percentage difference between average list price and average sold price was -7.3% in 2010 – the only year that median sale price exceeded list price during the ten-year period.

Table 3-17 provides a more detailed examination of rental costs in Oconee County. Compared to renters statewide, Oconee residents generally pay lower monthly rents. A fifth of County renters pay less than $500 a month, as compared to less than 13% of renters statewide. Only 17.5% of County renters live in more expensive rental housing of more than $1,000 a month – significantly lower than the 25.8% of renters statewide.

As shown in Map 3-6, tracts with the highest gross rents in Oconee County border Lake Keowee – 306.02 ($827), 304.02 ($810), 303 ($783), and 306.01 ($778). Tracts with the lowest gross rents include 309.02 ($588) in the southernmost area of the County and bordered by Anderson County, 310 ($613) that includes most of the Town of Westminster, and 301 ($614) in the western area of the County that borders Georgia and North Carolina.

H. HOUSING AFFORDABILITY

Affordability is a key factor in the housing market. The cost of housing must be in sync with local household incomes if a community is to meet future housing needs. Lending institutions generally base affordability on housing costs not exceeding 2.5 times the gross household income. This translates to about 30% of household income available for gross housing expenses. HUD defines gross housing expenses to include utilities for renters and mortgage payments, utilities, taxes, and insurance for homeowners. Under HUD criteria, a housing unit is considered affordable if its gross cost does not exceed 30% of the occupant's income. Conversely, a household is considered cost-burdened if its occupants are paying more than 30% of their income for housing costs.

Census data is useful in developing a picture of housing affordability in Oconee County. Median homeowner costs (for homeowners with a mortgage) comprise only 21.1% of household income in Oconee County – well within the definition of affordable housing and slightly lower than the statewide percentage of 21.3% (Table 3-18). Homeowners without a mortgage spend only 10% of their household income on housing costs. Median costs for homeowners in the County's municipalities are also well below 30%.

Cost burden is more prevalent among the County's renters than homeowners. Median gross rent comprises 31.5% of household income countywide, as compared to 30.5% statewide. Median gross rent exceeds 30% of household income in all of the County's municipalities, with renters paying nearly 36% of their incomes for rent and utilities in Westminster.

Additional data on housing costs as a percentage of household income provide insight into housing affordability conditions. Among County homeowners, 4,345 (19.3% of all housing units) live in homes that cost more than they can comfortably afford, slightly lower than the percentage statewide at 21.9% (Table 3-19). Nearly one-third (30%) of County homeowners (3,294 housing units) pay mortgages and associated housing costs totaling 30% or more of their income, slightly higher than the State percentage of 28.6%. Among County homeowners without a mortgage, only 9.3% (1,051 housing units) are cost-burdened. Nearly half (44.7%) of County renters (3,732 households) are cost-burdened, spending more than 30% of their income on rent and utilities, similar to the statewide percentage of 44.9%.

However, of greater concern are the 1,904 homeowners (8.5% of all homeowners) and 1,975 renters (23.7% of all renters) in Oconee County who spend more than half of their household incomes on housing costs (2012-2016 ACS). A significant percentage of County residents are paying more than they can afford for housing and, of these, many are paying considerably more than they can afford. Households with such significant cost burdens must sometimes delay purchase of essential needs such as food, health care and medications to remain in their homes – a problem that has been exacerbated in recent years by rising prices on basic necessities such as health care and food.

Local agency and community representatives indicate that it is difficult for young families, professionals, and other individuals who would like to live and work in Oconee County to find homes in moderate price ranges that are also safe and in good condition. While the County has a comparatively high vacancy rate of 21%, with most vacant units found in the unincorporated area, the reason for some of the vacancies is the poor condition of the housing units. Location can also be a factor, with housing near employment centers, major transportation routes, and the services and resources available in the more urbanized eastern area of the County in higher demand and therefore in short supply. The steeper topography found in some areas of the County can also result in increased residential construction costs.

Oconee County residents would also benefit from housing options that allow them to remain in the community throughout the various stages of life – a concept known as “aging in place.” This concept requires housing that accommodates a variety of ages, prices, and life styles. Young families need affordable options near schools, employment centers, recreation, and activities.

College students and young professionals generally prefer higher density housing options with amenities, in proximity to employment, recreation, and entertainment. Older residents need housing options that can accommodate limited mobility and are near essential healthcare services and transportation, with an option to transition to nearby assisted living or nursing care if needed. Most residents want housing with convenient access to essential services such as grocery stores and shopping.

I. PUBLIC AND ASSISTED HOUSING PROGRAMS

Not all Oconee County residents have the means to afford market housing prices or rents. Several programs are in place to assist these individuals in obtaining adequate, safe and affordable housing.

1. Public Housing

The South Carolina Regional Housing Authority for Region One (SCRHA No. 1) provides general administration and oversight for eight public housing developments in Oconee County through its Seneca office. These complexes are located within three of the County’s cities and provide a total of 228 housing units for qualifying residents (Table 3-20).

2. Housing Choice Voucher Program

South Carolina Regional Housing Authority No. 1 administers the Housing Choice Voucher Program (formerly known as the Section 8 Rental Assistance Program) for Oconee County. Housing Choice provides subsidies for privately-owned housing for eligible applicants. Eligibility is based primarily on income as established by HUD and adjusted annually. Housing Choice Vouchers can be used to obtain housing in an assisted housing development (project-based) or to subsidize rent for a home or apartment on the private rental market (tenant-based). Voucher allocations are made on a regional basis and distributed by SCRHA No. 1 to applicants throughout its nine-county region on a case-by-case basis.

As of December 2018, there were an estimated 100 to 120 Housing Choice Vouchers in use for housing assistance by Oconee County families. There are 72 Oconee County families on the waiting list for housing vouchers. SCRHA No. 1 staff report that 25 families with vouchers have been unable to find housing developments that accept vouchers in Oconee County. While some apartment complexes have historically accepted vouchers, several owners have paid off their mortgages, removing low and moderate-income rental requirements. Many of the complexes that formerly housed County residents with vouchers are now home to Clemson students who are seeking affordable housing options near the campus and are willing to pay higher rents than are possible from housing voucher holders.

3. Assisted Housing

In addition to public housing developments, there are 19 assisted multi-family housing developments in Oconee County, supported by various types of subsidies (Table 3-21). An estimated 824 multi-family housing units are occupied by residents who receive some form of financial assistance. The rent for most of these units is set at a price that is affordable to low income households. Assistance varies from project to project, as well as family to family, and includes:

- Housing Choice (Section 8) Voucher rent subsidies for low and very low-income households;
- Financing incentives to developers for building multi-family rental units for low and moderate income families; and
- The provision of tax credits to developers of multi-family rental units who provide affordable housing for low-income families in 20% or more of their units.

Among assisted rental units, 99 of the units housing persons receiving financial assistance are specifically allocated to elderly residents and 12 units provide supportive housing for persons with disabilities.

4. State Housing Authority Programs

Several housing ownership and housing development programs are provided through the South Carolina State Housing Finance and Development Authority (SCSHFDA) and its partners. These programs are detailed in the following sections.

The SCSHFDA has Housing Ownership Loan Programs that assist individuals in purchasing a home. These options offer interest rates based upon income and the specific county in which the applicant will purchase their home. The programs are offered to “First-Time Homebuyers” – defined as individuals who have not owned a home within the three years prior to the closing of their new loan. However, if a family includes at least one permanently disabled or handicapped individual, or if the homebuyer is a single parent or a veteran, the family is considered a first-time buyer as long as the family does not own a principal residence at the time of closing. Applicants must have an acceptable credit history to qualify. Eligible properties include new and existing stick-built single-family homes, townhomes, condominiums, and new off-frame modular and manufactured housing that meet minimum Federal Housing Administration (FHA) building standards. The SCSFHDA also offers options of up to $5,000 for down payment and closing cost assistance for borrowers.

The South Carolina Housing Trust Fund provides funding for the development, rehabilitation, and acquisition of affordable housing for low-income and very low-income households statewide. Proceeds from the documentary stamp tax – an increase of twenty cents per $500 on real estate sold – are earmarked for the Fund. Rather than making funding awards directly to individuals, the Trust Fund supports a network of partners, including governmental and non-profit entities, for the provision of affordable housing to eligible citizens in specified funding categories that include: emergency repair; acquisition, rehabilitation, and construction of group homes and supportive housing for the homeless; homeownership down payment and closing cost assistance for LMI residents; housing rehabilitation for very low-income homeowners; and acquisition, rehabilitation, and construction of affordable rental housing for low or very low-income persons.

The Low Income Housing Tax Credit Program (LIHTC) is designed to provide an incentive for development of multi-family rental housing. Developments that may qualify for credits include new construction, acquisition with rehabilitation, and rehabilitation and adaptive reuse. Owners of and investors in qualifying developments can use the credit as a dollar-for-dollar reduction of federal income tax liability. Allocations of credits are used to leverage public, private, and other funds to keep rents affordable. A development must have at least 20% of its units occupied by households earning at or below 50% of the area median income, or 40% of its units occupied by households earning at or below 60% of the area median income to be eligible for tax credits. Income limits are adjusted based on household size. Maximum rents are set for each unit size based on 30% of the maximum allowable income for specified household size in the area. Utilities paid by the tenant are counted as part of the maximum rent.

5. USDA Rural Development Housing Programs

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) administers several housing programs in the rural areas of Oconee County through the Rural Development program. Rural housing is a major component of the Rural Development mission with a commitment to assisting families and individuals in South Carolina with their need for decent, safe, sanitary, and affordable housing. Single-Family Housing (SFH) programs administered by the USDA offer homeownership and home improvement loans and grants for individuals and families in rural areas. Multi-Family Housing (MFH) programs include Rural Rental Housing (RRH), Direct and Guaranteed Rural Rental Housing (GRRH) Loans, Rental Assistance, Farm Labor Housing (LH) Loans and Grants, and Housing Preservation Grants (HPG).

6. Veterans Administration

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) guarantees home loans to veterans for site-built and manufactured housing through the South Carolina VA office. Home Loans are made by private lenders and can be used for the purchase or construction of a home, home repair or improvement, or home refinancing. Manufactured Home Loans are also made by private lenders and can be used for the purchase of a manufactured home and associated lot, to make repairs to a home or property already owned, or to refinance a manufactured home. Modular homes cannot be purchased through this program. For both loan programs, the home must be the primary place of residence for the veteran. Veterans applying for loans using these programs must obtain a Certificate of Eligibility from the VA, must have enough income to pay the mortgage payments and other associated costs of owning a home, and must have a good credit record. In some cases, the spouse of a veteran may also be able to obtain a loan.

7. Oconee County Habitat for Humanity

Oconee County Habitat for Humanity (OCHFH) is a locally run affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International – a nonprofit, ecumenical Christian housing organization that seeks to eliminate substandard housing and homelessness and to make adequate, affordable shelter a matter of conscience and action. Through volunteer labor and donations of money and materials, Habitat builds and rehabilitates houses with the help of the homeowner families who are viewed as partners in the process.

Since 1986, OCHFH has provided energy efficient, affordable housing in partnership with 100 families with a goal of constructing four to five houses per year to meet the increased need for decent affordable housing in the County. Each Habitat home costs approximately $80,000 and includes three to four bedrooms, two bathrooms, and kitchen, living, and dining areas. OCHFH's team of 200 volunteers work closely with prospective homeowners to provide the construction labor, aided by donations and volunteer assistance from local businesses and organizations as well as grants from national organizations such as Community Bank, Bank of America, and Wells Fargo.

Prospective owners must have lived in Oconee County for one year or more, have a verifiable steady household income that is within 35% to 70% of the local area median income, and be able to make an $800 down payment. The applicant's current housing must be substandard or inadequate to accommodate the family size. Habitat homes are sold to qualified partner families at no profit through affordable, zero-interest loans. Partner families repay the cost of housing materials, sub-contracts and land over a 20 to 30-year period through monthly mortgage payments that are in turn used to finance the construction of more Habitat homes. Applicants must also be willing to invest 250 hours of volunteer "sweat equity" into building their Habitat house or provide other hands-on physical assistance needed for Habitat endeavors such as building other homes or working at OCHF's Restore. Approved applicants are expected to pay their mortgage on time and attend programs to learn and practice budgeting, home repair and maintenance.

J. AFFORDABLE HOUSING OBSTACLES AND OPPORTUNITIES

The South Carolina Priority Investment Act of 2007 requires local governments to analyze regulatory requirements that act as barriers to affordable housing and to analyze the use of market-based incentives that may be offered to encourage the development of affordable housing. The Act defines affordable housing as:

"...in the case of dwelling units for sale, housing in which mortgage, amortization, taxes, insurance, and condominium or associations fees, if any, constitute no more than 28% of the annual household income for a household earning no more than 80% of the area median income, by household size, for the metropolitan statistical area as published from time to time by the U.S. Department of Housing and Community Development and, in the case of dwelling units for rent, housing for which the rent and utilities constitute not more than 30% of the area median income, by household size, for the metropolitan statistical area."

Oconee County's regulatory requirements and procedures are very conducive to the development of affordable housing. This is evidenced by the availability of water and sewer infrastructure in more populated areas, housing costs, and in particular the lack of regulatory barriers to manufactured housing and the development of affordable multi-family housing.

Most of the multi-family housing developments in the County are located within or near the cities of Seneca and Walhalla and along the U.S. Highway 123 corridor that links Seneca and Clemson. A number of the County's multi-family complexes were built under Federal programs that require the provision of housing units that are affordable to persons of low and moderate incomes. Several State and Federal programs provide housing assistance to County residents, as well as financial assistance and incentives to developers of affordable housing. These programs are detailed in Section H – Public and Assisted Housing Programs.

Manufactured homes, widely considered a viable affordable housing option, comprised more than one-fifth of all housing units in the County in 2016 (Table 3-7). Nearly one-quarter of all permits for single-family homes (130 permits) in Oconee County were issued for manufactured homes in 2017 and 123 were issued through November of 2018 (Table 3-4). Manufactured homes are currently allowed in all zoning districts in the Oconee County, as are manufactured home parks.

American Community Survey data reveals that the median costs for homeowners with a mortgage are only 21.1% of household income in Oconee County – well within the definition of affordable housing and compatible with median costs statewide (Table 3-18). One-third of owner-occupied homes in the County are valued at less than $100,000 (Table 3-15). However, median value for County housing units at $151,100 is $7,500 above the statewide median value (Table 3-14).

While the disparity between housing cost and income poses a potential barrier to affordable housing for a segment of renters in the County, housing remains within reach for many renters. Although the County median gross rent comprises 31.5% of household income, it is only slightly above the State median of 30.5% and the cost-burden threshold of 30% (Table 3-18). The median monthly gross rent of $698 paid by Oconee County renters is much lower than the statewide median of $811 (Table 3-14). More than 20% of County renters pay less than $500 per month for rent and associated costs (Table 3-17).

The availability of water and sewer service can reduce initial residential construction and development costs and enable smaller residential lot sizes in appropriate areas. In turn, these conditions can make residential development more attractive to prospective developers and less expensive for potential buyers. Wells and septic tanks can be less expensive alternatives to publicly provided water and sewer service over time. However, the expense of installing wells and septic tanks can drive up initial development costs for homebuyers. Septic tank requirements also require larger lot sizes that can sometimes raise land prices higher than the smaller lots in more densely developed projects that have water and sewer service. The extension of public sewer service to currently unserved areas can lower residential development costs. Increased availability of water and sewer service can also encourage the location of new industries and businesses that provide additional jobs and increased community investment.

While water service is available in many areas of Oconee County, sewer service is limited. Ten water providers serve the more populated southwestern area of the County that includes the greater areas of Walhalla, Westminster, and Salem. Sewer service is available within the cities of Seneca, Walhalla and Westminster as well as limited surrounding areas; and along several major transportation corridors including S.C. Highways 130, 59, and 11 and U.S. Highway 123/76.

Additional opportunities to address the issue of housing affordability in Oconee County include efforts to raise the incomes of County residents. Ongoing economic and workforce development efforts that focus on raising the earnings potential of residents so that they can afford available local housing are key. These efforts include continuing to recruit businesses and industries that offer higher paying employment with increased advancement opportunities, combined with providing advanced training to prepare Oconee County residents to fill and retain these jobs.

K. HOUSING FOR SPECIAL NEEDS POPULATIONS

Special needs populations – the elderly, persons with disabilities, persons with chronic illnesses, individuals and families in crisis, and the homeless – often have special housing needs. These specialized housing needs can be met in the form of nursing homes, assisted living facilities, emergency and crisis shelters, halfway houses and group quarters, and temporary homeless shelters.

1. Senior Citizens and Persons with Disabilities

One-in-five Oconee County residents (15,350 persons) have some form of disability, including hearing or vision impairment, cognitive difficulty, ambulatory limitation, or other condition that impedes their ability to care for themselves. Of these disabled residents, 20.3% are children under 18 years of age, 18.9% are 18 to 34 years of age, and more than one-third (39.3%) are between the ages of 35 and 64. While most of the County's disabled residents live at home, some require specialized support services in a residential setting.

More than one-fifth (21.5%) of Oconee County residents (16,092 persons) are aged 65 or older. As the population of the County ages and older residents seek alternative housing options, the availability of appropriate housing for seniors becomes increasingly important. According to the 2012-2016 American Community Survey, over one-third (38.5%) of Oconee County residents aged 65 and older (6,203 persons) are disabled.

There are several types of housing available for the elderly and persons with disabilities, representing a range of assistance and care options in the County.

Nursing homes are facilities that provide nursing or convalescent care for two or more persons unrelated to the licensee. A nursing home provides long-term care of chronic conditions or short-term convalescent or rehabilitative care of remedial ailments for which medical and nursing care are necessary. The Division of Health Licensing of the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control (SCDHEC) lists two facilities in Oconee County, providing space for up to 252 residents (Table 3-22). Both of the County's nursing homes are located within the City of Seneca.

Community Residential Care Facilities, also referred to as Assisted Living Facilities, offer room and board for two or more persons unrelated to the licensee. These facilities are designed to accommodate changing needs and preferences of residents; maximize the dignity, autonomy, privacy, independence, and safety of residents; and encourage family and community involvement. There are six assisted living facilities in Oconee County, providing a total of 380 housing units (Table 3-22). Five of the licensed facilities are located in City of Seneca and one is in the Town of West Union.

Housing options are also available in Oconee County for persons with disabilities and special needs (mental retardation, autism, or related disability) as diagnosed by the S.C. Department of Disabilities and Special Needs (SCDSN). The Tribble Center was established in 1975 by the Oconee County Disabilities and Special Needs Board in Seneca to provide support and services to meet the needs of those who have developmental or intellectual disabilities, spinal cord and head injuries, and autism and their families in Oconee County. Services include case management, early intervention, adult day programs, residential services, and other support services. The Center offers residential services through Community Training Homes and Supervised Living Programs. The Tribble Center operates 13 Community Training Homes, located throughout Oconee County. The Homes offer individuals the opportunity to live in a home-like setting with staff supervision 24-hours a day and include training to increase independence, administration of medications, and community activities. Supervised Living Programs offer individuals with the ability to live semi-independently to do so. Residents live in apartments or private dwellings and are provided supervision and assistance tailored to their specific needs.

The Stribling Place apartment complex in Seneca was built with funding provided by HUD's Section 811 Supportive Housing for Persons with Disabilities Program. The Program is intended to increase the number of properties that can accommodate very low-income persons with special needs, including those with a mental illness. Stribling Place provides 12 one-bedroom apartments for qualified applicants.

2. Homeless Population and Victims of Domestic Violence

United Housing Connections reported that there were 54 individuals were counted as homeless in Oconee County in January 2018. Of these, 16 persons were unsheltered and 38 were housed in emergency shelters or temporary housing. While families or individuals who are doubling up with friends or relatives because they have no other housing options are not included in the HUD definition of homeless individuals and families, they are often at risk of losing that temporary shelter and becoming homeless. Doubling up is considered a temporary situation, one that is often prohibited by public housing laws and landlords. If the extra household residents are discovered, both families face possible eviction. Moreover, doubled-up friends or families often impose space and financial burdens on the host family and the guests are often asked to leave after a short time. In smaller and more rural communities with no public shelters, doubling up is often the stop-gap measure before sleeping on the streets.

Because of the limited resources available and the more suburban/rural nature of Oconee County, it is assumed that many homeless persons in the County double up with friends or family or gravitate to the more structured services provided in neighboring areas such as Anderson and Greenville. As a result, many have likely not been included in recent homeless counts. Although methodologies exist to count the homeless who take advantage of services offered by various agencies and organizations, it is a challenge to get an accurate picture of the true extent of homelessness in the County. In addition, based on cost-burden and overcrowding data, it is clear that there are precariously housed families and individuals in Oconee County who are at risk for homelessness. Many of these households may be only one rent payment or unexpected expense away from housing loss.

Several agencies and organizations provide shelter and housing assistance for homeless individuals and families in Oconee County. Our Daily Rest on E. Main Street in Seneca provides shelter for homeless men, women and their children. The program has served more than 1,600 clients in Oconee County since its inception in 2009 and helps residents to transition to successful independent living. Housing for 20 men is provided in a dormitory style setting, while housing for 15 women and their children includes individual rooms that house three or four persons per room. The shelter also includes a fenced outdoor recreation area, laundry facilities, a living area, and a snack area.

Christ Central Ministries in Walhalla is developing a pilot project that will transform the former Oconee County Detention Center on Short Street in Walhalla into a Resource and Solution Center in response for the countywide need for a homelessness solution. Plans include providing emergency shelter for homeless families and individuals, transitional housing, and classes on finance, addiction and recover, life skills, GED, and parenting.

Nearby faith-based Family Promise of Pickens County helps to meet the immediate needs of homeless families for shelter, meals and support services. The rotating congregations in the Network host up to four families of not more than 14 individuals, providing lodging and daily meals. Families must undergo background checks and drug testing and must follow rules of conduct. Families typically stay in the program from one to three months.

Upstate Housing Connections offers an array of options for those in need of housing in their 13-county region that includes Oconee County. Programs include:

- Intake and referral,
- The provision of affordable housing including Stribling Place in Seneca,
- A rapid rehousing program to help families and individuals living on the streets or in emergency shelters obtain permanent housing,
- Permanent supportive housing for persons with very low incomes and chronic disabling health conditions,
- Transitional housing for homeless youth,
- Safe Havens for people experiencing chronic homelessness and with a serious mental illness, and
- Temporary emergency shelter for families in need at Trey's House in Anderson.

Domestic violence is defined as a pattern of abusive behavior in any relationship that is used by one partner to gain or maintain control over another intimate partner. Domestic violence can be sexual, emotional, economic, or physical actions or threats of actions that influence another person. Data from the office of the South Carolina Attorney General shows that more than 36,000 victims report a domestic violence incident to law enforcement annually statewide. The vast majority of victims of domestic violence are women and children. South Carolina ranks first in the nation for women killed by men ("When Men Murder Women," Violence Policy Center, 2015). It is estimated that one in four women will experience domestic violence in their lifetime (SC Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault).

Victims of domestic violence comprise a substantial portion of the homeless and near homeless population. Unfortunately, it is widely recognized that most cases of domestic violence go unreported, with far more families in turmoil than the data indicates. Approximately half of all homeless women report that domestic violence was directly responsible for their homelessness (National Alliance to End Homeless, Homelessness and Domestic Violence: What's the Connection, 2015).

Safe Harbor provides safe shelter, counseling, and advocacy for victims of domestic violence and their children. The Safe Harbor location in Seneca provides emergency shelter at their 16-bed facility. During their six to eight-week shelter stay, clients receive counseling, case management, referrals, advocacy, and basic living necessities. Transitional housing is also available to survivors of domestic violence and provides secure and stable housing through rental and utility assistance for approximately 18 months.

Although only three of the homeless persons in the 2018 PIT count were identified as veterans, it is likely that there are more who are living with relatives or friends or were otherwise uncounted. The Oconee County Veteran's Affairs Office advocates for veterans and assists in filing for benefits and monetary assistance to help pay for the cost of assisted living or nursing home, obtaining transportation to the Greenville VA Medical Center, and provides other referral services. While housing specifically for veterans is not available in Oconee County, the United Veterans Association provides an emergency shelter for homeless veterans in nearby Greenville. Homeless veterans may also apply for HUD's Veterans Administration Supportive Housing Program (HUD-VASH). HUD-VASH provides permanent housing for eligible homeless veterans who need case management services because of serious mental illness, substance use disorder history, or physical disability. Housing for an eligible veteran can also include their families.

Chapter 4. Economic Element

The local economy affects every aspect of community life from jobs and taxes to environmental quality. A healthy economic climate offers increased income potential for Oconee County residents, a supportive environment for business and industry to succeed, and increased fiscal stability of local governments to maintain and expand community services and infrastructure. A balanced and diversified economy can also help Oconee County, its municipalities, and its residents and employers successfully weather economic downturns.

The Economic Element focuses on the components of the economy of Oconee County, its municipalities, and the surrounding Upstate region. It examines labor force characteristics, an analysis of income and wealth characteristics and distribution, commuting patterns, educational attainment and workforce development, occupational outlook, existing business and industry, market forces, realized and untapped economic assets, diversity of the economic base, the related economics of public health, current economic trends, and economic recruitment strategies.

The Element provides a platform for local officials to identify the types of employment desired and the general location where such opportunities should be directed, while ensuring the distribution of economic benefits to residents throughout the County. The Element also examines the role of the County and its municipalities within the context of the regional and statewide economy.

The intent of this Element is to foster the development of a sound economic base for Oconee County. This base should offer a range of employment opportunities for residents, support the economic competitiveness of existing and future employers, promote a highly trained and educated workforce, complement the County's rich cultural and natural resource base, and strengthen the overall quality of life for all residents.

A. REGIONAL ECONOMIC CONTEXT

Economic diversity is a vital component in achieving community sustainability. The ability of residents to live near their places of work and the local availability of goods and services are major factors in a healthy economy. Oconee County is situated in multiple and sometimes overlapping planning, economic development, and service delivery regions (Map 4-1). The County is located midway along the highly traveled I-85 corridor that links the Charlotte Metro region to Atlanta. As South Carolina's northwestern-most county, Oconee is the State's closest community to metro Atlanta.

Together with Anderson, Cherokee, Greenville, Pickens, and Spartanburg Counties, Oconee County is part of the Appalachian Council of Governments region for transportation, transit, aging services, community development and infrastructure grants, and workforce development programs. For purposes of industrial recruitment and economic development activity, Oconee County is a member of the ten-county Upstate SC Alliance. For workforce development and job training and placement services, the County is within the three-county Tri-County Technical College service area and the WorkLinks Workforce Investment Area that includes Anderson and Pickens Counties. Oconee County is also part of the larger federally-designated Appalachian Regional Commission service area comprised of 420 counties throughout 12 states.

The state's Appalachian region encompasses the northwestern corner of South Carolina. The region is home to a population of more than 1.2 million, nearly one quarter of the State's population. The region has a combined civilian labor force of almost 628,000. Oconee County has a population of 76,972, with an active civilian labor force of more than 35,500.

Map 4-1. Oconee County Economic Location Map

B. INCOME AND WEALTH

Present-day Oconee County was carved out Pickens District in 1868. Agriculture was the dominant economic activity of the area until the westward expansion of rail service in the late nineteenth century. New communities such as Seneca and Westminster were established as a result of extension of rail access to the region. The arrival of the railroad facilitated the rise of the textile industry as a major employer well into the twentieth century.

Following the Second World War, major infrastructure projects such as construction of the Interstate system including a segment of Interstate 85 in the southeastern corner of the County, and construction of a series of dams for power generation created Lakes Hartwell, Keowee, and Jocassee.

Although agriculture continues to be a strong sector in the state and local economies, rapid post-war population growth ushered manufacturing to the forefront of the State's mid-century economy. Oconee County is now home to more than 60 industry-related companies that draw from a regional labor shed of more than 630,000 residents. The continued recruitment of new domestic and international employers – coupled with the expansion of existing industries, tourism, retail businesses, health care, higher education, and agribusiness – strengthens the tax base and increases the number and quality of job opportunities available to County residents.

Economic development is more than job creation. A well-designed economic development strategy raises the standard of living and increases the assets and income levels of residents. In addition to employment rates, companion measures of economic health include the property tax base, sales revenue, diversity of employment sectors, capital investment, income levels, educational attainment, and cost of living.

1. Property Tax Base

The value of the property tax base impacts the ability of the County and its municipalities to provide vital services and facilities and to make the necessary public investments to encourage private investment. Property taxes are also the leading source of revenue for local governments. Assessment ratios applied to manufacturing, commercial, and other classes of real property are based on classifications and rates established by the State of South Carolina (Table 4-1). For residential uses, the assessment ratio is 4% for owner-occupied, principal residences and 6% for other non-principal residential uses. Residential owner-occupied properties are exempt from school property taxes. The State also offers a homestead exemption for residents based on multiple qualifying factors that include age and disability.

A tax rate of 6% applies to other real estate such as commercial and rental properties and agricultural real property owned by corporations, while private agricultural properties are assessed at 4%. Manufacturers pay a tax rate of 10.5% for real and personal property. This rate will be reduced to 9% by 2023 through a manufacturing property tax exemption passed in 2017. The assessment ratio for all other businesses is 6% for real property and 10.5% for personal property. Although the State sets the assessment rates, only local governments levy property taxes.

The County's total assessed value exceeded $578 million in 2017, with a total appraised value of more than $5.3 billion (S.C. Index of Taxpaying Ability, 2019). Annual property tax collections by type and percentage for Oconee County are shown in Table 4-2.

The County's base millage rate for 2018 was 71.00 with a value of one mil at $559,921. This base rate covers county operations, debt service, economic development, Tri-County Technical College operations, and bridge and road maintenance. Table 4-3 compares the most recent value of a mill among Oconee and surrounding counties. Greenville has the highest value per mill at more than $2.2 million, while Cherokee County has the lowest value at only $172,125.

Municipal millage rates range from a high of 99.30 in Westminster to a low of 37.00 in Salem. The Oconee County School District exacts an additional, overlapping millage of 146.30 countywide. Additional mills not included in the County base support fire protection.

Three utilities and seven manufacturers make up the list of the top ten principal taxpayers in Oconee County. These private sector employers collectively provide a third (33.3%) of the total assessed value countywide. Duke Energy tops the list, paying $33.2 million in 2018 on a total assessed value of nearly $159 million. This tax bill comprises almost 28% of the total taxable assessed value in the County. Nearly $24 million of this total was appropriated to the Oconee County School District and Tri-County Technical College (Oconee County CAFR, 2018).

An industrial property tax abatement is available to qualified manufacturing businesses that make a minimum capital investment in Oconee County. This incentive provides a five-year property tax abatement from county ordinary operating taxes, excluding the school portion of the local millage. The abatement of municipal taxes is at the discretion of each municipality. Local governments can also negotiate Fee-in-Lieu of Tax (FILOT) agreements with companies making larger capital investments.

In addition to temporary tax incentives, the overall business tax structure of the State can impact economic competitiveness and performance through corporate, individual income, sales, unemployment insurance, and property taxes. South Carolina ranks 37th nationally in terms of its overall business tax climate, trailing all other southeastern states including neighboring North Carolina (11), Georgia (36) and Florida (4), as well as Tennessee (14), Alabama (35), Mississippi (24), and Virginia (31). However, the State ranks 15th for favorable corporate tax structure, 32nd for sales taxes, and 24th for property taxes (2018 State Business Tax Climate Index). There is no state sales tax on manufacturing equipment, industrial power, or materials for finished products. The absence of state property taxes and no local income taxes help minimize operating costs for employers in the County. The County also does not charge a business license tax or business registration fee. This favorable business climate is enhanced locally, as Oconee County has the third lowest property tax in South Carolina.

2. Taxable Sales

Other key indicators of community wealth include revenues from retail sales, the local option sales tax, and accommodations and admissions taxes. The State of South Carolina has established a statewide base sales tax of 6% applied to the retail sale, lease, or rental of tangible personal property. Supplemental taxes based on community needs can be added by local governments, if approved by voters. These include Local Option, School District, Transportation, Capital Projects, Tourism Development, and Education Capital Improvement taxes. Oconee County currently does not have additional sales taxes in effect.

The level of taxable sales generally reflects the overall state of the economy, which influences purchasing decisions. Net taxable sales include automobiles, food, and merchandise. However, consumer money spent on gasoline, accommodations, and admission fees are not included in net taxable income data. Oconee County had nearly $2 billion in gross retail sales and more than $558 million in net taxable sales in 2016, ranking among the top twenty South Carolina counties.

Admissions taxes are collected at a rate of 5% of the paid admission for any amusement venue for which an admission fee is charged, including night clubs, sporting events, amusement parks, golf courses, movie theaters, bowling alleys, concerts, and health clubs. Admissions taxes collected countywide totaled $254,100 in FY 2016, which is the most recent data available. An additional 2% state sales tax is imposed on the gross proceeds from the rental of rooms, lodging, and sleeping accommodations. Accommodations tax collections within Oconee County totaled $251,846 in FY 2016, ranking 19th highest among the counties.

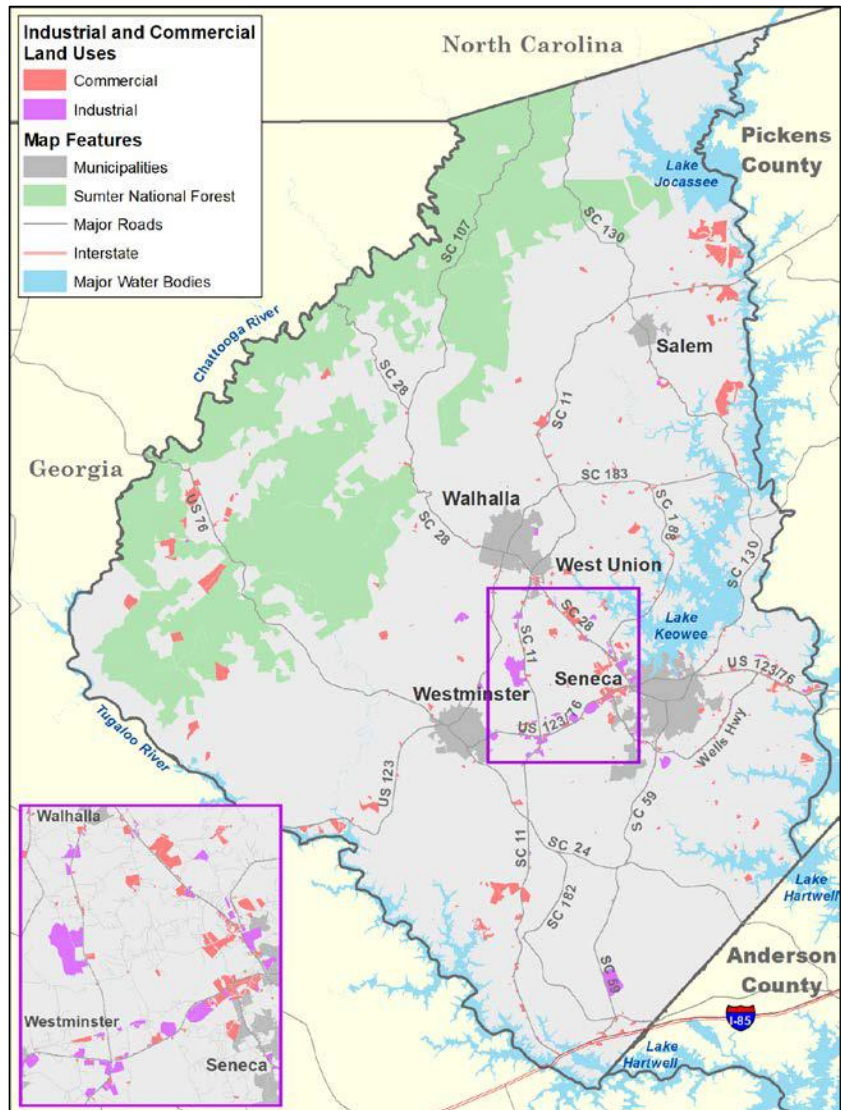

3. Commercial and Industrial Land Uses

The availability of desirable land for industrial and commercial purposes is necessary for economic growth. Land areas classified as industrial are those used to manufacture, assemble, process, or fabricate goods, and to store (warehouse) or transport goods. Examples include manufacturing plants, industrial parks, truck terminals, and warehouses. Countywide, there are nearly 2,000 acres currently in industrial use, representing less than 1% of the total land area.

Most industries in the County are located in the central and southern portion of the County near Westminster and Seneca (U.S. Highways 123 and 76 and S.C. Highways 28 and 11), and along the I-85 corridor (Map 4-2).

Map 4-2. Existing Industrial and Commercial Land Uses in Oconee County, 2019

Sources: Oconee County Assessor, 2018; Oconee County GIS Department, 2019

Commercial land areas are used to conduct business, trade activities, administrative activities, professional activities or services, or personal services. Examples of commercial uses include establishments for retail sale or wholesale of goods and services, restaurants, entertainment facilities, administrative or professional offices, gas stations, grocery stores, hair stylists, dry cleaners, furniture stores, clothing stores, car sales, law offices, doctor offices, CPAs, real estate offices, hotels/motels, lumber sales, private gyms, post offices, and nursery or garden centers. Commercial land uses account for almost 2% of the County's land area at 7,211 acres. Commercial uses are more evenly distributed throughout the County, with concentrations in and near the City of Seneca and along U.S. Highway 123 and S.C. Highways 28 and 11 leading to the cities of Walhalla, Westminster, and Clemson. Smaller concentrations of commercial uses are also found near Salem, Long Creek, and the lake areas.

4. Capital Investment

Industrial capital investment in equipment, buildings, and land is an important contributor to the local economy, yielding more tax revenue per investment dollar to schools and local governments than residential and commercial development. The economic multiplier for manufacturing industries is typically much higher than for retail, health services, and personal business services.

Efforts to recruit new employers to the County have targeted industries in bioscience, energy, automotive, and advanced manufacturing. Oconee County has also experienced industrial employment growth through international investment. The County is now home to facilities of companies based in China, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, and Sweden.

From 2010 to 2018, new and expanded manufacturing capital investment in Oconee County surpassed $613 million and yielded 2,278 new jobs (Table 4-5). The highest number of manufacturing jobs was created by BorgWarner in its 2018 expansion, adding 160 new jobs. The County's highest single capital investment to date was also the $73 million expansion of the BorgWarner facility in Seneca.

5. Employment Centers

The County's list of top employers includes K-12 education, manufacturing, local government, and energy (Table 4-6). Although the County School District tops the list of major employers, manufacturers comprise two-thirds of the list that features producers of automotive products and metal products. These ten manufacturers contribute nearly 5,000 jobs to the local employment base. Six of these employers represent internationally headquartered firms.

Map 4-3 depicts the location of the County's major employers by numbered rank as listed in Table 4-6, as well as the three county-owned industrial parks. The parks offer more than 700 buildable acres for new industry. All three have attained certification by the S.C. Department of Commerce.

The 322-acre Golden Corner Commerce Park (GCCP) is located just north of Interstate 85 on S.C. Highway 59. The certified park is designed to accommodate manufacturing, warehouse, and distribution facilities. Wastewater service has been completed.

The Oconee Industry and Technology Park (OITP) is a certified site located on S.C. Highway 11 in the triangle between Walhalla, Westminster, and Seneca. The 422-acre park is the site of the new Tri-County Technical College (TCTC) campus. In addition to college and school district training facilities of the new Center for Workforce Development, current employers include Baxter Manufacturing and Horton, Inc.

Located on the east side of Seneca, the certified Seneca Rail Park (SRP) is a rail-served manufacturing park on 111 acres near U.S. Highway 123. In addition to its close proximity to Clemson University, this site has been designated as a certified fiber ready industrial park, the first industrial park in Upstate South Carolina to receive this designation. The Park is also within a New Market Tax Credit Zone and a designated Qualified Opportunity Zone with federal incentives.

6. Income

Income can be assessed through a variety of indicators that include per capita income, total personal income, poverty levels, living wage indicators, and earnings. Per capita income is an income average computed for each individual in the population. Per capita income for Oconee County residents at $25,944 is slightly higher than that of South Carolina at $25,521, but trails the national income of $29,829.

Poverty level data is based on thresholds established by the Federal government that are linked to changes in the cost of living and the Consumer Price Index (CPI). Poverty is defined as having insufficient resources to meet basic living expenses, including the costs of food, shelter, clothing, transportation and medical expenses. The percentage of Oconee County residents living in poverty is 19%, above the percentage of impoverished State residents at 17.2% and the national poverty rate of 15.1%. Among Oconee County households, 16.4% (5,076 households) live in poverty. The highest percentage of County residents living in poverty includes working age adults between 18 and 44 years of age at 42.1%. Low and moderate income (LMI) households are those households with incomes below 80% of median family income. As detailed in the Housing and Population Elements, 40% of Oconee County households are considered to be LMI.

The Basic Family Budget Calculator developed by the Economic Policy Institute estimates the minimum income needed to cover basic living expenses to provide a secure, yet modest standard of living. Under the EPI model, a family of four with two adults and two children living in Oconee County would need an annual income of $65,570 – or a monthly income of $5,464 – to adequately provide for basic housing, food, transportation, child care, taxes, and health care costs (Economic Policy Institute, 2018).

Living wage indicators have been developed by MIT researchers to determine the market-based cost of living within communities in each state. The living wage estimate for families living and working in Oconee County estimates the full-time hourly rate that a resident (employed full-time at 2,080 hours annually) must earn to support a family for expenses such as food, child care, transportation, medical, and housing costs. Using this formula, the working head of household for a typical family of four in the County would have to make approximately $23.75 an hour to support the family's basic needs for housing, medical, child care, transportation, and food.

The average annual wage is computed by dividing total annual wages by annual average employment. The average weekly and annual wage in Oconee County ranks 5th highest in the State at an hourly rate of $24.25 per hour and annual earnings of $50,440 (Table 4-7).

As detailed in Figure 4-8, the highest average annual wages in Oconee County are generated in Wholesale Trade, Administrative & Waste Management Services, and Manufacturing. The Accommodation and Food Services industry yielded the lowest average annual wages in the County at $15,340. At more than $57,000, the average Manufacturing sector job in Oconee County offers more than three times the average annual wage of an Accommodation and Food Services sector job.

Local average wages by sector are particularly relevant when considering the minimum living wage estimates previously provided in Table 4-7. County economic development strategies should consider the need to provide a balanced sector mix to ensure adequate earnings opportunity for Oconee County residents. Although the services sector represents a growing segment of the national and local economy, these jobs often offer lower pay and fewer benefits than many other sector employment opportunities.

7. Retirees

An influx of retirees to a community, coupled with higher numbers of current residents who are aging-in-place, can influence the local economy by spurring growth to meet the demands of a growing and older population. The benefits of growing the retirement base of a community generally include higher incomes and educational levels, economic stability and vibrancy, and a neutral fiscal impact on service delivery (Golden Rules, University of Georgia, 2013). It is estimated that one new job is generated by every two new retirees to a community. As a result, retiree recruitment has become part of the overall economic development strategy for many communities.

Retirees relocating to a community generally seek certain non-work-related amenities and quality of life factors that include mild climate, lower cost of living, low crime rates, quality housing options, medical services, cultural and recreational opportunities, and services for seniors. More recent studies show that retirees are placing an increasing emphasis on cultural, educational, and wellness opportunities as well as technology access in their new communities (Attracting Retirees to South Carolina, 2016). Research shows that most retirement relocation decisions are not made in a few months, but are made over a period of years leading up to actual retirement. Opportunities to attract retirees often occur when they first visit a community as tourists much earlier, closely linking tourism and retiree recruitment strategies. As a result, many states including neighboring North Carolina, have launched Certified Retirement Community programs similar to initiatives geared toward industrial development. These program assess communities in terms of access to health care, volunteer and part-time employment opportunities, recreation and wellness, climate, tax structure, safety, and lifelong education and entertainment.

South Carolina ranks well in common retirement metrics such as quality of life, climate, health care, and affordability. Approximately two-thirds of the nearly 110,000 people who made South Carolina their new home in 2017 were over the age of 50 (The Center for Carolina Living). The State consistently ranks within the top ten retirement destination lists of national publications such as Kiplinger's, Southern Living, Forbes, Conde Nast, and U.S. News & World Report. A retirement preference survey conducted by the University of South Carolina found that most potential retirees to the State prefer to retire in small towns, coastal regions, mountains, rural, and urban areas.

Armed with potentially significant purchasing power, retirees impact the local economy particularly in the areas of health care, retail, and housing. Current retirees in South Carolina generate an annual economic impact of nearly $30 billion (Attracting Retirees to South Carolina, 2016). The annual rate of in-migration of retirees is close to 54,000. The Upstate has emerged as a favorable destination for many of the State's retirees. Oconee County is particularly poised to attract retirees seeking convenient access to the Greenville metro area, Interstate access, the more relaxed climate of smaller cities and towns, the cultural and sports venues of nearby Clemson University, lower traffic congestion, and abundant natural lake and mountain amenities. The City of Seneca was named among the top fifteen retirement cities (SmartAssets) and Oconee County was named among the top 10 in the nation for living and boating (Boating Magazine).

Communities attracting large numbers of retirees should also plan for the impacts of an aging population. The future needs of the retiree population should be evaluated to determine the types of cultural activities, amenities, facilities and services needed to serve current and recruit additional retirees to the County. An older population typically has a greater need for specialized health care providers and facilities, aging services, transportation, and housing options. The influences of an older population on the types and focus of community services and programming can also affect the appeal of a community to younger families and young professionals whose interests may differ.

C. WORKFORCE

Employers require access to a qualified workforce to survive and grow, making the composition and size of a community's labor force one of the most critical factors in employer location and for building and maintaining a successful and strong economy. The labor force is the number of residents employed and those seeking employment and available for work. This number represents the combined pool of workers potentially available to employers.

Information on the population base and labor force characteristics can provide insight into the ability of Oconee County and its municipalities to attract and retain sound employers, as well as adapt to changing global economic trends. An understanding of the County's labor base requires an examination of underemployment and unemployment, education and skill levels of the incumbent and entering workforce, population growth, and commuting patterns.

A healthy economy requires a stable and growing population. Population growth is fueled by multiple factors including job creation and capital investment, residential housing supply, fuel prices, rate of natural increase, and migration. The Oconee County population grew from 74,273 residents in 2010 to 75,375 by 2016. Projections indicate that the County population will reach 80,260 by 2023 and 83,459 residents by 2028.

1. Unemployment and Underemployment

The unemployment rate reflects the number of individuals who are without work and are actively seeking employment. Unemployment rates for Oconee County are consistently lower than statewide unemployment for each of the last ten years. Reported job losses due to mass layoffs in the County totaled 357 from 2008 through 2018. This mass layoff occurred in 2012 at the Itron plant in West Union.

The economic recession prompted a sharp rise in the County's unemployment to a high of 13.3% in 2009 that has been followed by a steady decrease over the last nine years to a low of 3.3% by the end of 2018. The County's 2018 annual unemployment rate was lower than both state and national rates.

The most recent data published by the S.C. Department of Employment and Workforce reveals that among Oconee County workers filing unemployment claims, more than half had attended, but not completed, college. Over a third (36%) of jobless residents were between 41 and 55 years old, while another third (33%) were between the ages of 25 and 40 years.

Another key workforce concern is underemployment. An underemployed worker is generally one who is overqualified in a current job and interested in other employment. Many underemployed residents are in part-time or temporary jobs that may lack key benefits such as health insurance. Oconee County and the surrounding region has a higher level of underemployment at 16.3% that the State as a whole at 16.2% (Comprehensive Regional Workforce Analysis, 2018).

On a positive note, unemployment and underemployment are two contributing factors to the potential pool of qualified labor for new businesses looking to locate in the County. Underemployed workers are often the first to respond to new job opportunities with new and expanding industries, and often have more skills than their jobs require.

2. Education and Skills

An educated and skilled workforce is integral to building a strong local economy. Local educational attainment levels provide an important indicator of the long-term economic competitiveness of Oconee County and its municipalities. County efforts to increase the educational attainment and encourage postsecondary training is yielding results with new and rewarding job opportunities that strengthen quality of life and community prosperity.

Educational attainment is a significant indicator of current and future earnings potential. U.S. Department of Labor data reveals that the national median weekly earnings in 2018 were $553 for a person without a high school diploma, compared to $730 for a worker with a high school diploma and $862 for an associate degree holder (Figure 4-2). Individuals with a bachelor's degree or higher had median earnings ranging from $1,198 to $1,884 per week. Unemployment is also generally lower for individuals with higher educational attainment. At the national level, residents with no high school diploma experienced an unemployment rate of 5.6%, compared to the rate for adults with a bachelor's degree at only 2.2%. Individuals with a high school diploma, but no college, had an unemployment rate of 4.1%.

In South Carolina, a worker with less than a high school diploma makes an average annual wage of $19,864, compared to a high school graduate or GED holder who earns $26,702 (American Community Survey, 2013-2017). In Oconee County, the annual earnings gap between a high school dropout ($16,131) and a high school graduate ($24,879) is even higher at $8,748. A South Carolinian with some college or an associate degree earns an average of $32,022, while income with a bachelor’s degree averages $45,757. Oconee County residents with an associate degree or some college earn an annual average of $31,207, while those with a four-year degree average $42,496. A State resident with a graduate or professional degree has an annual average income of $55,414. County residents with post-graduate degrees average $62,345.

Nearly 84% of County residents aged 25 and older have completed high school. This percentage is slightly under the state average of 86%. The percentage of County residents with a Bachelor’s degree or higher rose from 18.2% to 23.5%. Likewise, the percentage of residents with some college, including those with an associate degree, increased from 22.5% to 28.8%. The percentage of County residents who lack a high school education has steadily declined.

Oconee County is similar to the State in the percentage of residents with postsecondary degrees, with 8.9% of County residents holding an associate degree, 13.9% a baccalaureate degree, and 9.6% a graduate or professional degree. Statewide, 9.1% of South Carolinians have earned an associate degree, 16.9% a baccalaureate degree, and 9.6% a graduate or professional degree.

Educational achievement and skill proficiency levels among the local workforce strongly influence employer interest in locating to the area, as well as productivity and satisfaction with the workforce for existing employers. The path to educational achievement and job readiness starts in the K through 12 school system. Public schools are a vital community resource in attracting new employers and in preparing residents for a knowledge-based, global economy.

Strengthening the college and career readiness of high school graduates is an emerging factor in state and local economic competitiveness. Readiness is demonstrated by additional measures of student achievement such as college entrance scores, Advanced Placement (AP) or dual enrollment course participation and pass rates, and postsecondary enrollment.

The School District of Oconee County (SDOC) operates a total of 16 schools with a combined enrollment of approximately 10,500 students. In addition to 10 elementary schools, three middle schools and three high schools, the District operates an alternative school for academic and discipline referrals, a career center, and an adult education center. The Hamilton Career Center provides career training for high school students in support of area workforce needs. In partnership with local business and industry, Tri-County Technical College (TCTC), and Oconee County, the School District will open a new state-of-the-art, 100,000 ft² facility scheduled for completion by fall 2020.

The school system offers advanced and extended learning opportunities including Advanced Placement courses that offer college-level instruction and credit, career and technology education, virtual classes, and work-based learning. The District also maintains articulation agreements with the technical college to offer dual enrollment opportunities for high school students to gain both high school and college credit before graduation. Dual enrollment courses transfer to any state technical college or public university in South Carolina and can be taken at no cost for students meeting the minimum credit hours per semester. These credits give many local students a head start on postsecondary education and help reduce the total costs associated with college.

Table 4-9 details selected college and career performance data for the School District relative to high school SAT/ACT exam scores, state-mandated End of Course Test (EOCT) pass rates, graduation rate, and percentage of high school seniors eligible for the merit-based Legislative Incentive for Future Excellence (LIFE) scholarships for students attending postsecondary institutions within the State. The 2018 on-time graduation rate for Oconee County high school students was above the State average. LIFE eligibility for County graduates is almost 75%, with a postsecondary participation rate of nearly 71%. Composite ACT exam scores for County students were on par with the State average, at 18.9 and 19, respectively. Approximately one-third of Oconee County public high school students took the SAT in 2018, posting a composite SAT score average of 1091. This average was 27 points above the State score average.

In addition to the ACT and SAT college readiness testing options, South Carolina high school students may take the Ready to Work (R₂W) career readiness assessment. The new test is administered to all eleventh grade students to determine student achievement in Applied Mathematics, Reading for Information, and Locating Information. Soft skills are also assessed in areas such as problem solving, goal setting, decision-making, and self-direction. Of the 704 Oconee County high school students who tested in 2018, nearly 85% received a certificate of job readiness for a broad range of jobs (S.C. Department of Education, 2019).

3. Existing and Projected Employment by Sector

The occupation of employed residents provides an overview of the local and regional economy and insight into individual earnings potential. Approximately 54% of the County's population aged 16 and older are participating in the labor force. Of the Oconee County residents currently in the civilian workforce, 78.5% are private wage and salary workers, 15.2% work in federal, state, and local government, and 6.2% are self-employed (ACS, 2013-2017).

State data on current employment by industry group reveals that Manufacturing is the leading employment sector in Oconee County, employing nearly 20% of the workforce (6,067) in 2018. Retail Trade ranks second highest with a workforce of more than 3,300. Health Care and Social Services ranks third highest at 2,871, followed by the Accommodation and Food Services sector that employs 1,775 Oconee workers. The lowest sector employment is found in Management of Companies, Real Estate and Rental, Transportation and Warehousing, and Agriculture, Fishing and Hunting, each with fewer than 200 jobs. The latest available statewide industry employment projections cover the ten-year period from 2014 to 2024 (Table 4-10).

4. Commuting Patterns

Travel time to work, or commute time, can affect a worker's productivity and quality of life. The mean travel time to the workplace for Oconee County residents is 24.7 minutes, slightly above the 24.1-minute commute average for residents statewide. Nearly one-third (31.1%) of Oconee County workers have a commute time of less than 15 minutes to work. Eight percent of County workers drive an hour or more to work.

Personal vehicles are the primary travel mode to work for most Oconee County residents. Only 1.5% of County workers bike, walk, or travel to work on public transportation. Among workers living in Oconee County, 84.2% drive solo to work, while 10% participate in carpools. Only 3.3% of the County workforce works at home, which is slightly lower than the statewide percentage of 3.6% and the national rate of 4.6%.

Worker commuting patterns indicate 71% of the County's workforce live and work in the County, slightly above the statewide average of 70.6% (Table 4-11). Nearly one-in-four residents commute outside of the County to work, and 4.4% commute to jobs outside the state.

Geographic data on worker commuting patterns is detailed in Table 4-12. Of the 7,870 Oconee County residents who travel outside the County for work, more than 45% commute to Pickens County employers, followed by workers commuting to Anderson (22.9%) and Greenville Counties (13.1%). These outgoing commuters offer a potential labor pool for new and expanding industries and businesses as more job opportunities are created closer to home.

D. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Bolstered by a workforce development emphasis, direct Interstate access, expanded access to higher education, and strong tourism and natural resource assets, Oconee County is well-positioned for continued economic development growth. The County offers a comparably low cost of doing business that includes factors such as low taxes and utility rates, as well as a generally lower cost of living. As a right-to-work state, South Carolina ranks among the nation's least unionized states at a rate of only 1.6%.

State and local jurisdictions have the option of further creating a positive business climate by offering tax incentives that help employers reduce operating costs and boost return-on-investment, the provision of infrastructure, and the availability of low to no-cost specialized workforce development and training programs. Local governments can also streamline development review and permitting processes to facilitate clear communication of expectations and regulations and ensure the consistent enforcement of codes, ordinances, and regulations. The County can also promote the protection of existing and future business operations through sound planning for infrastructure and compatible land use.

1. Incentives

Public investments and incentives, when part of a well-planned development strategy, can provide an attractive business climate and increase private investment. The State and County can provide multiple tax incentives to existing and new businesses to encourage economic growth and investment. Among the strongest incentives available to State and local economic developers are the jobs tax credit, the fee-in-lieu of property taxes, and job development and retraining credits. Because the State does not tax real or personal property, property tax incentives must be implemented in conjunction with each county.

The State's 46 counties are ranked by the S.C. Department of Revenue each year in one of four tiers, with Tier I including the highest ranked counties and Tier IV including the lowest. Rankings are based on employment rates and per capita income. Oconee County is currently ranked among twelve counties in the second tier. This ranking is used by the State to determine the amount of jobs tax credits allocated to eligible employers in each county, with the larger credit amounts going to counties with the greatest economic need. The 2019 jobs tax credit amount for Oconee County is $2,750.

The ability to offer many of these incentives depends on the formal approval of the S.C. Department of Revenue and local city and county councils. In addition to the incentives listed in Table 4-13, the wide range of tax credits available to employers includes credits for hiring displaced workers, conservation and habitat management, child care, textile mill and abandoned sites revitalization, and minority businesses. Green incentives are available to promote recycling facilities and energy conservation and renewable energy improvements with recycling, solar, biomass, and renewable fuels.

2. Workforce Development

Workforce development is a leading challenge in economic development efforts. The availability of a trained and highly skilled workforce is a major consideration in business location decisions for most employers. Workforce quality is also important. The emphasis of state, regional, and county recruitment efforts on attracting higher-wage, higher-tech employers requires a better-educated and more technologically proficient workforce.

Employment and training resources are offered by State and local providers in Oconee County through the K-12 school system, the technical college system, adult education, and specialized workforce training and job placement programs. Expanded access to training resources has contributed to the rising educational attainment and employability of Oconee County residents. The School District of Oconee County (SDOC) offers diverse academic and elective programs in its middle and high schools. The District's Hamilton Career Center is the center for high school technology education in Oconee County. The Center currently enrolls 1,000 students from the three district high schools. The District offers technical electives that support 13 career clusters that range from health science and culinary arts to welding and computer science. Students can explore career interests, train for a specific career, gain employability skills, earn state and national certification, and prepare for postsecondary education. County students can also learn about careers, specific job skills and other workplace expectations by participating in work-based opportunities such as job shadowing and internships. Oconee County conducts a Youth Apprenticeship Program in partnership with the School District and Apprenticeship Carolina. Students acquire hands-on experience in various business settings and gain a deeper understanding of today's global business environment.

The SDOC also operates the Oconee County Adult Education program to prepare residents to obtain the High School Equivalency (GED) diploma. Housed at the Code Learning Center in Seneca, SDOC programs include adult and family literacy, career ready certification, and workplace skills.

To help future Oconee County graduates prepare for productive futures, the SDOC and the Oconee Economic Alliance created NOW (Nurturing Oconee's Workforce) as a manufacturing focused workforce development initiative launched in the fall of 2016. Thirty students, ten from each local high school, are selected each year as NOW Scholars. Participants attend monthly advanced employment skills and career awareness workshops, industry exposure and networking, and tours and internships with Oconee County's top manufacturing employers. The inaugural class graduated in 2018 to pursue specializations in diverse, high demand fields including mechatronics, machine tool technology, welding, mechanical engineering, and agricultural mechanization.

Oconee County is served by Tri-County Technical College (TCTC), one of 16 public, two-year colleges that comprise the S.C. Technical Education System. The College serves a combined enrollment of 6,082 in its three-county service area from its main campus in Pendleton, as well as through satellite campuses in each of the three counties. The new Oconee County campus opened in the fall of 2018 and is located at the Oconee Industry and Technology Park on S.C. Highway 11 in Westminster. The campus is designed to support regional manufacturing with programs that include CNC Programming and Operations, Manufacturing Management and Leadership, Business Administration and Operations Management, Industrial Electronics Technology, and Mechatronics. The campus also offers dual enrollment for area high school students, university transfer courses, and S.C. Manufacturing Certification. By 2020, the campus will also house the new School District of Oconee County Career Center. The TCTC campus co-location with the SDOC career center and local industry will form an innovative center for technical education, work-based learning, and economic development.

In addition to formal K-12 and postsecondary learning opportunities, the State also offers targeted training programs specifically tailored to the workforce development needs of businesses and industries. Oconee County residents and employers have access to proven workforce development programs that play a critical role in economic development. These job training and re-training programs help attract and retain employers by providing a pool of highly-skilled labor.

	registered occupational apprenticeships. The program provides supervised on-the-job training and related technical instruction (RTI) through registered apprenticeships in nearly 1,000 occupations. Regional workforce investment funds can be leveraged for eligible expenditures including instruction, training, and wages, while trainees can also use lottery tuition assistance for apprenticeship programs. Participating employers qualify for income tax credits.

3. Utilities

The development and expansion of infrastructure is one of the most significant challenges to future economic growth in Oconee County. The location, timing, and pace of new infrastructure impacts the ability of Oconee County to service new and existing employers. To maximize the economic benefit of costly investments in infrastructure, the County and its municipalities must maintain a coordinated process for planning and prioritization of capital facilities and infrastructure needs. Industrial recruitment efforts generally center on sites and communities where water and sewer are either already available or can be extended at reasonable expense. The County's infrastructure resources are described in greater detail in the Community Facilities, Transportation, and Priority Investment Elements.

4. Transportation

Commercial transportation is critical for business and industrial development in today's global economy. Although size and space needs for new businesses and industries can vary widely among employer types and sectors, an accessible transportation infrastructure that provides easy access to materials, supplies, and markets is a common requirement. Convenient connectivity to areas nationwide and overseas is an attractive incentive for businesses and industries, making freight mobility a high priority when considering transportation infrastructure investments. Depending on industry-specific needs, this infrastructure network can include interstates and highways, aviation facilities, rail service, and ports.

The County has nearly nine miles of direct frontage on Interstate 85, with four interchanges. U.S. Highways 123 and 76 traverse the County, as well as South Carolina Highways 28, 183, 130, 59, and 11. Of the 1,700 miles of roads in the County, more than 1,000 are federal and state highways maintained by the State of South Carolina. These transportation corridors open employment, shopping, and recreation opportunities to residents and provide workers with access to employers.

Rail service offers a cost-effective option for manufacturers that require bulk raw materials and shipment of finished products. Oconee County is bisected by the main Norfolk Southern rail line that links Charlotte, North Carolina with Atlanta, Georgia. The line provides direct access to the County's Seneca Rail Park.

Located between Seneca and Clemson, the Oconee County Airport offers a 5,000-foot runway, GPS navigation systems, and general aviation support services and amenities that can accommodate the needs of smaller recreational aircraft as well as larger turboprops and business jets. Commercial passenger service for domestic and international flight connections is accessible at the Greenville-Spartanburg International Jetport (GSP) within an hour drive. Six major airlines serve more than 2.3 million passengers through an average of 50 non-stop flights to 19 major airports daily. GSP handles 60,000 tons of cargo annually and is the site of a 120,000 ft² FedEx cargo facility. The Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport (ATL) is a two-hour drive to the west. As the world's busiest airport, ATL provides international and domestic flights to more than 100 million passengers each year to 150 domestic and 75 international destinations. Both airports offer significant air freight capacity that includes large shipping distribution facilities.

Traditional port service for Oconee County businesses is available through South Carolina seaports at terminals in Charleston and Georgetown. The Port of Charleston ranks as one of the busiest container ports on the East coast and provides the primary port service for State businesses. The facility handles 2.2 million twenty-foot equivalent units (TEUs) annually, while moving 760,500 tons of breakbulk cargo. A deepening project now underway will make Charleston the deepest harbor on the east Coast by 2020. The first South Carolina Inland Port opened in Greer in 2013, extending the Port of Charleston's reach more than 200 miles inland to the Upstate. The inland port provides access to more than 95 million consumers a day and boosts intermodal efficiency for international freight movements between the Port of Charleston and companies located across the Southeast.

Additional details on Oconee County's transportation resources are presented in the Priority Investment and Transportation Elements.

5. Environmental Considerations

The preservation of natural and environmental assets is an aspect of sound economic development. Clean air and water are essential to a desirable quality of life and public health in Oconee County. Air quality problems that trigger non-attainment measures can ultimately impede the recruitment of new industries and businesses to the area, resulting in reduced investment and employment opportunities. All South Carolina counties currently have attainment status with the national ambient air quality standards of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Given the County's location adjacent to the high-growth Greenville-Anderson-Mauldin metropolitan area, it is important that local leaders continue to analyze and monitor the factors related to air quality as they influence the County's long-range economic health and potential.

Oconee County has abundant surface water resources that include Lakes Hartwell, Jocassee, and Keowee, and numerous rivers, creeks, and streams. Detailed data on water quality in the County is provided in the Natural Resources Element.

Agriculture and forestry are important components of the landscape and the economy of Oconee County. As noted in the Agriculture Element, more than half of the County's land area is currently in use for agriculture or forestry. Such lands are critical natural resources that provide valuable wildlife habitat, windbreaks, enhanced water quality, groundwater recharge areas, decreased ambient temperatures, stormwater and erosion mitigation, and open space. Preserving important farmland and forests requires economic strategies that focus on areas suitable for growth and discourages intensive development in the County's environmentally sensitive areas.

6. Energy Conservation

Energy conservation influences all aspects of the local economy. A balanced discussion of energy use and conservation must include industrial and commercial interests, as well as large-scale institutional uses. Industrial and commercial uses combined account for well over half (58%) of all energy consumption in South Carolina (S.C. Energy Office, 2019). The industrial sector is the State's largest energy user at 45% of all energy consumed. The transportation sector consumes the second largest amount of energy at 28%, while commercial users consume 13%.

Table 4-15 provides a listing of federal and state incentive programs for commercial and industrial businesses to encourage energy efficiency. Nearby Clemson University also operates an Industrial Assessment Center that provides energy assessments to small and medium-sized industrial facilities statewide at no cost.

7. Industrial Development Sites

Adequate land area and suitable sites are necessary to provide space to accommodate new and expanding business and industry. Planning is needed to ensure the long-term availability of sites that minimize development constraints and potential conflict with surrounding uses. Land targeted for industrial development should be provided with the necessary infrastructure in advance to attract new employers.

Oconee County has four interchanges along an 8.6-mile segment of the Interstate 85 corridor that runs through the southern tip of the County. Economic development strategies emphasize the potential of an industrial corridor in this southern portion of the County. The Golden Corner Commerce Park and four of the eight industrial sites are located in this area (Tables 4-16 and 4-17).

Sensible growth strategies encourage the development of land closer to existing development, provide incentives for infill and the redevelopment of previously developed areas, and avoid encroachment of new development into areas that lack the necessary public facilities, services, and infrastructure. The use of vacant buildings to house new business and industry supports this strategy. These facilities can range from former strip commercial centers to big box retail and abandoned mills. Often referred to as greyfields, these properties generally consist of a large structure with significant land area. These sites represent infill opportunities that do not require the expansion of new infrastructure and are convenient to existing transportation networks and housing markets. Table 4-17 lists currently available industrial facilities and sites that take advantage of existing infrastructure and accessibility.

8. Economic Development Strategies and Focus Areas

Over the last decade, South Carolina has increasingly shaped its economic development strategy around target industries as part of a long-term economic strategy that aims to foster growth and raise the State's per capita income to the national average. Clusters, targets, and specialty sectors have been identified in multiple State and regional studies. These targets are used to identify areas for collaboration across jurisdictional boundaries that combine public and private investment to promote growth within each region.

Statewide economic growth potential is focused on the Advanced Manufacturing, Advanced Materials, Aerospace, Agribusiness, Automotive, Distribution & Logistics, Life Sciences, and the Office/Shared Services sectors. For the ten-county region that includes Oconee County, the Upstate SC Alliance has identified five targeted sectors in Aerospace, Automotive, Engineered Materials, Food Manufacturing, and Life Sciences (Table 4-18). At the County level, the Oconee Economic Alliance (OEA) seeks to build a vibrant economy by focusing on four related industry targets in Advanced Manufacturing, Automotive, Metal Fabrication, and Plastics Injection Molding.

In addition to these targeted manufacturing sectors, Oconee County can diversify its economic base with development of agribusiness and tourism, with support for small business development and downtown revitalization.

As described in the Agriculture Element, agriculture and forestry continue to be an integral part of the South Carolina and Oconee County economy. A 2013 joint study released by the South Carolina Departments of Agriculture and Commerce, Making Small Farms into Big Business, identified the development potential of food nodes. A food production node is a cluster of farms near each other, working in collaboration and using common food production infrastructure. Strengthening these clusters of independent farms presents an opportunity for South Carolina communities to maintain a sustainable agriculture system and build local efficiencies in food trade. Savings in fuel and energy costs make local producers more attractive as suppliers to regional markets. The continued growth in consumer interest and demand for organically grown produce and livestock also creates new markets for smaller farming operations.

The South Carolina Department of Agriculture, along with the Palmetto AgriBusiness Council and the Farm Bureau, implemented the 50 by 20 Plan that calls for increasing the economic impact of the State's Agribusiness cluster to $50 billion by the year 2020. As part of this effort, a growing number of South Carolina and Oconee County farmers are looking beyond traditional agricultural markets to find new opportunities and markets that diversify their operations through agritourism. These programs are outlined in the Agriculture Element.

Strategies that protect agricultural uses and productive agricultural and forest lands are necessary to maintain profitable farms. The agribusiness strategy strongly complements revitalization efforts to strengthen existing urban centers in the County and reduce encroachment into prime farmlands and forests. Recruitment efforts can also seek industries that use locally grown products or by-products for value-added production. The County has established an Agriculture Advisory Board with responsibility for representing the interests and needs of the agricultural sector. The Board advises the County on issues ranging from land use to the promotion of all sectors of agribusiness.

The same abundant natural resources that support agriculture can also serve as a major tourist draw. The recreation and tourism sector also plays an important role as a provider of jobs and income in many South Carolina communities, both large and small. The economic impact of tourism in South Carolina is significant, supporting one in ten jobs statewide in a $22.6 billion industry that now accounts for nearly three percent of the State GDP (U.S. Travel Association, 2019). Domestic travelers to the State spent more than $12 billion on transportation, lodging, food, entertainment, recreation, and incidentals. Sector spending also generated $1.7 billion in State and local tax revenue. This equates to a tax burden transfer from residents to tourists of $895 per household.

Oconee County benefitted from more than $64 million in travel and tourism related expenditures, with $3.3 million in local tax revenues, in 2017. This activity ranked Oconee among the top half of South Carolina counties in total travel expenditures (SCPRT, 2018). Tourism generated nearly $10 million in local payroll. Tourism employment includes numerous sectors such as public and auto transportation, lodging, food service, entertainment and recreation, and general retail. Tourism-related jobs offer opportunities for residents with diverse skills and educational backgrounds, ranging from first-time job seekers to senior citizens and from part-time work to alternative work schedules.

A new tourism development plan for Oconee County was completed and adopted in 2015. The Plan, Destination Oconee: Realizing the Future of Oconee County, outlines recommendations for tourism, growth policies, branding, funding, and marketing for the County and its communities. The initial recommendations addressed a variety of needs that ranged from downtown street audits and design review ordinances, to overlay districts, coordinated signage, and ongoing support of tourism projects. These efforts will strongly complement the County's overall economic development goals by diversifying the local economic base, enhancing and preserving the County's rich cultural and natural resource base, strengthening existing downtowns, and providing increased job opportunities for area residents through the creation of locally-owned, small businesses.

As tourist activity increases, downtown development and revitalization initiatives continue to gain momentum in the Upstate. Rural communities with attractive cultural, scenic, and historical resources are among the fastest growing heritage tourism destinations. As identified in the Cultural Element, local governments, cultural and civic organizations, and the private sector can play a valuable role in providing recreational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities that enhance the sense of community for residents, attract tourists, and boost activity in traditional downtown districts. Economic development efforts in downtown districts typically focus on encouraging retention of existing businesses, facilitating the location of new businesses that strengthen the downtown, and promoting the revitalization and infill of commercial areas. Among the strategies to revitalize and strengthen these historic commercial centers are policies that preserve and promote the unique nature of the downtown area, along with its key buildings, streets, and public spaces. This includes the redevelopment of blighted structures and properties, streetscaping, and the installation of wayfinding signage that facilitates identification and access to neighborhoods and businesses. These are among the key recommendations of the Destination Oconee Plan for the County and its municipalities.

The Plan defines a unified brand that promotes the County. This character is derived from the County's physical location at the base of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the distinct Appalachian heritage of the community. Each municipality has potentially unique commercial areas, such as Ram Cat Alley in the City of Seneca. As the County seat, the City of Walhalla provides a focal point for creating a vibrant arts and outdoor recreation destination that carefully weaves together business, cultural, and governmental uses. Neighboring Westminster also offers an emerging music and arts scene combined with welcoming small-town charm. Community festivals, museums, visual and performing arts venues, complemented by dining and lodging options, can strengthen the draw of these historic communities.

In addition to creating jobs and boosting downtown revitalization efforts, tourism provides new small business opportunities that enable County residents to capitalize on its natural, recreational, and historic assets. For example, the 2018-2022 Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) for the six-county Appalachian Region of South Carolina notes that smaller Upstate communities such as Westminster have limited lodging options for visitors. The plan calls for increased collaboration and incentives to establish options such as bed and breakfasts, short-term rentals, and RV parks.

Small business development strategies are an integral part of local economic development plans. More than half of the State's private sector employees work for small businesses. A distinct advantage of smaller firms is that they are locally-owned and typically employ residents within the local community, do business with other community-based firms, and reinvest profits within the community. Small business development can also provide alternative employment for residents impacted by downsizings and plant closures. Small businesses also tend to be more diverse with higher levels of minority, veteran, and women ownership. Smaller firms are well-positioned to serve the larger corporations recruited to the region, opening new opportunities for small business start-ups.

Local government support for downtown entrepreneurs can include financial incentives for qualifying businesses, physical site improvements, advertising, signage, and other marketing needs. Municipalities can also simplify permitting and remove barriers for new and existing businesses to obtain or renew business licenses to facilitate downtown economic activity. Rehabilitation and reuse of older buildings generally has a higher local economic multiplier than new construction, keeping more dollars in the community.

9. Organizations and Partnerships

The involvement of public and private organizations as economic development allies supports a sound economic growth strategy that addresses community needs and advances the County's economic vision. Economic allies include municipal, state, and county organizations involved in planning, finance, education and training, construction, utilities, and engineering, as well as related regional and state economic resources (Table 4-19). This continued partnership approach to economic development will fuel Oconee County's a diverse economic base, support economic and community development, and provide a quality living environment for residents.

Chapter 5. Cultural Resources Element

Cultural resources include historic buildings and structures, unique residential and commercial areas, archeological sites, entertainment venues and events, museums, art galleries, educational and religious institutions, and related features that comprise the unique attributes and defining character of Oconee County and its communities. The Cultural Resources Element provides an overview of the historical development of the County, identifies significant historic and cultural resources, profiles local arts and cultural organizations, lists annual events and opportunities, and explores the current and potential economic impact of these resources in the community.

Preservation and enhancement of the County's abundant historic and cultural resources directly benefit the community through increased tourism activity and revenue, revitalization of core commercial and residential districts, higher property values, stronger community identity, and enhanced attractiveness to new employers and residents. The ability of Oconee County to attract and retain visitors, retirees, and professionals rests in large part on the quality of life offered by a rich historic and cultural resource base.

A. HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENT

The history of Oconee County has been extensively documented through many publications including Oconee County (1998) by Piper Peters Aheron and Historic Oconee in South Carolina (1935) by Mary Cherry Doyle. The Oconee County Heritage Book Committee also compiled The Heritage of Oconee County, 1868–1995 in 1995. The Oconee History Museum and the Oconee County Library maintain reference copies of most of these publications.

Oconee County is nestled in the northwest corner of South Carolina between the edge of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the Chattooga and Tugaloo rivers. Its name is rooted in the Cherokee word translated as "land beside the water." Although the first inhabitants of the area were the Creek and Cherokee, early European settlement in the area began in the late-eighteenth century with the construction of a militia outpost at the colonial frontier. Named Oconee Station, the post served as a military compound and later as a trading post.

Through multiple treaties following the American Revolution, the Cherokee were displaced from most of the area. Oconee County was carved out of the western portion of the Pickens District in 1868. Walhalla, founded nearly two decades earlier by German settlers, was designated as the new County seat.

Agriculture was the dominant economic activity of the area until the westward expansion of rail service in the late nineteenth century. The new communities of Seneca, Westminster, and Newry were products of rail access to the region. The arrival of the railroad also facilitated the development of the textile industry that would remain a major employer well into the twentieth century.

Following the Second World War, major infrastructure projects prompted additional changes in the County's economy. The construction of the national Interstate system included a segment of Interstate 85 in the southeastern corner of the County, opening both industry and resident access to new opportunities in surrounding counties and neighboring states. A series of dam projects for power generation resulted in the creation of Lakes Hartwell, Keowee, and Jocassee. In addition to producing the energy to support growth in the region, these new lakes became valuable recreational assets.

B. HISTORIC RESOURCES

Small towns and rural communities with attractive cultural, scenic, and historical resources are among the fastest growing heritage tourism and retirement destinations. The historic and cultural resources of Oconee County and its communities contribute to the appeal of the area as a retirement destination, a desirable place to work and live, and a growing tourist destination. These local resources warrant special consideration in the comprehensive planning process to protect their unique character from development pressures and neglect. Protection of the County's historical and architectural resources requires an active partnership among public and private property owners, local governments, and State and Federal agencies.

1. National Register Listings

South Carolina has more than 1,400 listings in the National Register, with 160 historic districts statewide. The National Register of Historic Places is the nation's official list of historic and cultural resources formally deemed worthy of preservation. Authorized by the Historic Preservation Act of 1966, the National Register is the foundation of a national effort to identify, evaluate and protect irreplaceable architectural and archeological resources. Under the oversight of the National Park Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior, the Register listing includes buildings, structures, districts, sites and objects that qualify as significant in the context of American history, architecture, engineering, culture and archaeology. The benefits of National Register listing include wide recognition of a property's significance, consideration and review in the federally-assisted project planning process, eligibility for federal tax benefits for rehabilitation and easements, and eligibility for federal and state historic preservation grants.

National Register listings can be achieved for larger historic districts that contain broader areas of multiple historic properties that have collective significance, for individual properties that meet the criteria, and for landmark sites that represent historical significance at a level greater than local and regional interest.

Historic districts can be designated to protect larger areas of historic properties and landscapes from adverse impacts of development. National Register criteria for historic districts require that the majority of the components that comprise a district's historic character have integrity, though alone they may be individually undistinguished. There are currently four designated historic districts in Oconee County. Table 5-1 profiles these historic districts shown on Map 5-1.

Although each historic district has multiple contributing properties, there are also numerous individual National Register sites located outside of these districts. (Table 5-2 and Map 5-1).

2. Historical Markers

Historical markers give recognition to places, people, events, and structures that have historical significance at the local, state, or national level. The South Carolina Department of Archives and History manages the South Carolina Historical Marker program. The program includes 1,500 markers statewide, with 19 in Oconee County (Table 5-3). These markers recognize diverse sites of historical significance throughout the County that include schools, churches, and Native American settlements. Although the Department must approve the content of all markers and their location must be coordinated with the S.C. Department of Transportation, there is no state funding for the signs. Markers must be sponsored and purchased by civic, church, historical, or educational organizations.

Information provided by Oconee Heritage Center staff indicates that there are additional locations in Oconee County that should be inventoried for historical purposes and possible inclusion in the official State Historical Marker program.

4. Archaeological Resources

As defined by the S.C. Department of Archives and History, an archaeological site is an area yielding three or more historic or prehistoric artifacts within a 30-meter radius and/or an area with visible or historically recorded cultural features such as cemeteries, rock shelters, chimney falls, brick walls, piers, and earthworks. Due to the sensitive nature and wealth of information that can be gained over time from careful study of these sites, locations are typically not publicly disclosed.

Such sites on federal or tribal lands or that are potentially impacted by federally funded projects are protected to a limited degree by the Archeological Resources Protection Act of 1979, the Native American Graves and Repatriation Act of 1990, Executive Order 13007 of 1996, and the Department of Transportation Act of 1966. At the State level, multiple laws and regulations protect archeological resources including the South Carolina Mining Act, the South Carolina Underwater Antiquities Act, the South Carolina Water Resources and Planning Act, as well as various State codes related to abandoned cemeteries and burial grounds. The State has also developed Standards and Guidelines for Archaeological Investigations as an advisory framework for archaeological fieldwork and reporting in the state of South Carolina.

Archeological sites can be particularly fragile and vulnerable to development. Most sites are discovered during the land development process, especially road construction. The County and its municipalities should work to protect and preserve known sites, as well as identify and protect additional potential areas of archaeological significance.

Archaeological site excavations have been conducted on a number of sites in Oconee County including Fort Prince George, Tamassee Town, Chattooga Town, Chauga Mound, Tugaloo Mound, and Oconee Town. Relics from these excavations have been placed with various institutions throughout the southeast, but are available to be loaned to local museums.

5. Cemeteries

Cemeteries are a significant historical resource in every community and can be an important repository for social, religious, artistic, genealogical, and cultural heritage. There are nearly 100 cemeteries in Oconee County, ranging in size from small family plots to historic church cemeteries and memorial gardens. More than 70 cemeteries in Oconee County have been inventoried by the U.S. Geological Survey and included in the federal Geographic Names Information System (GNIS). Among these historic locations are the Mountain View, Oak Grove, and Lumpkin Street cemeteries in Seneca, the St. John's Lutheran Church cemetery in Walhalla, and the Old Pickens Presbyterian Church cemetery north of Seneca. The website of the Oconee County Cemetery GPS Mapping Project contains most cemetery information including aerial views, map coordinates and directions, and links to photos and tombstone texts. The Old Pendleton District Genealogical Society also maintains the Oconee Cemetery Survey Books. In recent years online resources such as findagrave.com have become useful resources to assist in keeping local cemetery listings up-to-date.

The South Carolina Department of Archives and History provides a reference guide for individuals and groups who are interested in the preservation and protection of historic cemeteries (South Carolina's Historic Cemeteries: A Preservation Handbook, 2007). Vandalism, development, and neglect are the biggest threats to these historic resources. Cemeteries are protected by several State laws that address the preservation and protection of cemeteries (S.C. Code 6-1-35), access and relocation of cemeteries (S.C. Code 27-43-10), and destruction or desecration of remains (S.C. Code 16-17-600). However, enforcement of State laws pertaining to cemeteries rests with local law enforcement. The National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 also provides some protection to cemeteries that are eligible for or listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

6. Unique Areas and Scenic Corridors

Numerous unique areas and corridors showcase the history, culture, and geography of Oconee County. In addition to scenic views, these routes feature historically and culturally significant sites and the unspoiled, diverse natural character of the County. The Cherokee Foothills Scenic Highway is also a National Scenic Byway that extends 112 miles along S.C. Highway 11, while the Savannah River Scenic Highway (S.C. Highway 24) forms part of the South Carolina National Heritage Corridor that extends 320 miles from the mountains of Oconee to Charleston. This Heritage Corridor offers a cross-section of the State's history, culture, and natural landscapes by showcasing the evolution of regional life, from plantations and farms to mill villages and urban centers. As a spur of the Falling Waters National Scenic Byway, the Oscar B. Wigington Scenic Highway (S.C. Highway 107) is only 20 miles long and offers spectacular mountain views from the North Carolina border to Oconee State Park. These corridors and other scenic areas are detailed in the Natural Resources Element.

7. Historic Preservation Organizations

State and local agencies and nonprofit organizations assist South Carolina communities in maintaining their local character by preserving historic and cultural landmarks. The South Carolina Department of Archives and History (SCDAH) preserves and promotes the documentary and cultural heritage of the Palmetto State through archives and records management, history education, and historic preservation. Housed in the SCDAH, the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) facilitates the responsible stewardship of South Carolina's irreplaceable historic and prehistoric places.

The South Carolina Institute for Archeology and Anthropology (SCIAA) maintains the official inventory of discovered archeological sites in the State.

The nonprofit Palmetto Conservation Foundation was founded in 1989 to conserve South Carolina's natural and cultural resources, preserve historic landmarks, and promote active outdoor recreation on the Palmetto Trail and other greenways. As detailed in the Natural Resources Element, three sections of the Palmetto Trail have been completed in Oconee County to date with the Stumphouse Passage, the Oconee Passage, and the Eastatoe Passage.

The Oconee County Arts & Historical Commission is a county supported organization that funds annual cultural and art events. The Oconee History Museum is a nonprofit organization focused on the preservation and promotion of the history and cultural heritage of Oconee County through museums, programs, and historic sites.

8. Historic Preservation Planning

Land use, transportation, and zoning decisions can critically impact historic preservation efforts. Communities that plan ahead to preserve historic properties and districts have a greater likelihood of success. South Carolina law allows local jurisdictions to enact zoning provisions that preserve and protect the character of a community. These communities can enact historic preservation ordinances that contain specific procedures and standards for designating historic properties and districts, design guidelines, and a process for reviewing proposed changes to historic properties. The focus of such ordinances is on preserving the appearance, rather than the use, of identified historic properties. The City of Seneca adopted a design review ordinance and guidelines in 2000 to further its historic preservation goals.

9. Historic Resource Funding Opportunities

Incentive programs encourage the preservation and rehabilitation of historic buildings and the donation of conservation easements to protect historic sites. Although Federal and State resources to support historic preservation efforts have been limited in scope and funding, there are a few opportunities available to property owners and local governments for historic preservation efforts (Table 5-4).

Table 5-4. Summary of Federal and State Tax Incentives for Historic Preservation

Incentive	Benefit Summary	Eligibility	Level

Eligible projects can combine Federal, State, and local credits with one or more other local incentives resulting in even greater benefit. The Bailey Bill was passed by the State legislature to allow South Carolina cities and counties to provide property tax incentives for improvements to historic structures.

The SCDAH also offers two matching grant programs with funds from the National Park Service for Survey and Planning and Stabilization Projects. However, only Certified Local Governments (CLG) are eligible for grant consideration.

The South Carolina National Heritage Corridor provides technical support to communities throughout a fourteen-county region that extends from the Blue Ridge Mountains of Oconee County to the Atlantic Ocean at Charleston and Colleton Counties. Designated by Congress as a “national heritage area” in 1996, communities along the Heritage Corridor are eligible for funding from the National Park Service for projects that enhance their natural, cultural, and historic resources. Oconee County has received grants for historic preservation and destination way-finding signage through this program.

C. CULTURAL RESOURCES

Cultural resources envelop the broad spectrum of the heritage, traditions, religions, and arts of a community. Participation and awareness of the arts can significantly enrich the quality of life for residents. Partnerships among schools, libraries, arts and civic groups, churches, higher education, and local business and industry can leverage local cultural opportunities to increase exposure to the arts for residents of all ages and backgrounds.

1. Cultural Facilities

Cultural facilities are buildings and places where cultural programs are housed and provide public access points for the arts. Oconee County has a diversity of cultural venues for residents and tourists that include numerous museums, a library system with four locations, a fine arts center, a performing arts center, and a community theater.

a. Museums

Oconee County is home to many museums that carefully preserve the diverse cultural heritage of the County and its communities, as well as the contributions of its residents. These facilities are profiled in Table 5-5.

b. Libraries

High quality library facilities, programs, and services can enhance, enrich, entertain, and educate residents of all ages, while presenting opportunities for life-long learning and fostering cultural understanding. The Oconee County Public Library was established in 1948 in Walhalla by County ordinance. The first branch locations were added in Westminster in 1950 and in Salem in 1952. The Seneca branch followed closely in 1953. The system also provides monthly bookmobile service to outlying rural areas that are more than 1.5 miles from a library. The Library system is managed and directed by a Board of Trustees consisting of nine members appointed by the County Council. The system had 44,959 registered patrons, with a circulation of 317,126 and 225,158 visitors in 2018.

The system plays a vital role in promoting genealogical research, computer and internet access, and early and adult literacy through programs such as preschool story time, adult book clubs, and summer reading programs. The local history and genealogy collection is housed in the Antoinette "Ann" Rogers Memorial Room of the main library in Walhalla. As part of the State Library's Digitization in a Box Initiative, the Oconee Library is digitizing books, pamphlets and other documents that relate to aspects of Oconee County history. Many of these are works by local authors, which were originally published in very small editions and are no longer available for sale in a print version. Access to e-books and downloadable audio is also available, along with online access to thousands of magazines, newspapers, and reference books. To encourage STEM (Science, Math, Engineering and Technology) learning opportunities for area teens, the library has introduced a telescope lending program and 3D modeling software and printing services. Other community events held at the libraries are family movie nights, children and teen craft workshops, and writing contests.

c. Fine and Performing Arts Centers and Related Community Facilities and Programs

Although Oconee County remains largely rural, it boasts a number of cultural resources that serve to both educate and enrich the lives of its residents and visitors. These resources provide an educational component that generally includes classes, workshops, field trips, and classroom outreach for persons of all ages.

The Walhalla Performing Arts Center strives to provide a world-class facility for performances, conferences, and special events to enhance the cultural and social life of Upstate South Carolina. The Arts Center is supported with funding from the South Carolina Arts Commission, the Oconee County Accommodations Tax (ATAX) Committee, the City of Walhalla, and private foundations and contributions. The Center is located in the historic Walhalla Civic Auditorium. The current facility is the result of a restoration effort launched in 1993 by the Walhalla Auditorium Restoration Committee. The auditorium was reopened with an inaugural performance in 2003. The facility features beautifully restored palladium windows, a decorative tin ceiling, and original hand planed woodwork and stair railings constructed by skilled German craftsmen.

The Westminster Music Centre is a non-profit, community focused music venue that hosts the region's finest musicians, artists, and performers in an intimate setting with a professionally designed sound system. In partnership with the City of Westminster, the Centre sponsors Music on Main, a live downtown music performance held on the first Friday of each month from April through September. The Centre is governed by the volunteer Westminster Music Association with the shared goal of fostering downtown awareness, tourism, and vitality by attracting local, regional, and out-of-town patrons to quality musical performances and events at the Music Centre.

The Gateway Arts Center of Westminster seeks to make a wide variety of art, history, and culture accessible to people of all ages and from every walk of life. The Center is an all-volunteer art exhibit and education organization that relies entirely on donations, grants, and fees. The community is engaged in the arts through public participation events that are offered free of charge alongside formal exhibits and classes.

The Oconee Community Theatre presents diverse plays and dramatic works to promote and encourage local interest in theatrical productions. Local actors are showcased in several productions each year. The Theatre is managed by a nonprofit organization created in 1971, operated with the hard work of dedicated volunteers, and is housed in the Utica School in Seneca.

The Upstate Heritage Quilt Trail (UHQT) preserves and promotes the history of the Upstate through the local tradition of quilt making and sharing the stories of those who made them. Oconee County was the first county in South Carolina to embrace the quilt trail concept. Today, there are more than 200 quilt blocks on display along the route that extends through Oconee, Anderson, and Pickens Counties. Through the display of quilt patterns on hand-painted panels, the region's homes, barns, churches, community buildings, and historic sites participate in showcasing the colorful stories and generations of craftsmanship that contribute to this County's rich quilt making history.

The Young Appalachian Musicians (YAM) program was launched in 2010 at the Oconee History Museum. The program is a subsidiary of Preserving Our Southern Appalachian Music (POSAM) based in neighboring Pickens County. A variety of classes are offered for area youth in traditional Appalachian musical instruments including guitar, mandolin, banjo, clawhammer banjo, dulcimer, and fiddle. Students learn in a group setting with instruction in tablature and playing by ear.

The Blue Ridge Arts Center is committed to "Bringing Art to the People and People to the Arts." Located in the historic district of Seneca and housed in a former church that is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the Center offers opportunities for artist exhibitions and gallery shows. Classroom studio space allows members and the community to participate in art classes, painting groups, artist demonstrations, events, and meetings. The Center also houses an art library with art reference books, videos, and instructional materials in various mediums. Outreach efforts to place art into the community have included public murals, park benches, and the Alley Cat "sCATenger Hunt" that features steel, laser-cut cats that have been painted by local artists and "hidden" throughout downtown Seneca for residents and visitors to discover. The Arts Center is maintained by the Blue Ridge Arts Council, a non-profit organization that works to expand understanding, awareness, and participation in the arts in Oconee County.

Additional public and private facilities are available for cultural programming throughout the County. These facilities host a variety of events including community performances, private functions, and productions.

2. Annual Festivals and Special Events

Local governments, cultural and civic organizations, and the private sector can play a valuable role in providing recreational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities that enhance the sense of community for residents, attract tourists, and boost activity in traditional downtown districts. Oconee County communities and organizations host numerous festivals and special events throughout the year for the enjoyment of residents and visitors. These festivals and entertainment events feature activities from music to bike rides that promote the heritage and scenic resources of the region (Table 5-6).

3. Arts and Cultural Organizations

Arts and culture play an important role in shaping community identity and civic pride, as well as providing economic opportunities for creative residents. Community members connect with art and one another when they attend and take part in music, dance, and theater performances, tour architectural sites and art exhibits, share works of literature, and engage and express themselves through electronic and digital media. Oconee County has a thriving creative sector that includes local writers, artisans, and musicians. The County has active arts groups in areas including drama, music, and folk arts such as quilting.

The arts are easily integrated into strategies that improve the community livability. A recent report on the economic impact of the arts in South Carolina reveals that the arts cluster supports 115,000 jobs statewide, generates $269 million in tax revenue, and contributes more than $9.7 billion to the State's economy (South Carolina's Arts-Related Economic Cluster, 2018). SCPRT reports that more people visit locations for cultural and heritage activities than for festivals or outdoor recreation.

4. Educational Institutions

Communities that promote a philosophy of lifelong learning among residents are better positioned to successfully compete in a global economy and benefit from a more engaged citizenry. Arts education and music programs are provided to more than 10,400 students each year through the School District of Oconee County. The School District supports a countywide arts education program that includes high school chorus, guitar and piano classes, orchestra/strings program, art exhibits, theatre, visual arts, music appreciation and theory classes, and symphonic, concert and marching bands.

The most recent Strategic Plan for the District incorporates the goal of expanding “arts awareness, appreciation and experiential programs, along with arts-infused instructional approaches.” Strategies to advance this goal include partnering with other community arts groups to expand the Artists in Residency and Arts on the Green programs, as well as the Young Appalachian Musicians program.

5. Related Venues

Oconee County has several agricultural tourism sites and facilities that strongly complement its historic, arts, and cultural resources. In addition to supporting the County’s agricultural economy, agritourism attractions showcase the cultural and historical traditions of the community. A number of local farms have looked beyond traditional markets to diversify their operations through agritourism, incorporating farm tours and field trips, dinners, on-site farm-to-table restaurants with markets, workshops, festivals, and u-pick operations. These operations are detailed in the Agriculture Element.

6. Religious Institutions

The faith community played an important role in the early development of Oconee County and its communities. The more than 200 churches and faith communities of various denominations in Oconee County are vital partners in broadening community access to cultural opportunities. These institutions continue to have a positive impact on the quality of life by holding events such as annual community concerts and reunions that preserve community and family histories, maintaining historic cemeteries, providing diverse youth activities and summer camps, and participating in festivals that showcase local food, talent, and crafts.

The faith community is also an essential partner in supporting the County’s benevolent efforts, providing financial and personnel support for a wide range of activities including food banks, daily meal service, a homeless shelter, and a ride to work program. Several churches have combined resources to address the issue of homelessness and provide an outreach effort in the Utica area. The faith community is also leading the renovation of the former detention center that will provide a host of benevolent activities. Churches also often provide day care, preschool, and faith-based private school options for many families.

7. Media

Newspapers, magazines, television, and radio stations can be a key conduit of information about local cultural events and festivals. Although there are no network television stations located within Oconee County, local residents are served by major network affiliate stations based in the Greenville-Spartanburg area. One company publishes two newspapers in Oconee County. The Journal is published daily Tuesday through Sunday, and The Journal Limited is a free publication available weekly. Of the six radio stations based in the County, four are in Seneca, one is in Westminster, and one in Walhalla. Three of the stations broadcast country music, one contemporary religious programming, one adult contemporary music, and one urban contemporary.

8. Cultural Tourism

Tourism has grown to a $22.6 billion industry in South Carolina, accounting for nearly three percent of the State GDP (U.S. Travel Association, 2019). Tourism now supports one in ten jobs statewide. Domestic travelers to the State spent more than $12 billion on transportation, lodging, food, entertainment, recreation, and incidentals. Sector spending also generates $1.7 billion in State and local tax revenue. This equates to a tax burden transfer from residents to tourists of $895 per household.

State data also shows that Oconee County benefitted from more than $64 million in travel and tourism related expenditures, with $3.3 million in local tax revenues in 2017. Tourism generated nearly $10 million in local payroll. This activity ranked Oconee among the top half of South Carolina counties in total travel expenditures. Oconee County received $406,825 in total accommodations tax allocations for fiscal year 2017-2018, with $200,070 of the total remaining with the County and $186,798 going to the City of Seneca, $7,070 to the City of Walhalla, $5,496 to the City of Westminster, $4,253 to the Town of Salem, and $3,138 to the Town of West Union (SCPRT, 2018).

Cultural tourism in particular offers significant economic opportunities for local businesses and residents through the creation of new retail and service markets in the areas of arts and culture, historical tours and sites, genealogy resources, agribusiness, specialty foods, and related products. In addition to visiting historic places and museums during their trips, heritage visitors enjoy shopping, parks, cultural events and festivals, and outdoor recreation activities such as hiking, boating, or biking. Such tourism is an attractive economic development resource for Oconee County as it preserves community character, instills local pride, promotes community investment, improves the overall quality of life, and generates local employment and entrepreneurial opportunities. The continued cooperation of public and private interests in marketing, preservation and revitalization, and programming for cultural tourism will position the County and its municipalities to continue building upon local heritage tourism assets that include historic sites of state and national significance, cultural attractions, festivals, outdoor events, and diverse culinary and retail offerings.

The South Carolina Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism (SCPRT) is a cabinet agency assigned to operate and manage South Carolina's State Parks, market the State as a preferred vacation destination, and provide assistance to local communities for development and promotion of parks, recreation and tourism. SCPRT offers annual grants to support local governments and nonprofits in developing marketing and generating visitors to the state (Table 5-7).

The Oconee County Parks, Recreation & Tourism Commission serves as the Accommodations Tax Advisory Committee. The Committee advises Oconee County Council on the expenditures of revenue generated from accommodations tax. Grants are made to local organizations for promotion of tourism related arts and cultural events and the construction, maintenance, and operation of civic and cultural facilities.

Discover Upcountry Carolina Association is designated by the South Carolina Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism (SCPRT) as one of the State's eleven official regional tourism development and promotion agencies. Established in 1978, the Association serves Anderson, Cherokee, Greenville, Oconee, Pickens, and Spartanburg Counties. The goal of the Committee is to support efforts that attract tourists from outside the Oconee County area and that generate overnight accommodations. Recent funding has been awarded to festivals, park improvements, and renovation and repair of historic structures.

Visit Oconee SC, formerly the Mountain Lakes Convention and Visitors Bureau, is the destination marketing organization focused on bringing visitors into Oconee County to visit, stay, dine, and shop. Local businesses, restaurants, lodging, arts and cultural events, and recreational opportunities throughout Oconee County are highlighted through newsletters, social media, and visitor guides.

D. GOALS, OBJECTIVES AND STRATEGIES FOR IMPLEMENTATION

Cultural resources, activities, and opportunities are prominent and essential elements of community life, contributing to the vibrancy, place, and identity of the County and the quality of life and well-being of its residents. Rural communities with attractive cultural, scenic, and historical resources are among the fastest growing heritage tourism destinations. A concerted effort to preserve and enhance the community's rich cultural resources base will continue to contribute to the appeal of Oconee County as a desirable place to work and live and as a tourism and retirement destination.

Chapter 6. Natural Resources Element

Located between the Blue Ridge Mountains and lakes Jocassee, Keowee, and Hartwell, Oconee County has abundant natural resources. Residents and visitors have access to lakes, parks and trails, rivers, streams, waterfalls, and forests. These natural resources provide land for development with scenic and environmental amenities, while offering an opportunity for sustainable development. Sustainable development “meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs” (United Nations World Commission on Environment and Development). The aesthetic and recreational appeal of natural resources can also increase land development pressures to accommodate both new residents and tourists. The resulting challenge is to achieve a balance in natural resource planning that promotes productive use of land and resources, maintains critical ecological functions, and protects residents and property from natural hazards.

The Natural Resources Element includes information on local geographic and geologic conditions, climate, agricultural and forest lands, plant and animal habitats, unique parks and open space, scenic areas, water resources, wetlands, floodplains, and other factors that significantly impact the natural environment and shape the future development of Oconee County. A thorough assessment of the County natural resources base and incorporation of this information into planning efforts is necessary to avoid depletion or destruction of sensitive, and often irreplaceable, assets. Valuing and investing in efforts to protect and improve the natural resource base supports the quality of life for all County residents.

A. CLIMATE

As part of the South Carolina Upstate, Oconee County enjoys a warm and temperate climate, with an average annual temperature of 55.8 degrees. Winters are mild, with the earliest freeze or frost occurring between late October and early November and the latest freeze in early April (S.C. State Climatology Office, 2019). While local summers are considerably cooler than in southern areas of the State, they can still be quite warm. When combined with an average humidity of 72.64%, the heat index can rise substantially in mid-to-late summer. Winters are also comparatively cooler in Oconee County, with an average low temperature of 43.64 degrees and average snowfall of 3.3 inches – the fourth highest annual snowfall statewide. Moderate temperatures and an average yearly precipitation of 67.4 inches make the County ideal for agriculture, with a growing season that spans more than two-thirds of the year.

B. AIR QUALITY

Air quality affects the public health, weather, quality of life, and economic potential of a community. Air pollution can have adverse economic effects such as damage to vegetation, reduced crop yields, increased corrosion of metals, and deterioration of stone and paint on buildings, cars and cultural landmarks. These potential impacts are of particular concern in Oconee County where agriculture is an important economic sector and the success of the tourism sector is largely dependent on the preservation of scenic natural resources. Also, air quality problems can impede recruitment of new industries and businesses to the area, resulting in reduced investment and employment opportunities.

One of the primary air quality concerns in South Carolina is ozone. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) developed and periodically updates the National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for Ozone. The EPA designates geographic areas as attainment (meeting the air quality standard) or nonattainment (not meeting the standard) using long-term air quality monitoring data. For areas designated as nonattainment, the State and local governments must prescribe specific actions for reaching attainment within a specified time period. These requirements can significantly impact existing industry, economic recruitment efforts, and transportation in nonattainment and surrounding areas. For instance, the Nonattainment New Source Review requirement for areas lapsing into nonattainment status mandates a required level of emission reductions for new and modified industrial facilities. The expansion or improvement of local transportation infrastructure can also be impacted under the Clean Air Act requirement that transportation plans, programs, and projects cannot create new violations to air quality standards, increase the severity or frequency of existing violations, or delay attainment of standards.

SCDHEC maintains a State Implementation Plan (SIP) that outlines the State's strategies for meeting NAAQS standards for six common pollutants as set forth by the Clean Air Act. SCDHEC has operated an air quality monitoring station in Oconee County as part of its air quality monitoring network since 1983. The station is located in the Longcreek area on Round Mountain Tower Road. The location offers a unique vantage point for the continuous monitoring of transported pollutants including ozone, sulfur dioxide, and particulate matter.

As of February 2019, all counties in the State are within the threshold for ambient air quality and are designated as attainment. However, increased urbanization in the nearby Greenville-Anderson-Mauldin metropolitan area may have future impacts on the air quality in Oconee County. As part of the broader region, it is important that local leaders analyze and monitor the factors that contribute to higher ozone levels and develop local solutions to maintain acceptable levels that ensure the health of residents, as well as the economic health of the County.

Oconee County joined SCDHEC, the EPA, and the counties of the Appalachian Council of Governments Region in an 8-hour Ozone Early Action Compact (EAC) in 2002. The regional EAC was part of a statewide effort that included all ten council of government regions and resulted in an early action State Implementation Plan. Under the terms of the EAC, participants worked together to develop and implement local, regional, and state action plans to attain the EPA's 8-hour ozone standard by the end of 2007. The EAC was a success, with all counties in the region meeting attainment status by the target date.

Oconee County was also a participant with nine other counties, the U.S. EPA, and SCDHEC in a collaborative effort to develop a multi-pollutant, risk-based air management strategy for the Upstate South Carolina region that began in 2013 (U.S. EPA, 2016). The goals of the plan were to identify local emission reduction measures, maintain compliance with NAAQS, demonstrate selected strategies to reduce population risk from exposure to pollutants and transition to a multi-pollutant air quality management strategy. The project results were published in 2016 and demonstrate that improving air quality in areas already attaining air quality standards can yield significant health benefits.

C. LAND RESOURCES

Oconee County is bordered by Pickens County to the northeast, Anderson County to the southeast, the state of North Carolina to the north, and the state of Georgia to the west. The County covers more than 626 square miles, ranking 26th largest among the State's 46 counties. More than 47 square miles of the County are comprised of water, primarily Lake Jocassee, Lake Keowee, and Lake Hartwell, along with numerous rivers, streams, and ponds. The Chattooga and Tugaloo Rivers form the County's northwestern and southwestern borders, respectively.

1. Soils

Local soil conditions are an important consideration in planning for future development. Soil properties directly influence building construction and costs, roads and other improvements, prevalence of prime agricultural lands and activities, and the location and design of septic tanks and drain fields. Both soil suitability and stability should be examined when considering the feasibility of new development or significant redevelopment of a site. Soils on individual sites also determine suitability for specific types of development such as low density residential (single-family), high density residential (multi-family), commercial, and industrial. Although this level of detail must be determined by an individual soil survey for the particular site, large-scale soils data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Data Mart may be useful in an examination of future development potential for broader areas and districts within a community.

Oconee County general soil series primarily consist of well-drained soils of varying slope (USDA, Soil Data Mart, 2019). These soils are profiled in Table 6-1, with distribution illustrated in Map 6-1.

Table 6-1. General Soil Series within Oconee County

Soil Name	Slope Range	Percentage (Acres)	Characteristics
Pacolet-Hiwassee-Cecil	30-45%	28.9% (122,263)	Well drained, moderately permeable soils
Tusquitee-Tallapoosa-Saluda-Evard-Edneytown	60-95%	14.2% (60,067)	Well drained, moderately to moderately rapidly permeable soils
Hiwassee-Cecil	0-5%	13.8% (58,137)	Well drained, moderately permeable soils
Cecil	0-5%	13.6% (57,567)	Well drained, moderately permeable soils
Saluda-Hayesville-Evard-Brevard-Bradson	15-30%	9.3% (39,367)	Well drained, moderately to moderately rapidly permeable soils
Pacolet-Madison-Davidson-Cecil	15-30%	7.1% (29,938)	Well drained, moderately permeable soils
Chester-Ashe	45-60%	4.7% (20,072)	Somewhat excessively drained, moderately to moderately rapidly permeable soils

Sources: USDA NRCS Soil Data Access, 2019; USDA NRCS Official Soil Series Descriptions, 2019

Five of the general soil series in Oconee County include Cecil soils. Cecil soils are very deep, well drained, and moderately permeable soils found on ridges and side slopes in the uplands of the Piedmont. Pacolet-Hiwassee-Cecil is the dominant soil series in the County, comprising nearly 29% of County soils (122,263 acres). The Wilkes-Hiwassee-Cecil series is the smallest group, found in the southeastern corner of the County near Lake Hartwell. Although well-drained, these soils can have slower permeability. Soils with slow permeability may impact septic tank absorption fields. While permeability in the County generally ranges from moderate to rapidly permeable, other factors such as slope may also impact septic tank suitability.

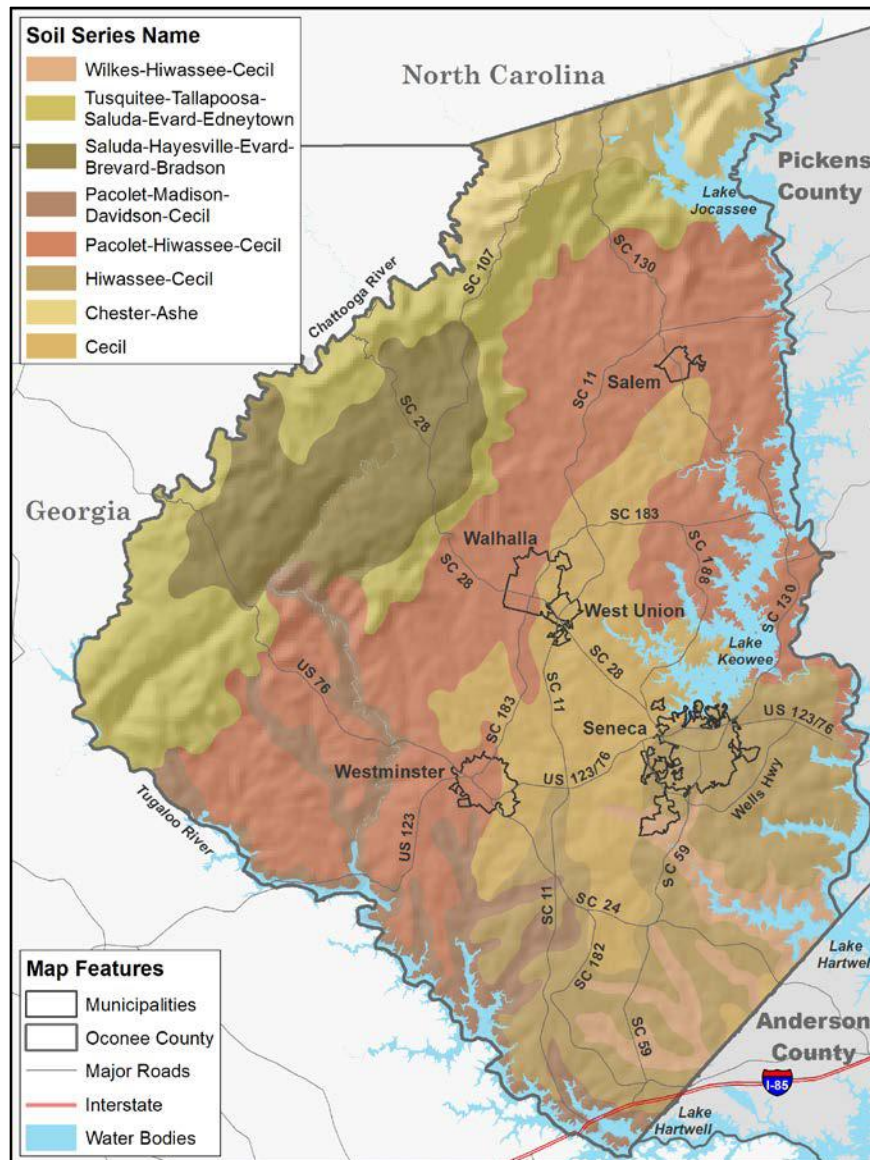

The general soil series map at 6-1 shows broad areas that have a distinctive pattern of soils, relief and drainage. While the depicted soils data is valuable in assessing the suitability of large areas for general land uses, it reflects only general limitations on urban development and should only be used for broad planning analysis. A detailed soil analysis should accompany site-specific development decisions.

Soil erosion is a concern for more than 60% of the County (USDA NRCS Web Soil Survey, 2019). Less than half (45%) of the County’s land is considered to be at moderate risk of erosion, indicating that some erosion is likely and control measures may be needed. Risk of erosion is severe or very severe for 15.4% of the County. A rating of severe (10.6% of the County or 45,416 acres) indicates that erosion is very likely and that erosion control measures such as replanting of bare areas is advised. Erosion is expected in areas considered to have a very severe risk (4.8% of the County or 20,741 acres). All of the soils at very severe risk of erosion and most at severe risk are in the western area of the County in the Sumter National Forest.

Loss of soil productivity and off-site damage is more likely on these lands where erosion control measures are typically costly and impractical to employ.

2. Slope

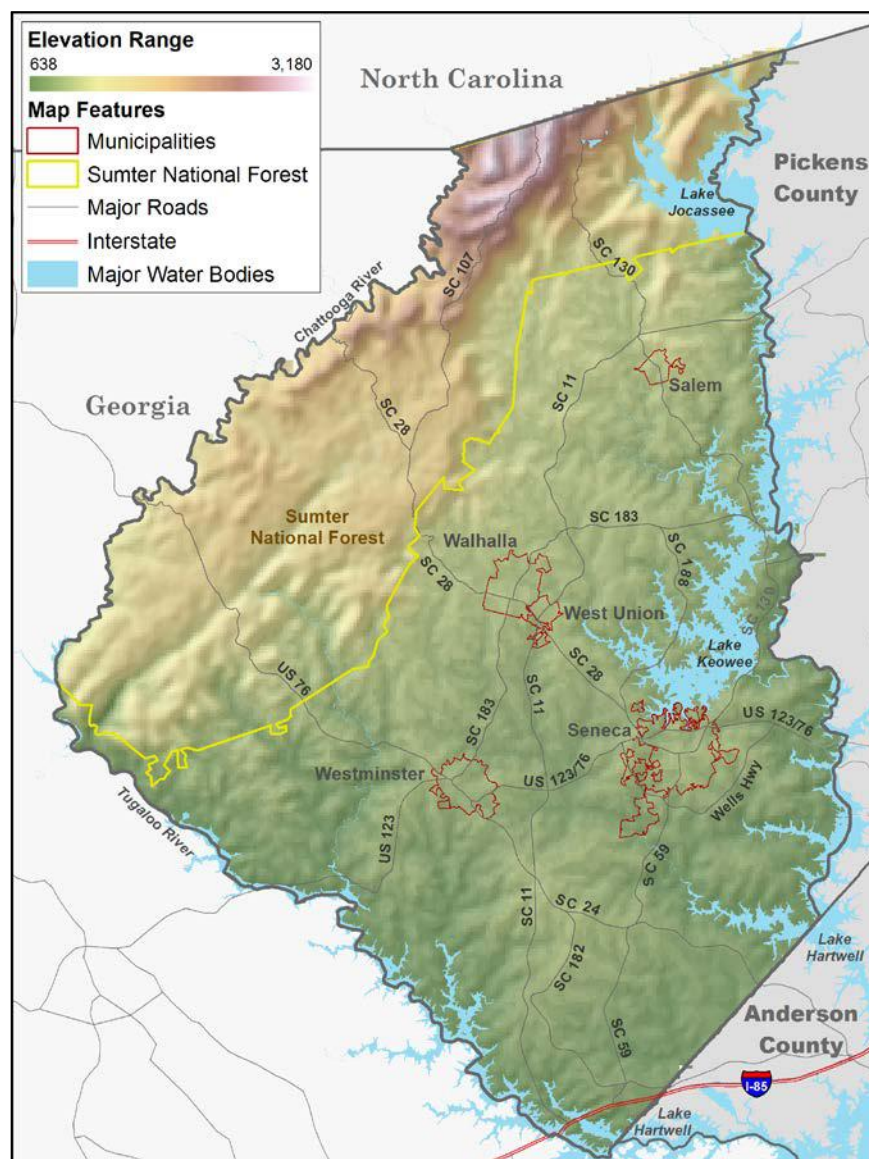

Slope characteristics have a direct impact on the types of land uses that have developed or may be developed in the future. The USDA defines slope gradient as "the difference in elevation between two points, expressed as a percentage of the distance between those points." Sites with slopes of less than 8% are typically most easily and cost-effectively developed, and are appropriate for most types of land uses. An increase in the slope makes a site more difficult and expensive to develop, with increased limitations on the types of land uses that are appropriate. Table 6-2 provides a general listing of land uses and their associated slope limitations. In addition to slope, other factors that determine development suitability include soil limitations such as wetness, permeability, drainage, and flooding. These conditions may be difficult and expensive to mitigate, and can fall under regulatory limitations.

Elevation in Oconee County ranges from 638 feet above sea level to 3,180 feet. The County's lowest elevations are found along the rivers, creek beds, and lakes. The highest elevations are in the northern area of the County in the Sumter National Forest. Map 6-2 illustrates the topography of Oconee County using 2017 contour data.

Map 6-2. Elevation

Source: Oconee County GIS Department, 2019

The topography of Oconee County is largely conducive to many types of development, with some limitations in higher elevations and low-lying areas. Representative slope data is available from the USDA Soil Survey for most of Oconee County, with the exception of 79,297 acres in the Sumter National Forest. Based on the general slope range characteristics and data provided in Table 6-2, one-third of the land area in Oconee County outside of the National Forest (115,717 acres) has a slope of 8% or less and is suitable for all types of land uses. However, soils with no slope (0%) may be subject to flood plain regulations. Development suitability is only slightly more limited for 13.5% of the County (47,245 acres), where a slope range of 9% to 16% readily accommodates residential and light commercial development and is suitable for heavier commercial and industrial development with appropriate site work.

Areas at the higher end of the slope range may not be as suitable for all types of development. The slope range for 26.5% (92,595 acres) of the County's land area is between 17% and 24%. Much of this land is generally suitable for low density residential uses, but site work is usually needed for commercial or industrial development. The slope range for more than a quarter (27%) of the County's land (94,415 acres) is 25% or greater. These lands are generally not suitable for intense development such as higher density subdivisions or commercial or industrial developments, though such development may be possible with appropriate site work.

Table 6-2. Slope Percentage in Oconee County

Slope Range and Associated Land Uses	Acres	Percentage
Slope 8% or less	115,717.34	33.1%
Slope 9% to 16%	47,245.24	13.5%
Slope 17% to 24%	92,594.83	26.5%
Slope 25% and Greater	94,415.37	27.0%

3. Mineral Deposits and Mines

The identification and location of mineral deposits can be important to the local economy. In South Carolina, mineral resources range from limestone, crushed stone, clay, and sand to granite, marble, and vermiculite. According to the U.S. Geological Survey's 2013 Minerals Yearbook for South Carolina, a large majority of South Carolina's nonfuel mineral production results from the mining and production of construction minerals and materials. SCDHEC records indicate that there are two active mining operations in Oconee County as of 2019. One is a gold mining operation in the northern area of the County, and the other is the Oconee County Rock Quarry, a granite mining operation on Rock Crusher Road near Walhalla.

4. Residential Development Limitations

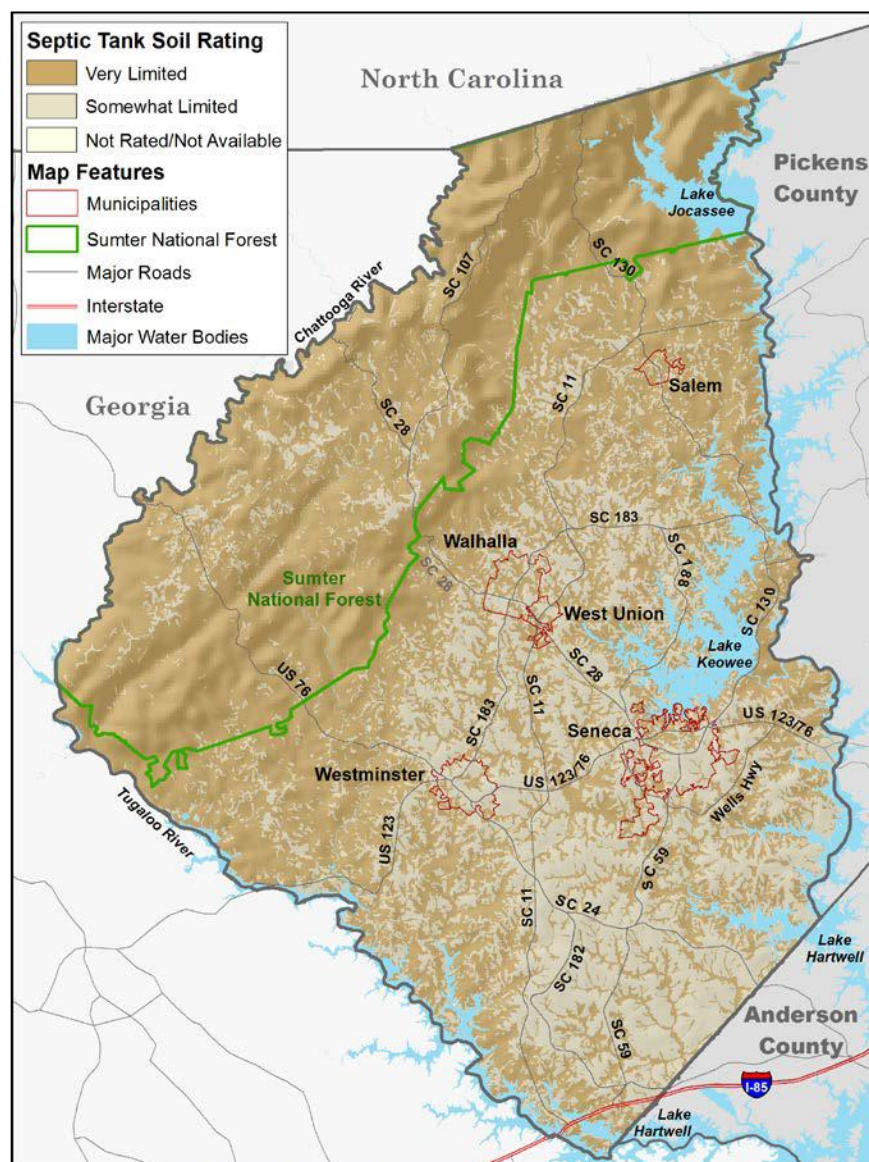

Access to wastewater treatment is limited in Oconee County. Wastewater treatment is provided by three municipalities through Seneca Light and Water and the Cities of Walhalla and Westminster. Public sewer treatment for wastewater collected by the municipalities is provided by the Oconee Joint Regional Sewer Authority. Wastewater collection and treatment is available within the Cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster, and in the Town of West Union. Also included are a few unincorporated areas of the County near these municipalities and along major corridors that connect these communities. Service also extends north from Seneca along S.C. Highway 130 near Lake Keowee, south from Seneca along S.C. Highway 59, east from Seneca along U.S. Highway 123, and north from Walhalla along S.C. Highway 11. Private authorities provide wastewater service to several of the County's larger residential developments including Chickasaw Point and Foxwood Hills on Lake Hartwell and Keowee Key on Lake Keowee.

Due to limited access to sewer service, residential development in much of Oconee County must rely on septic tanks. The use of septic systems for sewage disposal places additional limitations on residential development, impacting both location and lot sizes. State law, enforced by SCDHEC, requires that a parcel of land proposed for septic service be capable of allowing proper operation of the individual system, including a drain field. Suitability criteria are based on factors including soil type, parcel size, and slope.

Map 6-3 illustrates areas in the County with soils rated as "very limited" or "somewhat limited" under the Septic Tank Soil Absorption Field Ratings of the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). These ratings are used to guide site selection for safe disposal of household effluent based on soil properties that affect absorption of the effluent and impact construction and maintenance of the system. Public health impact is also a consideration. While the ratings provide general information on soil suitability for septic tanks, onsite evaluation by SCDHEC is required before development and construction. Also, the USDA ratings apply to the soils in their present condition and do not consider potential impacts on soil quality by current and future land uses.

More than two-thirds (67.3%), or 288,903 acres, of land for which detailed soil data is available in Oconee County has been rated as "very limited" for septic tank soil absorption. The soils in much of the Sumter National Forest are included in this soil rating, in large part due to the steeper slope of the land in the northwestern area of Oconee County. This rating indicates that the soil has one or more features that may be unfavorable for use as a septic system absorption field and could result in poor performance and high maintenance if not properly installed. An additional 30.2% of County soils (129,787 acres) are rated as "somewhat limited," indicating that the soils have features that are moderately favorable for use as a septic system absorption field, but does not limit the use of such systems in these areas.

5. Plant and Animal Habitats

Wildlife habitat is an interrelated and often complex combination of land and soil properties, food sources and vegetative cover, water, and other physical factors that contribute to the survival of a species. The number, quality and scope of animal and plant species are directly dependent on the quality and size of their habitat. In turn, habitats are affected directly by natural and man-made factors that include agricultural, residential, industrial, and commercial development, as well as fires and other natural disasters. Habitats declared critical to species identified as endangered or threatened are protected under Federal and State laws to safeguard and promote recovery of the species. Endangered species are those for which there is a danger of extinction throughout all or a significant portion of its range, while threatened species are those identified as likely to become endangered within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of its range.

Protective measures for endangered plant and animal species include the development of recovery plans, the acquisition of habitat, and protection from disturbance for listed species. The definition of protection from disturbance differs among endangered plant and animal species. No penalties are incurred if endangered plant species are harmed in the course of legal land management practices. However, the intentional or negligent taking of an endangered animal species or destruction of its critical habitat is subject to prosecution under the Endangered Species Act. Destruction of an endangered plant is subject to prosecution under the Act if the plant is on federal lands including private land under management practices that require federal permits, or if the destruction occurs during the course of another illegal act such as trespassing.

All states must maintain lists of rare, threatened and endangered species under the National Heritage program. Species can be included on state lists, while not appearing on the national list, due to declining species populations in certain regions. The South Carolina Heritage Trust program of the SCDNR has identified plant and animal species at risk in South Carolina. The rare, threatened and endangered species inventory for Oconee County includes 34 animal species and 118 plant species.

While a full and current list is available on the SCDNR website, a listing of the animal and plant species most at risk based on Federal and State designation is provided in Table 6-3.

6. Outdoor Recreation and Scenic Areas

Oconee County residents and visitors are fortunate to have access to numerous and diverse land and water opportunities for outdoor recreation. These resources include the Sumter National Forest, four State parks, three County parks, eight County boat ramps, nature and hiking trails, multiple camping areas, and some smaller parks and recreation facilities. Water resources include three major lakes, the Chattooga, Chauga and Tugaloo Rivers, and numerous waterfalls. Locations of the County’s major outdoor recreation resources are shown on Map 6-4.

Map 6-4. Major Outdoor Recreation Resources

a. Sumter National Forest

Located within the northwestern portion of Oconee County are almost 84,000 acres of the nearly 371,000 acre Sumter National Forest – one of only two national forests in South Carolina. The Forest was established in 1936 and is managed by the USDA Forest Service for multiple uses including watershed protection and improvement, timber and wood production, habitat for wildlife and fish species, wilderness area management, and recreation. The Andrew Pickens Ranger District in Oconee County is one of three ranger districts that comprise the Sumter National Forest. Management of the District emphasizes habitat restoration and enhancement for a diverse range of wildlife and plant species. Popular attractions in the District include hunting, fishing, hiking, fall color sightseeing, camping, horseback riding, and whitewater rafting and kayaking on the Wild and Scenic Chattooga River. The District includes numerous waterfalls and hiking trails. The Ellicott Rock Wilderness Area offers opportunities for off-trail hiking and primitive camping. Map 6-4 illustrates the extent of Sumter National Forest (SNF) lands in Oconee County, including lands owned by the USDA Forest Service.

b. State Parks

Devils Fork State Park is located on Lake Jocassee near S.C. Highway 11 (Map 6-4). The 644-acre park provides the only public access to the Lake, with four boat ramps and a courtesy dock. The Park also provides 20 lakeside villas, 59 campsites with water and electricity, 25 tent camping sites, two picnic shelters, two playgrounds, an indoor meeting room, a two-mile hiking trail, a one-mile nature trail, and a campground that is accessible only by boat. Devils Fork is located in the middle of the Jocassee Gorges and includes several waterfalls accessible only by boat. One of South Carolina's unique and rare wildflowers can be found blooming from mid-March to early April on the Oconee Bell Nature Trail in the Park.

Lake Hartwell State Park is located in the southern area of the County in the Fair Play community near Highway 11 (Map 6-4). The 680-acre park includes 14 miles of Lake Hartwell shoreline. The park provides two boat ramps, a courtesy dock, and a 140-foot fishing pier. Also provided are 115 campsites with water and electricity, 13 walk-in tent sites, two camper cabins, a 0.75-mile nature trail, two playgrounds, and a picnic shelter.

Oconee State Park is located in the Mountain Rest community near S.C. Highway 107 (Map 6-4). The 1,165-acre park was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s and is on the National Register of Historic Places. The park offers 139 standard campsites with water and electricity, 15 designated rustic tent sites, 19 historic cabins, four picnic shelters, three playgrounds, two lakes that can be used for fishing and boating, a swimming area with lifeguards, and an 18-hole miniature golf course. Oconee State Park includes six trails ranging from easy to strenuous in difficulty and serves as the southern trailhead for the Foothills Trail, the State's 77-mile wilderness hike on the Blue Ridge Escarpment.

The Oconee Station State Historic Site is located north of Walhalla near S.C. Highway 11 on Oconee Station Road. Originally used as a military compound, and later a trading post, the 210-acre Historic Site provides a unique representation of 18th and 19th century South Carolina. The site includes two buildings on the National Register of Historic Places - a stone blockhouse built in 1792 as an outpost for the S.C. State Militia and the William Richards House, built in 1805. The Site also includes a four-acre fishing pond, a 1.5-mile nature trail, the four-mile Oconee Connector trail that joins Oconee Station with Oconee State Park, and the 60-foot Station Cove Falls waterfall at the end of the nature trail.

c. County Parks and Recreation Facilities

There are 29 County and municipal outdoor park and recreation facilities encompassing nearly 572 acres in Oconee County. Eleven of the parks and facilities are owned and maintained by Oconee County, eight by the City of Seneca, seven by the City of Walhalla, five by the City of Westminster, and one by the Town of West Union. The new 14-acre Foothills YMCA located just outside of Seneca.

These resources highlight the abundance of natural resources in the County and accommodate a wide range of outdoor activities. Visitors to these parks enjoy access to hiking trails, boating, fishing, camping, and swimming. Active opportunities include a disc golf course, public pool, baseball, softball and soccer fields, and courts for basketball, tennis, pickleball, horseshoes, and volleyball. Major County parks, including the Stumphouse Tunnel/Issaqueena Falls Park, are described below and shown on Map 6-4. Additional parks and recreation resources in Oconee County are described in more detail in the Community Facilities Element.

Chau Ram County Park is located at the confluence of Ramsey Creek and the Chauga River, west of Westminster off of U.S. Highway 76. The 416-acre County Park offers 26 campsites with water and electricity, additional tent sites, five picnic shelters, a recreational building, a playground, and shower facilities. Main attractions of the Park include over a mile of the Chauga River, a handicap accessible 40-foot waterfall, a 160-foot suspension bridge spanning the River, and more than three miles of hiking trails. Guests enjoy tubing, hiking, fishing, picnicking, camping, and enjoying the Park's unique and spectacular vistas.

High Falls County Park is on Lake Keowee, located east of Walhalla off of S.C. Highway 183. The 46-acre County Park provides 91 campsites with water and electricity (10 waterfront), shower and restroom facilities, two shelters, a recreational building, miniature golf course, a tennis/basketball court, horseshoe and volleyball courts, picnic areas, and a playground. Two boat ramps, a swimming area, and a fishing pier offer access to Lake Keowee for water sports and fishing. Oconee County is working with Duke Energy on the possibility of utilizing what is currently referred to as the Keowee-Toxaway project as an addition to the High Falls County Park. The potential expansion, known as High Falls II, would add 36 acres and provide additional amenities for park visitors. A master plan for High Falls II has been completed in partnership with Duke Energy and is awaiting funding availability.

South Cove County Park is located on a peninsula of Lake Keowee just north of Seneca on South Cove Road. The location combines proximity to restaurants and other amenities in the City of Seneca with prime access to Lake Keowee and nearby Clemson University. The 48-acre County Park offers 86 campsites with water and electricity, including 46 waterfront sites, shower and restroom facilities. Also provided are four pickleball courts, three tennis courts, basketball and horseshoe courts, a playground, picnic areas, a recreational building and a shelter for gatherings. Three boat ramps, a handicapped accessible fishing pier and a waterfront sand beach provide access to Lake Keowee for boating and fishing.

Oconee County also maintains eight public boat ramps on Lake Hartwell (Map 6-4). The Fair Play, Mullins Ford and Lawrence Bridge Recreation Areas all provide a boat ramp, a courtesy dock, picnic areas, and restrooms. The Fair Play Recreation Area also provides a playground and swimming area. The Choestoea, Mountain Bay, Port Bass, Seneca Creek, and South Union boat access areas are leased to the County by the Corps of Engineers. The Mountain Bay access area also offers a courtesy dock. Upgrades are planned for the Seneca Creek facility that will include restrooms, a trail, bank fishing, picnic area, kayak launch, fishing pier, and a courtesy dock.

The City of Walhalla's 7.13-acre Stumphouse Tunnel/Issaqueena Falls Park is home to two unique features. The 1,617-foot Stumphouse Tunnel was started in 1852 to allow connection from Charleston to Knoxville. However, the Civil War and lack of funding brought construction to a halt before completion. Clemson University purchased the tunnel in 1951 and originally used it to cure their signature blue cheese. While the tunnel is still owned by the University, it is managed by the City of Walhalla. Down a short path from the tunnel is Issaqueena Falls, a 100-foot cascade waterfall that can be viewed from several points including a lookout platform. In addition to the tunnel and falls, the Park includes a hiking trail, picnic shelter, and picnic areas.

Oconee County is among several partners working closely with the City on development of the new Stumphouse Mountain Bike Park. The Park is a state-of-the-art facility with multi-purpose trails that will total more than 20 miles when completed. Phase one of the project opened the 1.5-mile Stumphouse Passage of the Palmetto Trail and 2.5 miles of loop trails that accommodate mountain biking and hiking. Phase two will add six additional miles when completed in late 2019. Phase three is in the planning stages and is expected to complete the trail over the next several years.

c. Lake and River Recreation Resources

There are many access points for residents and visitors to enjoy Oconee County's water resources. Major lake and river recreation resources are described below and shown on Map 6-4.

Lake Keowee covers 18,372 acres, with 387 miles of shoreline that includes access from Oconee County's High Falls and South Cove Parks. The Lake is managed by Duke Energy. There are nine public boat ramps on the Lake, including six in Oconee County. In addition to three marinas with pumpouts, there are several fishing access locations, including the pier and boat dock at the Duke World of Energy at Oconee Nuclear Station, piers at the two County parks, and Stamp Creek Access Pier (SCDNR, 2019).

Lake Hartwell is 56,000 acres in size, with a 962-mile shoreline that includes access from Lake Hartwell State Park in Oconee County. The Lake is managed by the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers. There are 45 boat ramps on Lake Hartwell, with 14 in Oconee County. Eight of the boat ramps are managed by the County. The Corp manages eight campgrounds on the Lake, with two in Oconee County. The Coneross Campground on Coneross Creek Road provides 106 camp sites, of which 94 have water and electricity. Also included are a boat ramp and courtesy dock, shower and restroom facilities, a playground, and a swimming beach. The Oconee Point Campground is located off of South Friendship Road and provides 70 campsites with water and electricity, shower and restroom facilities, boat ramp and courtesy dock, and a playground. Oconee County manages several areas for day use only (no camping allowed) including the Fair Play Recreation Area, Lawrence Bridge Recreation Area, and Mullins Ford Recreation Area. All recreation areas provide boat ramps, courtesy docks, restrooms, and picnic areas. The Fair Play recreation area also provides a swimming beach and playground.

Lake Jocassee is 7,565 acres in size, with 75 miles of mostly undeveloped shoreline that includes access from Devil's Fork State Park. The Lake is owned and managed by Duke Energy. Lake Jocassee is the deepest lake in the State, with a maximum depth of approximately 351 feet and an average depth of 157 feet. The mountain rivers that feed the Lake keep it cool and clear year-round, making it popular for fishing, diving, swimming, paddling, and other water sports. There are four boat ramps on the Lake, with two in the State Park. One of the State Park's campgrounds can only be accessed by boat.

The Chauga River is a 31.3-mile long tributary of the Tugaloo River that flows from the north in the western area of Oconee County before joining with Ramsey Creek in the Chau Ram County Park. The River includes Class IV rapids ideal for whitewater kayaking near the Cassidy Bridge but slows before flowing into Lake Hartwell to provide paddling opportunities. As a hatchery-supported trout stream, the Chauga is also a very popular fishing destination. Access to the River from Oconee County is available at the Cassidy Bridge access and parking area.

The Chattooga River has been protected since 1974 as a National Wild and Scenic River. Nearly 40 miles of the River have been designated as "wild," 2.5 miles as "scenic," and 14.6 miles as "recreational." Known as the "Crown Jewel" of the southeast, the Chattooga was the first river east of the Mississippi to be granted the Wild and Scenic designation and is still the only one where commercial rafting is allowed. The area surrounding the River is managed by the U.S. Forest Service. On commercially rafted sections (III and IV) there is a quarter-mile long protected corridor of the National Forest on both sides of the River that allows no roads to the river or development of any kind. The segment above the S.C. Highway 28 bridge is generally reserved for fishing for trout or redeye bass, while below the bridge is the 26-mile stretch of what is considered some of the best whitewater rafting available in the east, with class II, III, IV, and V rapids available. The number of trips and people per trip is strictly regulated to protect the River.

The Tugaloo River is a 45.9-mile long river that serves as a portion of the western border of Oconee County as part of the border between South Carolina and Georgia. The River is fed by the Tallulah and Chattooga Rivers and ends as an arm of Lake Hartwell. The River is popular for boating, sailing, fishing, and other water sports. Lake Yonah is a 525-acre lake on the Tugaloo River in the westernmost area of Oconee County, with over nine miles of shoreline. The Lake provides opportunities for paddling and other water sports and fishing, with access available at the Yonah Boat Ramp in Tallulah Falls, Georgia. Lake Tugaloo is a 597-acre lake with 18 miles of shoreline. The Lake is fed by the Tallulah and Chattooga Rivers and is known as the perfect place to paddle and fish. Access to Lake Tugaloo for Oconee County residents is available at the boat ramp on Bull Sluice Road in the Long Creek community.

d. Hiking Trails and Waterfalls

Oconee County is known as the “Golden Corner” of South Carolina because of its temperate climate, beautiful lakes and rivers, and the Blue Ridge Mountains. Adventurers, backpackers, hikers, photographers, campers, nature lovers, and families are drawn to the County’s natural and recreational resources. Chief among the draws for visitors and residents are the 193 miles of trails in Oconee County, ranging in size from small spurs of less than a mile to the 77-mile Foothills Trail. Many of these trails lead hikers to the County’s nearly 150 waterfalls, to the Wild and Scenic Chattooga River, and to County and State parks. Table 6-4 lists the trails in Oconee County and describes the waterfalls and other destinations accessed along these trails.

Of particular note are two larger trail systems that include passages within Oconee County. The 77-mile Foothills Trail extends from Oconee State Park to Table Rock State Park in Pickens County. The first 28 miles of the Trail from Oconee State Park to Upper Whitewater Falls was designated a National Recreation Trail in 1979. While numerous trailheads offer opportunities for day hikes, the full trek can take more than a week for backpackers who wish to hike the entire trail. Rated as “one of the best long trails (50 miles or more) in the Country” by Backpacker magazine, hiking difficulty on the Foothills Trail varies from moderate to strenuous. Primitive camping is allowed at various places along the trail and campsites are available at Burrell’s Ford Campground, Cherry Hill Recreation Area, and Oconee State Park in Oconee County and Table Rock State Park in Pickens County.

The Palmetto Trail is South Carolina’s longest pedestrian and bicycle trail, with 27 passages totaling 350 miles through 14 counties. Trails range from 1.3 miles to 47 miles in length. When completed, the route will extend 500 continuous miles from Oconee County to the Intracoastal Waterway. The trail was established in 1994 to provide free access to trails of all levels of difficulty and varying length. The entire Trail is open to hiking and backpacking, with designated passages available for mountain biking, horseback riding, and camping. One of only 16 cross-state trails in the United States, the Palmetto Trail is a federally designated Millennium Legacy Trail. Two passages of the Palmetto Trail are in Oconee County – the Oconee Passage that connects Oconee State Park to the Oconee Station State Historic Site, and the new Stumphouse Passage that is the first phase of the planned 20-mile Stumphouse Mountain Bike Park (Table 6-4).

e. Scenic Views and Sites

Beautiful vistas and scenic sites are so abundant in Oconee County that it is not feasible to list them all. Amazing views of pristine forests, dramatic gorges, pastoral lakes, rushing rivers, and picturesque waterfalls are available, whether by car along the scenic byways, by boat from the lakes and rivers, or on foot, horseback, or mountain bike via the area's many trails. Many of these sites are found in the Sumter National Forest and the State and County Parks, and have been described in the preceding sections of this Element. Other notable sites and views are summarized in the following paragraphs.

A series of steep sided gorges carrying eight major mountain streams down to the Piedmont have carved a generally uniform sloping face of an escarpment with dramatic elevation changes. These gorges together are known as the Jocassee Gorges. The Jocassee Gorges run parallel to the North Carolina border and climb 2,000 vertical feet in elevation in just one to two miles. In the creation of the gorges, the mountain streams produced a spectacular concentration of waterfalls, one of the primary reasons why National Geographic named the Jocassee Gorges region as a "Destination of a Lifetime" in a special edition highlighting "50 of the World's Last Great Places." The region has benefitted from major conservation and land preservation in recent decades that involved federal and state agencies, land trusts, conservations groups, and corporations.

Cooperative acquisition efforts between the S.C. Department of Natural Resources (SCDNR), Duke Energy, the Richard King Mellon Foundation, and the Conservation Fund have ensured the continued protection of the natural and recreational resources of the 43,500 Jocassee Gorges tract. SCDNR owns most of the Gorges, with activities governed by a management plan. The primary consideration in the plan is to maintain the natural character of the area, with the secondary objective of providing public recreation that is compatible with the area's natural character. Recreational activities accommodated in the Plan include hunting, fishing, horseback riding, and hiking. The Jocassee Gorges is largely wild and forested, with access limited to managed areas through gateways that include State Parks and other established locations for day use and overnight ventures. The management plan also recognizes that Jocassee Gorges provides tremendous opportunity for scientific study and education. The area is home to rare plant and animal species and has been the site of important wildlife and fisheries restoration projects.

The Jocassee Gorges is home to more than 60 species of rare and endangered plants. One of South Carolina's unique and rare plants is the Oconee Bell flower, a white and yellow blossom with red stem and red-tinged leaves found in only a few locations in the mountains of South Carolina, North Carolina, and Georgia. The flower grows in humid, rocky outcrops around rugged gorges and cool, shady woods along streams and waterfalls. Among the best places to see the Oconee Bell is along the Oconee Bell Trail in Devils Fork State Park. The plant blooms annually from mid-March to early April.

The Old Highway 123 Fishing Pier (Old Tugaloo River Bridge) is an historic truss bridge that once connected South Carolina to Georgia along U.S. Highway 123 over Lake Hartwell in the Madison community near Westminster. The bridge was replaced in the 1950s then disconnected and is now known as the “Broken Bridges.” The separate ends of the bridge now serve as peaceful and scenic fishing piers. The Pier is managed by the U.S. Corp of Engineers, with parking provided.

The Oscar B. Wigington Scenic Byway is only 20 miles long, but it leads to one of the most spectacular overlooks in the State. The Oscar Wigington Overlook offers stunning views of Lake Jocassee and the Blue Ridge Mountains. The Byway is lined on both sides by remote forestland and is especially beautiful during the fall color season and in early summer when the rhododendrons are blooming. Along the Byway are access roads to several waterfalls, the Walhalla Fish Hatchery, the Chattooga River, state and national forest campgrounds, and miles of hiking trails.

The Walhalla State Fish Hatchery (WSFH), located off of S.C. Highway 107 in the Sumter National Forest, was built by the Work Progress Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s. Originally managed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, management of the Fish Hatchery has since been transferred to the S.C. Department of Natural Resources. The WSFH is SCDNR’s only cold water fish hatchery, raising brown, brook, and rainbow trout to stock the State’s public waters, including those in Oconee County. Approximately 500,000 trout are produced and stocked annually by WSFH in support of recreational fishing. Very large trout are also kept at the hatchery on display for the public. Visitors are welcome to tour the hatchery, to fish in the East Fork of the Chattooga River that runs through the Hatchery grounds, and to picnic in designated areas.

7. Land Conservation

The preservation and conservation of Oconee County's abundant and unique land resources continues to be a high priority for County residents. While conservation and protection of much of the County's resources is carried out by Federal, State and local agencies, non-profit organizations continue to conserve and preserve land through outright purchase and conservation easements. A conservation easement is a voluntary contract between a landowner and a qualified land trust or public entity that allows the landowner to legally restrict certain land uses such as subdivisions, commercial or industrial operations, or mining from occurring on their property while allowing traditional rural uses such as farming, grazing, hunting, and timbering to continue. The easement is permanent and remains with the land after it has been sold or conveyed to heirs. There are a number of additional organizations that are working to conserve and preserve land in Oconee County including the S.C. Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism, the U.S. Forest Service, and county and municipal governments.

The mission of the South Carolina Conservation Bank is "to improve the quality of life in South Carolina through the conservation of significant natural resource lands, wetlands, historic properties, archeological sites, and urban parks." The Bank is considered one of the State's most important land protection tools and a key funding source for land conservation statewide. Since its inception in 2002, the Bank has protected nearly 250,000 acres in 42 counties. Funding for the Bank is provided by a portion of the real estate transfer fee. The Bank provides grants for woodlands/wetlands, farmlands, urban parks, and historical and archaeological sites through a competitive grant application process. Funding from the Bank has been used to conserve more than 5,000 acres in Oconee County, including farmland, tracts adjoining lakes, rivers and creeks. Other tracts adjoin Sumter National Forest, State Parks and Chau Ram County Park, as well as Stumphouse Mountain. The Oconee County Soil and Water Conservation District, Upstate Forever, and Naturaland Trust have been awarded grants to conserve these tracts.

The Heritage Trust Program of SCDNR has preserved and protected natural and cultural properties throughout the State since 1974. Heritage Trust staff work with related agencies to identify and document rare plants, animals, archaeological sites, and other significant features of South Carolina's heritage. This information is used to determine the locations that have the most conservation potential. One of the program goals is to permanently protect the best examples of these features through a system of heritage preserves. These preserves are managed to sustain or improve habitat for species that are already on the property, those that may return to the area, and species that may colonize the area following improvement. There are four Heritage Preserves in Oconee County, including the Brasstown Creek, Buzzard Roost, and Stumphouse Mountain Heritage Preserves/Wildlife Management Areas. SCDNR sets and regulates the methods of harvest, bag limits, and other hunting requirements in wildlife management areas. While the Sumter National Forest is owned by the U.S. Forest Service, it is managed in a cooperative partnership with SCDNR and is considered a Heritage Preserve.

The Oconee County Soil and Water Conservation District is “dedicated to the preservation and protection of the natural resources of Oconee County and all of South Carolina.” The District’s conservation easement program is designed to protect the County’s “precious resources and productive farmland.” Through the program, the Soil and Water Conservation District has secured 19 conservation easements that protect approximately 2,200 acres. The District is currently working to secure protections on an additional 450 acres.

The Oconee County Conservation Bank (OCCB) was established by the Oconee County Council in 2011 as an independent body whose mission is to leverage available funds to protect significant natural, cultural, and historic resources in the County (OCCB Press Release, 2012). The OCCB provides financial incentives to willing landowners of properties that meet specific criteria to convey either a conservation easement or fee simple title to eligible recipients. Oconee County Council must approve all projects. Through this process, the program seeks to simultaneously protect valuable natural resources and private property rights. The Board has protected three properties totaling 174.04 acres since 2011, through private donations from corporations, non-profits, and citizens.

A number of private conservation groups are also working towards protecting critical lands and water through the creation of voluntary conservation easements and other conservation and preservation work.

D. WATER RESOURCES

The quality and availability of water have played a key role in the development of Oconee County, and will continue to shape its future development. This influence is reflected in the County’s name, derived from the Cherokee word “Aconnee” that means “land beside the water.” Oconee County relies on both surface and ground water from local sources to accommodate residential, commercial, and industrial need.

1. Surface Water

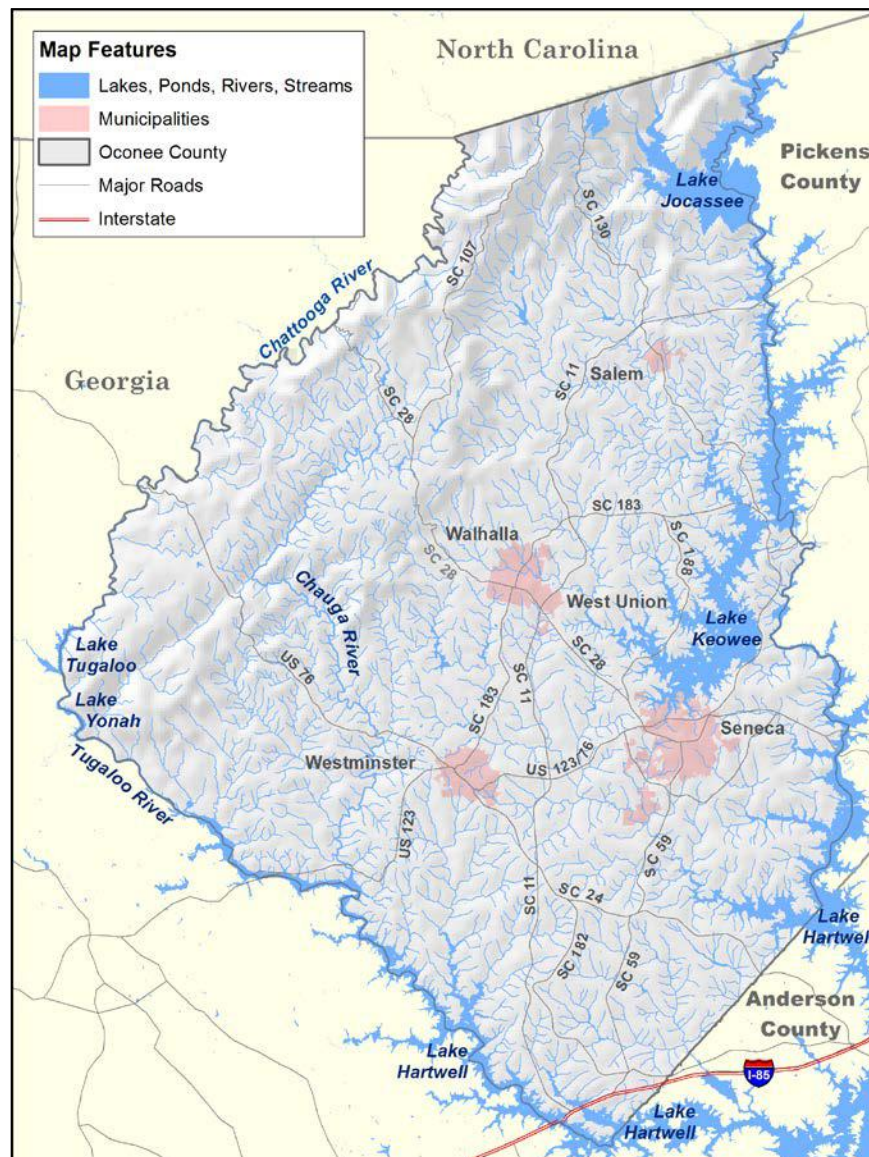

Oconee County has an abundance of surface water, generally sustained by ample rainfall, that includes several major water bodies as well as numerous rivers, creeks, ponds and streams. Surface water accounts for nearly all (99.2%) of the public water supply in Oconee County, with 4,099.88 million gallons withdrawn in 2016 (SCDHEC, 2016 Reported Water Use in South Carolina, 2017). An additional 45.9 million gallons of the County’s groundwater were withdrawn for irrigation use and 30.49 million gallons for golf course use. Map 6-5 illustrates the surface water resources in Oconee County.

At 56,000 acres, Lake Hartwell is the largest water body that extends into Oconee County. The Lake borders the County on the west, south, and east, and is fed by the Tugaloo and Seneca Rivers. The largest portion of the Lake is within Anderson County, with branches also reaching into Pickens County and three Georgia counties. The Lake was created between 1955 and 1963 when the USACOE dammed the Savannah River for the purposes of flood risk management, water quality, water supply, downstream navigation, hydropower production, fish and wildlife protection, and recreation (U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, 2019). Full pool elevation for Lake Hartwell is 660 feet above mean sea level, with a maximum depth of 185 feet and an average depth of 45 feet (SCDNR, 2019). The Lake and the Hartwell Power Plant are under the management of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The Corps' Shoreline Management Program for Lake Hartwell provides guidelines for general uses of the Lake's public lands, including the types of permitted private uses and activities such as the construction of boat docks and underbrushing.

Duke Power, now Duke Energy, developed the Keowee-Toxaway Hydroelectric Project to generate electricity. The project includes the Keowee Hydro and Jocassee Pumped Storage facilities. Duke Energy is the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) licensee for the Keowee-Toxaway Project that includes management of Lakes Keowee and Jocassee. Duke Energy's Shoreline Management Plan (SMP) was developed to assist in guiding responsible construction, shoreline stabilization, and excavation activities within the lake boundaries of both lakes. The goal of the SMP is to provide continued public and private access to the lakes while protecting their natural resource value.

Lake Keowee was formed in 1970 by the construction of dams across the Keowee River and the Little River, creating a reservoir with two distinct halves, connected by an excavated canal. Much of the 18,372-acre Lake is in Oconee County, with a northern portion also extending into Pickens County. In addition to providing hydroelectric power at the Keowee Hydro station, the Lake is a crucial source of water for cooling for the Oconee Nuclear Station. Full pool elevation at Lake Keowee is 800 feet above mean sea level (Duke Energy, 2019), with a maximum depth of 297 feet and average depth of 53 feet (SCDNR, 2019).

Lake Jocassee was created in 1973 with the construction of the Jocassee Dam and is the second lake developed as part of the Keowee-Toxaway Hydroelectric Project. Much of the 7,565-acre Lake is in the northeastern area of Oconee County, with a portion in Pickens County. A confluence of four rivers supplies Lake Jocassee - the Whitewater, Thompson, Horsepasture, and Toxaway Rivers. The Jocassee Hydro Station in the southeast corner of the Lake separates it from the beginning of Lake Keowee. When generating electricity, the Jocassee Pumped Storage Facility serves as a conventional hydroelectric station. However, the facility can also reverse its turbines and pump previously used water from Lake Keowee into Lake Jocassee. The Lake also serves as the lower reservoir for the Bad Creek Pumped Storage Facility. Full pool elevation for Lake Jocassee is 1,110 feet above mean sea level (Duke Energy, 2019). Average Lake depth is 157 feet, with a maximum depth of 351 feet (SCDNR, 2019).

Lake Tugaloo is a 597-acre lake that is fed by the Tallulah and Chattooga Rivers. The Lake was created in 1923 with the completion of the Tugaloo Dam and is the fifth lake in a six-lake series created by hydroelectric dams operated by Georgia Power that follows the original course of the Tallulah River. The Lake stretches along South Carolina's border with Georgia from the Chattooga River to its confluence with the Tallulah River and provides a portion of the western Oconee County border. The Lake is owned and operated by Georgia Power. Full pool elevation for Lake Tugaloo is 891.5 feet above mean sea level.

Lake Yonah is a 525-acre lake that was created in 1925 with the completion of the Yonah Dam and is the sixth and last lake in a series created by Georgia Power that follows the original course of the Tallulah River. Lake Yonah forms a portion of South Carolina's border with Georgia, as well as the western Oconee County border. The Tugaloo River flows through Lake Yonah and continues through Lake Hartwell before joining the Savannah River. The Lake is owned and operated by Georgia Power. Full pool elevation for Lake Yonah is 744.2 feet above mean sea level.

There are also a number of smaller lakes of various sizes throughout Oconee County. Smaller lakes include Lake Becky below Oconee State Park, Lake Chattooga near Mountain Rest, Lake Cheohee and Lake Cherokee in the northwest area of the County, Crystal Lake near S.C. Highway 28 above Stumphouse Tunnel, Lake Jemiki west of Walhalla, Mountain Rest Lake in Mountain Rest, and Whitewater Lake northwest of Salem. Many of these lakes include associated residential communities.

Numerous rivers contribute to surface water supplies including the Chattooga, Chauga, and Tugaloo. Several rivers and creeks of note are the Thompson River north of Lake Jocassee, Brasstown Creek that flows through the westernmost area of the County through the Sumter National Forest to the Tugaloo River, and Coneross Creek that begins near Stumphouse Tunnel and flows southeast to Lake Hartwell. Additional smaller rivers and streams include Whitewater River that flows into Lake Jocassee, Little River that begins above Salem and flows to Lake Keowee, Choestoea Creek that originates west of Westminster and flows to Lake Hartwell, Cheohee Creek west of Salem, Tamassee Creek in the Sumter National Forest west of Salem, and Station Creek that flows from the Sumter National Forest north of Walhalla.

2. Groundwater

Groundwater is a significant source of drinking water, particularly in rural areas, and an important source of water for manufacturing, irrigation, and power generation. Groundwater is also vital for maintaining aquatic ecosystems by recharging streams, lakes, and wetlands and sustaining surface water supplies during droughts. It is estimated that about 60% of the water in South Carolina streams originates as groundwater (S.C. Water Plan, 2004). However, groundwater accounts for only 2.2% of the public water supply in Oconee County, with an average of only 0.24 million gallons a day withdrawn in 2015 (USGS National Water Information System, Water Use Data for South Carolina, 2015).

Groundwater supplies are subject to seasonal variation and decline due to prolonged drought, but usually to a lesser degree than surface water supplies. Groundwater levels are lower during the summer due to increased pumping and reduced recharge, but usually recover during the winter and spring because of increased aquifer recharge and reduced pumping. Multi-year droughts lower aquifer levels by limiting the recharge that normally occurs during the wet winter and spring months.

SCDHEC, SCDNR, and the South Carolina Water Science Center (SCWSC) of the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) have cooperatively developed and are maintaining groundwater level monitoring networks within the major aquifers of the State. SCDNR routinely collects groundwater level data for 85 wells statewide. While SCDNR has no monitored wells in Oconee County (SCDNR, South Carolina Groundwater Data, 2019), the U.S. Geological Survey monitors the water level of a well located off of Station Creek southeast of Oconee State Park on a daily basis (USGS Groundwater Watch, 2019).

3. Public Water Supply

More than 10.8 million gallons of water are withdrawn in Oconee County each day by water suppliers. This water is conveyed for uses including domestic, commercial, industrial and to meet public need. Of the water withdrawn, 10.58 million gallons per day were drawn from surface water sources such as lakes, rivers, and streams and 0.24 million gallons per day from groundwater sources located beneath the earth’s surface (USGS National Water Information System, Water Use Data for South Carolina, 2015).

Water is provided to Oconee County residents by 21 community water systems (Table 6-5). Community water systems serve the same customers in residences or businesses year-round. Six of these systems are public systems that serve nearly 75,700 residents and 15 are private systems serving more than 8,100 residents.

Additional water systems serving Oconee County residents include one non-transient, non-community water system and 35 transient, non-community water systems (US EPA Envirofacts, SDWIS, 2019). Non-transient, non-community water systems provide water for uses that serve the same people, but not year-round, such as schools that have their own water systems. Transient, non-community water systems provide water for uses that do not consistently serve the same users year-round such as rest stops, campgrounds, and gas stations.

4. River Basins and Sub-basins

The precipitation that falls in South Carolina is drained by four major river systems – the Pee Dee, Santee, Ashley-Combahee-Edisto, and Savannah River Basins. The streams and rivers that drain each region are collectively called drainage basins. These basins generally traverse the State from the northwest to the southeast. The distribution of these systems is a key factor in the geographic disparity in water supply and demand that exists among regions.

Oconee County is located within the Savannah River Basin. The basin includes a small portion of North Carolina and all of the land in South Carolina and Georgia that drains to the Savannah River. In South Carolina, the Savannah River Basin is described in two sections – the Upper Savannah River Basin that includes Oconee County and the Lower Savannah River Basin. The Upper Savannah River Basin encompasses seven watersheds and 1,164 square miles (744.8 acres). There are approximately 1,341 stream miles and 43,677 acres of lake waters in the basin.

In Oconee County, the Savannah River Basin is further divided into the Tugaloo River and Seneca River sub-basins. The Tugaloo/Seneca River Basin is located in Oconee, Anderson, and Pickens Counties and encompasses 12 watersheds and 1,269 square miles, extending into Georgia and North Carolina. There are approximately 3,832 stream miles and 67,532 acres of lake waters in the two sub-basins. Map 6-6 depicts the sub-basins and watersheds in Oconee County.

A watershed is a geographic area into which the surrounding waters, precipitation, sediments, and dissolved materials drain and flow to a single outlet. Watershed resources include both groundwater and surface water, making watershed protection vital to preserving water quality. As water flows across or under a watershed on its way to a lake, river, or stream, it is exposed to potential contaminants in the form of stormwater runoff and other pollutants. Development of natural areas can adversely impact water quality through the replacement of vegetation and forests with impervious surfaces.

Oconee County is impacted by nine watersheds – five located in the Seneca River Sub-basin and four in the Tugaloo River Sub-basin (Map 6-6). The Chauga, Coneross, and Little River-Lake Keowee watersheds cover substantial areas within the County. Detailed watershed data including the impacted counties, primary water bodies, and coverage area is included in Table 6-6.

5. Water Quality

South Carolina's abundant water supply has been a key resource in the development and growth of the State's economy. The quantity of this water supply is integral to future community and regional development efforts, while the health and safety of residents depends on the quality of these resources. Although overall water quality is good in most parts of the State, increased urbanization and a growing population have contributed to rising levels of point source and non-point source pollution. Sustained growth will place greater demand on the water supply and make the protection of water resources a long-term priority.

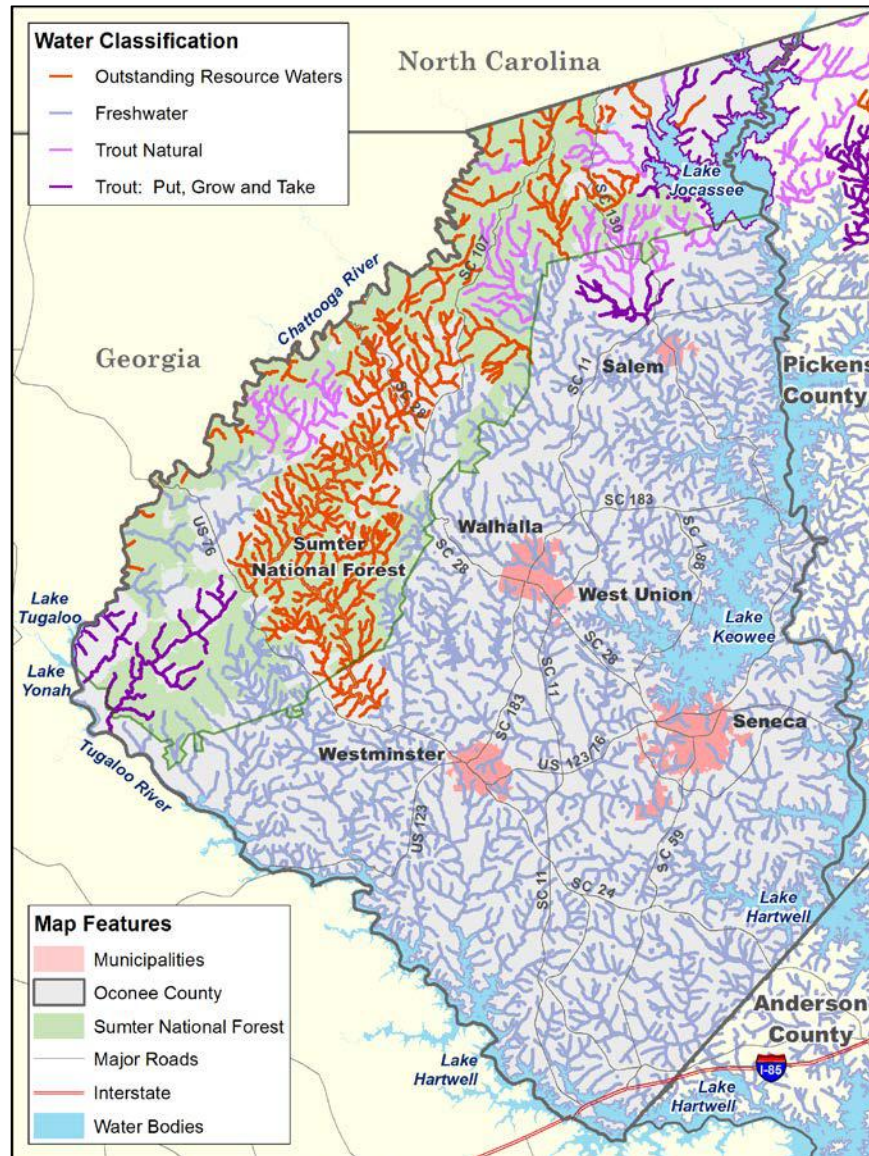

Section 208 of the Federal Clean Water Act, as passed in 1972 and amended in 1987, established criteria for a regionally integrated approach to addressing surface water quality protection. The State of South Carolina continues to use regional planning agencies throughout much of the State as a means of administering these requirements. In 1978, the Appalachian Council of Governments (ACOG) was designated as the water quality management planning agency for a six-county region that includes Cherokee, Greenville, Pickens, Oconee, and Anderson County. As the designated planning agency, the ACOG is responsible for updating and amending the Water Quality Management Plan (WQMP) that identifies policy priorities and recommendations for water quality management across the region. The most recent update of the Appalachian Regional Water Quality Plan was adopted by Council in 2011.

The SCDHEC Bureau of Water has developed a Watershed Water Quality Assessment for each major river basin in the State. Included in each assessment is an in-depth description of the watershed and its resources; an analysis of surface water quality, an analysis of groundwater quality; a listing of National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permits; the Nonpoint Source (NPS) pollution management, water quantity and usage, growth potential within each watershed related to wastewater needs; watershed protection and restoration strategies; and available state and citizen-based watershed stewardship programs. Updates to Watershed Water Quality Assessments for South Carolina river basins can be found online in the SCDHEC SC Watershed Atlas. While more complete assessments of local water quality are included in the SCDHEC data, pertinent findings for Oconee County water quality are summarized in this section.

Statewide standards have been established to protect the suitable uses indicated in each classification and to maintain and improve water quality. The standards determine permit limits for treated wastewater dischargers and any other activities that may impact water quality. As illustrated in Map 6-7, most waters in Oconee County are classified as Fresh Water by SCDHEC. Per SCDHEC Regulation 61-68 – Water Classification and Standards, fresh waters are suitable for primary and secondary contact recreation (swimming, water skiing, boating, and wading), for industrial and agricultural uses, and as sources of drinking water supply after conventional treatment. Fresh waters are also suitable for fishing and provide a suitable environment for the survival and propagation of a balanced aquatic community of flora and fauna.

Map 6-7. Water Classification in Oconee County

Source: SCDHEC, S.C. Watershed Atlas, 2019

Many of the waters in the Sumter National Forest, as well a portion of the Chauga River and some of its tributaries that extend beyond SNF, are classified as Outstanding Resource Waters. Outstanding Resource Waters are “of exceptional recreational or ecological importance or of unusual value.” Such waters may include, but are not limited to, “waters in national or state parks or wildlife refuges; waters supporting threatened or endangered species; waters under the National Wild and Scenic Rivers Act or South Carolina Scenic Rivers Act; waters known to be significant nursery areas for commercially important species or known to contain significant commercial or public shellfish resources; or waters used for or having significant value for scientific research and study.”

Some waters in the Sumter National Forest, as well as a few outside of the SNF just above Salem, are freshwaters that have also been recognized by SCDHEC as trout waters. Trout Natural waters are suitable for supporting reproducing trout populations. The waters are also suitable for primary and secondary contact recreation and fishing, as a source of drinking water supply after conventional treatment, and industrial and agricultural uses. The criteria for Trout: Put, Grow, and Take waters are similar to those of the Trout Natural Waters, however these waters are also suitable for supporting the growth of stocked trout populations.

a. NPDES Permitted Activities

As authorized by the Clean Water Act of 1972, the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permit program reduces water pollution by regulating point sources that discharge pollutants into waters. Point sources are discrete conveyances such as pipes or man-made ditches. Individual homes that are connected to a municipal system, use a septic system, or do not have a surface discharge are exempt from NPDES permitting. However, industrial, municipal, and other facilities must obtain permits to discharge directly into surface waters. Accordingly, discharges from wastewater treatment systems owned by governments, private utilities, and industries are required to obtain NPDES permits.

Wastewater facilities are monitored by SCDHEC regional offices of Environmental Quality Control for compliance with NPDES permits. SCDHEC issues permits for municipal facilities (municipal utilities), domestic facilities (private utilities), and industrial facilities (industrial pump and haul operations that generate non-hazardous process wastewater and domestic wastewater generated at industrial facilities). Table 6-7 lists permitted NPDES facilities in Oconee County, sorted by type of activity.

b. Water Quality Monitoring

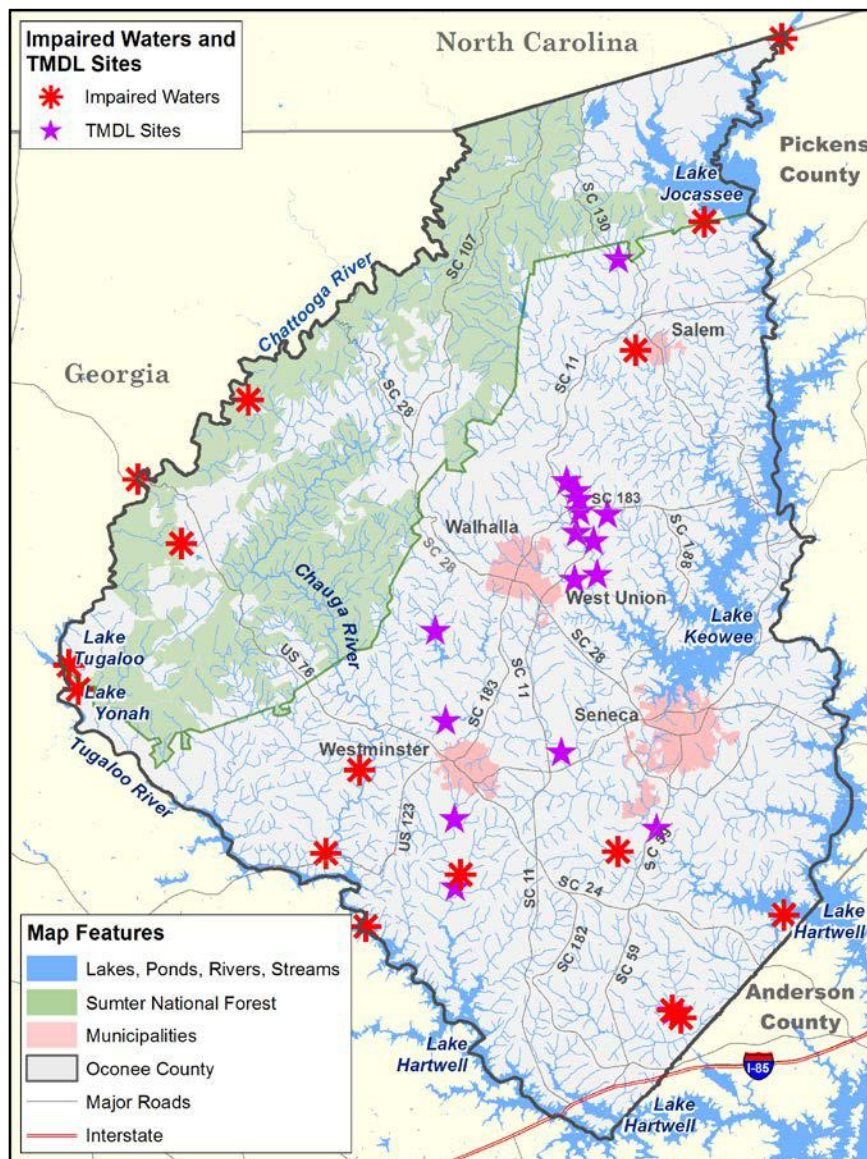

SCDHEC evaluates water quality through the collection of data from a statewide network of primary and secondary ambient monitoring stations supplemented by rotating watershed monitoring stations. Network data is used to determine long-term water quality trends and attainment of water quality standards, identify locations that warrant attention, and plan and evaluate stream classifications and standards. Data is also used to formulate permit limits for wastewater discharges in accordance with State and Federal water quality standards and the goals of the Clean Water Act. Assessments of water quality monitoring data for watersheds are regularly updated and published on the Department’s SC Watershed Atlas website.

SCDHEC prepares a bi-annual list of impaired waters in compliance with Section 303(d) of the U.S. EPA Clean Water Act. The list is based on a five-year data compilation from multiple water quality monitoring stations in major and secondary waterbodies in Oconee County, along with data gathered from other qualified sources. Impaired waterbodies appearing on the 303(d) list do not meet water quality standards. The most recent list in The State of South Carolina’s 2018 Integrated Report includes 16 locations in Oconee County (Map 6-8). Once a site is included in the 303(d) list of impaired waters, a Total Maximum Daily Load (TMDL) must be developed by SCDHEC and approved by the EPA. TMDL refers both to the amount of a single pollutant entering a waterbody on a daily basis and to an associated document and implementation plan with specific measures to improve water quality and attain water quality standards. TMDL implementation has the potential to reduce pollution sources within a watershed and restore full use of the waterbody. Sites covered under an approved TMDL are also shown in Map 6-8.

Map 6-8. Impaired Waters and TMDL Sites in Oconee County

c. Nonpoint Source Pollution

Nonpoint source (NPS) pollution is untraceable to a single origin or source. Such pollution includes fertilizers, herbicides and pesticides, animal waste, sediment, pathogens, household wastewater from failing septic systems, and contaminants such as street litter carried into water sources by urban runoff. Runoff occurring after a rain event transports pollutants to the nearest waterbody or storm drain where they can impact water quality in creeks, rivers, lakes, estuaries, and wetlands. NPS pollution can also impact groundwater when it seeps into aquifers. Adverse effects of NPS pollution include physical destruction of aquatic habitat, fish kills and closure of fishing areas, limitations on recreational use, reduced water supply, taste and odor problems in drinking water, and increased potential for flooding when waterbodies become choked with sediment.

To comply with the Federal Clean Water Act, the State of South Carolina manages several programs to reduce the impact of non-point source pollution. The State's Nonpoint Source Management Program provides a framework for addressing the major causes and sources of nonpoint source pollution. SCDHEC is the responsible agency for nonpoint source monitoring as part of its biannual assessment of the condition of the State's waters. Nonpoint sources monitored by SCDHEC include mining operations, livestock operations, agriculture, landfills, and land applications of effluent from wastewater treatment facilities. Multiple facilities are monitored under the SCDHEC Nonpoint Source Management Program within Oconee County watersheds. Up-to-date mapping and information for these facilities are found online in the SC Watershed Atlas.

SCDHEC also regulates stormwater activity in Oconee County. The County has adopted complimentary drainage and stormwater requirements that require review of proposed developments to ensure that all stormwater runoff is removed to perpetually maintained drainage systems, that stormwater drainage systems are separated from sanitary sewer systems, and that there are adequate provisions to protect properties.

Local and regional water quality management efforts recognize that the quality of the water supply is directly linked to development activities, demand, and land use practices within the watershed. When considering water quality in the comprehensive planning process, it is important to incorporate measures that protect valuable water resources from excessive runoff and discharge that may create unsafe levels of dangerous chemicals or bacteria. Attention to stormwater retention, percentage of impervious surfaces within developments, and industrial discharge are critical to ensuring water quality in Oconee County.

6. Lake and River Protection

A number of public and private entities are involved in shoreline and river corridor management in Oconee County.

a. Lake Keowee and Lake Jocassee Shoreline Management

Duke Energy is the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) licensee for the Keowee-Toxaway Hydroelectric Project that includes the Jocassee and Keowee development in Upstate South Carolina and Western North Carolina. FERC licensees must supervise and manage shoreline development to ensure consistency with project purposes, including protection and enhancement of scenic, recreational, cultural and other environmental values. Duke Energy developed a Shoreline Management Plan (SMP) to assist in guiding responsible construction, shoreline stabilization, and excavation activities within the boundaries of Lake Keowee and Lake Jocassee. The goal of the SMP is to provide continued public and private access to these reservoirs while protecting and enhancing their natural resource values.

Any occupancy or use of land and waters within the project boundaries of Lake Jocassee and Lake Keowee requires prior written authorization by Duke Energy's Lake Services department. The project boundary for Lake Keowee follows the 800-to-810-foot contour elevation around the Lake. The Lake Jocassee project boundary follows the 1,110-to-1,120-foot contour elevation around the Lake (FERC, Duke Energy License Renewal, 2016).

Duke Energy manages uses within the project boundary, including marinas, piers, residential access from lots adjacent to the Lake boundary, clearing or cutting trees or other vegetation, shoreline stabilization measures (rip-rap, seawalls), excavation, bridges, and line crossings. Miscellaneous uses such as fish attractors and water ski courses must also apply for a permit. A number of activities are not allowed within the project boundaries of the Lakes such as the planting of non-native species, septic tanks and fields, stormwater pipes, littering, washing and painting of watercraft (except with biodegradable detergents), any part of a permanent dwelling, swimming pools, camping, kennels and pens for pets, fences, and aquaculture operations.

Protection of the riparian zone, or vegetated area adjacent to the Lakes, is required by Duke Energy. The riparian zone provides critical habitat for fish and wildlife, helps reduce erosion of soils into the water, and serves as a filter for runoff of fertilizers and other chemicals. Removal of vegetation from the project boundary is allowed only by prior written authorization.

b. Keowee-Toxaway Habitat Enhancement Program

The Keowee-Toxaway Habitat Enhancement Program (KTHEP) provides funding to enhance, create, and protect fish and wildlife habitats within the watersheds and along Lake Keowee and Lake Jocassee. Established in accordance with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission license for the Keowee-Toxaway Hydro Project and as part of its Shoreline Management Plan, the program is a cooperative effort by Duke Energy and stakeholders including Oconee County, SCDNR, and the S.C. Wildlife Federation. KTHEP is funded through the Habitat Enhancement Fund with fees paid by property owners and developers who apply for lake use permits. Funds are awarded through a competitive grant application process to government agencies and nonprofit organizations, with awards typically ranging from $10,000 to $50,000. Recent recipients include Oconee County, the Friends of Lake Keowee Society, Keep Oconee Beautiful, Clemson University, SCDNR, and the Nature Conservancy of South Carolina. In 2019, KTHEP funding totaled more than $1.4 million (Duke Energy, Lake Services, April 2019). Since 2015, the program has provided more than $450,000 to support fish and avian habitat improvements. Recent awards include shoreline restoration projects in the South Cove County Park and on Lake Keowee, construction of walkways to reduce erosion and install native plants at Devils Fork State Park, an elementary school curriculum that focuses on protection of land and water resources, restoration of fire-dependent habitats in the Jocassee Gorges, habitat and stock enhancement for native fishes in a headwater tributary of Lake Keowee, and prescribed fire implementation in the Keowee and Jocassee watersheds.

b. Lake Hartwell Shoreline Management

The Lake Hartwell shoreline is managed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to promote safe and healthful use while maintaining environmental safeguards that will ensure a quality resource for future generations. The primary objective of the Hartwell Project Shoreline Management Program is the preservation of public access and use while maintaining a balance between permitted private uses and the long-term protection of lake resources. The prescribed boundary for Lake Hartwell shoreline is the 670-foot contour elevation. While the Corps maintains identifying markers for the boundary line, it is the responsibility of landowners to identify the boundary location on their specific property.

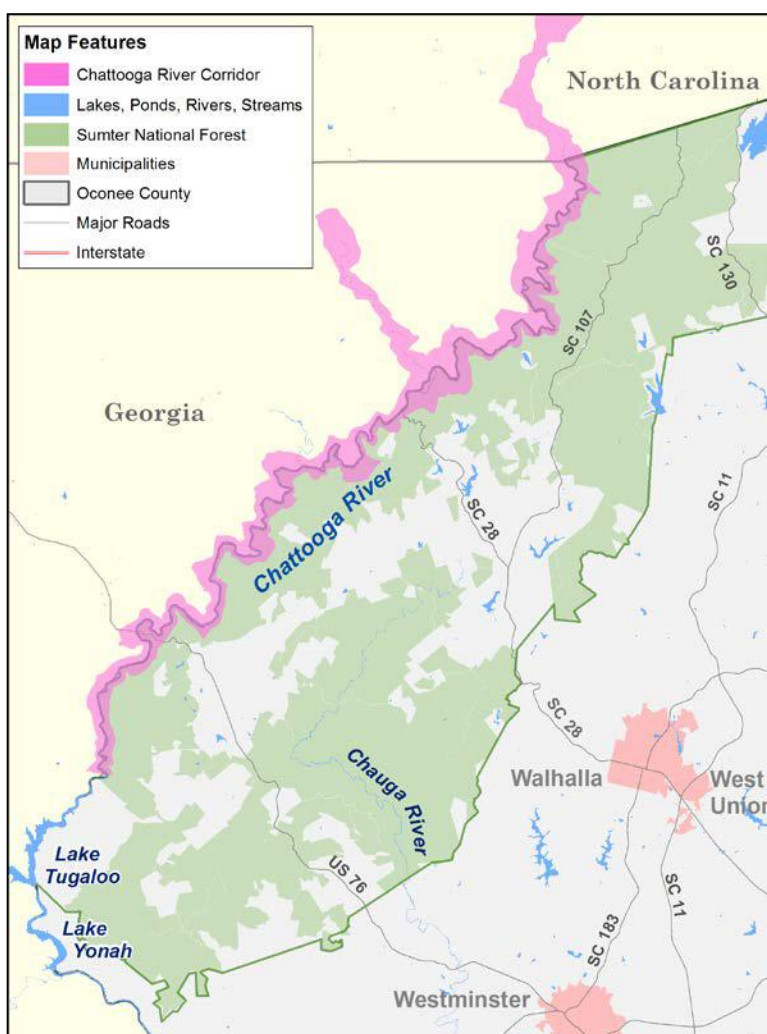

The SMP includes shoreline allocations that are intended to manage the type, number, and location of private facilities and activities on public land and water. Approximately 50% of the shoreline is in Limited Development Areas, which allow private docks and certain land-based activities. Approximately 26% of the shoreline is in Protected Shoreline Areas intended to reduce conflicts between public and private use and maintain aesthetics, fish and wildlife habitat, cultural, or other environmental values. Docks, improved walkways, and utility rights-of-way are generally prohibited in these areas. Approximately 24% of the shoreline is in Public Recreation Areas that are designated for Federal, State, and other public use, including commercial concessions. No private use facilities or activities are allowed in these areas. Less than one percent of the shoreline is in Prohibited Access Areas, where public boating, pedestrian access, and private use facilities and activities are either not allowed or restricted for safety and security reasons.

Shoreline use permits/licenses, also known as consolidated permits, must be obtained before the installation or use of any facility or the implementation of any action on project land or water. Permits can be considered for boat docks, underbrushing, utility rights-of-way, improved walkways, and bank stabilization. Shoreline use permits/licenses are issued for a five-year term and do not convey if the property is sold or transferred to a new owner. The construction of new roads, ramps, turnarounds, land-based boathouses, marine ways, fixed gangwalks, pump houses, picnic shelters, and patios within the Lake boundary is prohibited, though repairs may be made on existing facilities. The Corps also maintains a list of approved plants that may be used within the Lake boundary area.

c. Chattooga River Land and Resource Management

Designated as one of the Nation’s first Wild and Scenic Rivers in 1974, the 57-mile Chattooga River is one of the longest free-flowing rivers in the southeast. The River is bordered by three National Forests – the Sumter National Forest in South Carolina, the Nantahala in North Carolina, and the Chattahoochee-Oconee in Georgia. The U.S. Forest Service is responsible for the management of the 15,432-acre Chattooga Wild and Scenic River Corridor, of which 4,544 acres are in South Carolina (Map 6-9). Sumter National Forest is the lead authority for all boating and floating use of the main channel on the Chattooga River from Burrel’s Ford to Lake Tugaloo, as well as the West Fork.

Map 6-9. Chattooga River Corridor

Source: USDA National Forest Service, FSGeodata Clearinghouse, 2019

The Revised Land and Resource Management Plan for Sumter National Forest includes a number of standards for the Chattooga River Corridor that provide direction for on-river and in-corridor recreation capacity and address water quality issues within the watershed. The Plan does not allow motorized watercraft on the River or floating upstream of S.C. Highway 28. Trip size (persons and watercraft) and frequency is also regulated. Only three companies are commercially licensed by the U.S. Forest Service to operate on the two more difficult and dangerous sections of the Chattooga River.

Access to the 3,290 acres of the Chattooga designated as Wild in South Carolina is limited to non-motorized trails. This is considered to be the most primitive and remote segment, with restrictions that protect and preserve the natural environment and processes from human influences. While the 224 acres of the River in South Carolina designated as Scenic are slightly more developed than the Wild segments, the River's shorelines are undeveloped with limited road or bridge crossings, parking areas, and trailheads. A range of recreational opportunities that complement the natural setting are provided in the 1,030 acres along the River designated as Recreational. The River is readily accessible by road in these areas with parking areas, signage, restrooms, boat launches, fishing platforms, and picnic sites. Camping is permitted at any location within the Chattooga River Corridor that is at least 50 feet from the River or any stream or trail and at least one-quarter mile from any road. Several designated campsites with fire rings are located at sites along the Chattooga Trail.

d. Oconee County Lake Overlay District

Oconee County created a Lake Overlay District as an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance in 2012 to protect water quality, maintain natural beauty, and limit secondary impacts of new development on residents living near lakeshores. The Overlay is also intended to ensure the enjoyment of the Lakes by all residents. Lake Overlay District boundaries are applied to Lake Jocassee and Lake Keowee as shown in Map 6-10. Measurements for lake boundaries used in conjunction with the Overlay District are based on full pond levels of 800 feet above mean sea level on Lake Keowee and 1,110 feet above mean sea level on Lake Jocassee.

A natural vegetative buffer of 25 feet from full pond level is required from the lakeshore. Within the buffer, no trees larger than six-inch caliber can be removed unless certified to be a hazard, and new manicured lawns or managed spaces cannot be established. A view lane of no more than 15% of the natural buffer area is allowed and trees may be limbed up to 50% of their height. No development activity or soil disturbance can occur in buffer areas, with buffer protection required during construction or development. The preservation of existing natural vegetation is encouraged. The Lake Overlay District prohibits a net density of greater than two dwelling units per acre in both single-family and multi-family development, and building height for structures must be no greater than 65 feet above finished grade. Marinas and commercial boat storage cannot be located within a mile radius of an existing subdivision. Proposed non-residential projects must be reviewed as a Special Exception by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

7. Wetlands

Wetlands are among the most productive ecosystems in the world, comparable to rain forests and coral reefs, with profound ecological, aesthetic, and economic value. Wetlands provide a natural filtration system for sediment and pollution, while serving as critical habitat for numerous species. Socio-economic benefits of wetlands include flood protection, erosion control, groundwater recharge, pollution abatement, sediment filtering, and the provision of a variety of harvestable natural products. There are also recreational values in wetlands for boating, fishing, hunting, and nature watching.

Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. All Oconee County wetlands are classified as freshwater. Freshwater wetlands are areas that are inundated or saturated by surface or groundwater at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Freshwater wetlands store excess stormwater, mitigating the impact of flooding, purifying water by holding and breaking down pollutants, and trapping silt and soil to reduce clogging of nearby streams. Some wetlands store water in the rainy season and release the water later into nearby aquifers or underground streams, recharging the groundwater that supplies many South Carolinians with drinking water.

Map 6-11. Wetlands in Oconee County

Source: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Wetlands Inventory, 2019

Wetlands are susceptible to naturally occurring changes and the negative human impacts of urban development. Development activities such as pond construction, filling, draining of lands for farming, and pollution have resulted in wetland loss or degradation. The loss of wetlands, especially through filling, increases runoff and impairs beneficial functions of flood control, groundwater recharge, and water quality improvement. Total wetlands acreage in South Carolina has declined by at least one-quarter since the late 1700s, primarily as a result of human activities (USGS National Water Summary on Wetlands Resources, 2016).

Freshwater, forested wetlands now comprise approximately 80% of the State's wetlands. National Wetlands Inventory (NWI) data indicates the presence of wetlands in the vicinity of creeks and streams throughout Oconee County (Map 6-11). Factors considered in wetlands designation include the presence of hydric soils, hydrophytic vegetation, and hydrological conditions that involve a temporary or permanent source of water that can cause soil saturation. However, NWI data is generated on a large scale, necessitating that the exact location of any wetlands be determined on a parcel-by-parcel basis.

E. NATURAL HAZARDS

Natural hazards endanger the health and safety of community residents, jeopardize economic vitality and imperil environmental quality. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) encourages local governments to initiate mitigation actions to reduce or eliminate the risks to humans and property from natural hazards. The Anderson and Oconee Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan was most recently updated and adopted in August 2018. The Plan identifies the hazards that threaten the two counties and provides estimates of the relative risks posed to each community by these hazards. This is supported by a set of goals, objectives, strategies, and actions that guide mitigation activities, with a detailed plan for implementation and monitoring.

While Oconee County is vulnerable to a number of natural hazards, it ranks 14th lowest among the State's 46 counties in terms of both the number of past natural hazards and future probability of natural hazards (South Carolina Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). The Plan identifies winter storms as the top hazard faced by Oconee County in recent decades, followed by lightning and severe storms, tornados and high winds, floods, drought and heat wave, hail, and thunderstorms.

1. Winter Storms

Winter storms include snow, sleet, ice, and cold temperatures, and can range from moderate precipitation lasting only a few hours to blizzard conditions. Many winter storms are accompanied by low temperatures, some resulting in temperatures below freezing. Agricultural production can be seriously impacted when temperatures remain below the freezing point for an extended period of time.

These storms are often accompanied by sleet and freezing rain. Ice storms occur when freezing rain falls and freezes immediately upon impact forming a glaze of ice. Even small accumulations of ice cause a significant hazard, especially on sidewalks and roads, power lines, and trees, that can disrupt transportation, communications, and power for days. A winter weather event is considered notable when it causes $50,000 or more in combined property and crop damages.

The County's Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan reports a 50% probability of one or more winter weather events in any one-year time frame, resulting in a moderate level of vulnerability for these storms. The Plan lists 28 notable winter storm events that impacted Oconee County from 1960 through 2015, with the costliest events in terms of property damage occurring in 1973 and 1979. The NOAA Storm Events Database also reports two winter storms in 2016 and two in 2017. Past events indicate that winter storms can cause significant property damage and disruption of daily life and commercial operations.

2. Severe Thunderstorms with Lightning and Hail

A thunderstorm is a rainstorm event that is classified as severe when at least one of the following occurs: wind speeds exceed 58 miles per hour, tornadoes develop, or hail exceeds 0.75 inches in diameter (S.C. Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). Accompanying lightning can cause injury and death, as well as structural and equipment damage.

Oconee County has a moderate level of vulnerability to lightning and severe thunderstorms, with a 41.8% probability of occurrence of these events within any one-year time frame (Anderson and Oconee County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). There were 23 notable lightning severe storms/thunderstorms (causing $50,000 or more in damage) recorded in Oconee County from 1960 through 2015. These storms caused more than $8.2 million in property damage and $2 million in crop damage, cumulatively. Since 2015 there was one recorded lightning event that caused damage - in Westminster in 2017 (NOAA Storm Events Database, February 2019).

One of the three criteria of a severe thunderstorm is that it includes hail larger than 0.75 inches in diameter. Because of its association with severe storms, hail can occur year-round and in any location. While hail can be very small, it can also be as large as a grapefruit or softball and capable of damaging property and injuring or killing animals and people (S.C. Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). The County's Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan predicts a 12.7% probability that more than one hail producing storm will occur in the County in a one-year time frame.

There were seven notable hail storms/thunderstorms (with $50,000 or more in damage) reported from 1960 through 2015 in Oconee County. These storms caused $1.06 million in property damage and more than $480,000 in crop damage. The largest recorded hail size in Oconee County was three inches in April 2002 (Anderson and Oconee County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). This hail and thunderstorm event was also the costliest to date in Oconee County, resulting in $658,747 in property damage. Hail two inches in size was reported in Oconee County in June 2014. Fourteen additional hail events have been reported in Oconee from 2016 to the present (NOAA Storm Events Database, February 2019).

3. Tornados and High Winds

Tornadoes are violent windstorms characterized by a twisting, funnel shaped cloud that extends to the ground. They are often generated by thunderstorm activity, but are also associated with hurricanes and tropical storms. Tornadoes are more likely to occur during the spring and early summer months of March through May. They are most likely to form in the late afternoon and early evening. Although most tornadoes are a few dozen yards wide and touch down briefly, some can carve a path more than a mile wide and several miles long.

The National Weather Service reports that tornado wind speeds range from 40 miles per hour to more than 300 miles per hour. While tornado damage is generally the result of high winds and wind-blown debris, tornadoes are often accompanied by potentially damaging lightning or large hail. The destruction caused by tornadoes depends on the intensity, size, and duration of the storm. The most significant damage is typically to structures of light construction such as manufactured homes, with generally localized impacts.

Eighteen notable tornadoes (with $50,000 or more in damage) were reported in Oconee County from 1960 through 2015, resulting in more than $7 million in property damage, $5.1 in crop damage, 15 injuries, and one death (Anderson and Oconee County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018). NOAA data indicates no recorded tornadoes since 2015 in the County. The strongest tornado to impact Oconee County to date was on March 27, 1994 when an F3 tornado touched down in the Long Creek area, causing 12 injuries, $4.8 million in property damage, and nearly $4 million in crop damage. The most recent tornado event was reported on October 10, 2014, when an EF0 tornado briefly touched down near Westminster, with damage limited to a number of uprooted trees (NOAA Storm Events Database, February 2019). A high wind event was recorded on September 11, 2017 when prolonged winds gusting up to 50 mph associated with Tropical Storm Irma moved through the County, causing downed trees and power lines and multi-day power outages.

The probability of one or more tornadoes touching down in Oconee County in any given year is 14.5% and the probability for one or more high wind events is 18%. The County's Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan notes that, although this is a relatively low level vulnerability to these events, the data shows that tornadoes and high wind events have the potential to do significant damage in the County.

4. Flooding

Floods are broadly classified as either general floods that are usually long-term events or flash floods caused by locally heavy rains in areas where water runs off quickly, moving at very high speeds. While flooding can occur almost anywhere given atmospheric conditions or lack of proper maintenance to flood control and drainage systems, flooding typically occurs in floodplains. Floodplains are areas that consist of a stream or river (floodway) and the adjacent areas that have been or can be covered by water (floodway fringe). Floodplains perform a critical function by temporarily storing and carrying floodwaters, reducing potential flood peaks, recharging groundwater supplies, and providing plant and animal habitats. Development within a floodplain expands the floodplain boundary and increases the volume of runoff, making more areas and properties susceptible to flooding. Local development review processes should ensure that new construction and activity will not increase flooding on adjacent and nearby properties.

Congress created the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) with passage of the National Flood Insurance Act in 1968. The Act called for identification and publication of all floodplain areas that have special flood hazards and the establishment of flood-risk zones in all such areas. Flood Insurance Rate Maps (FIRM) are prepared and updated by FEMA to delineate the boundaries of each community's special flood hazard areas using available data or other approximation methods. FIRMs denote the portion of the floodplain that is subject to inundation by the base flood and flood-related erosion hazards. The maps are intended to assist communities in managing floodplain development and to assist insurance agencies and property owners in identifying areas where the purchase of flood insurance is advisable.

The goal of the NFIP is to reduce the impact of flooding on private and public structures by providing affordable insurance for property owners. Recognizing that local planning is a crucial tool for minimizing future flood damage, the program encourages communities to adopt and enforce floodplain management regulations to mitigate the effects of flooding on new and improved structures. The ability to determine and supervise the use of land within their jurisdictions makes local governments the frontline agent of comprehensive floodplain management. The primary requirement for community participation in the NFIP is the adoption and enforcement of floodplain management regulations that meet the minimum NFIP regulatory standards. The impetus for obtaining financial and technical assistance from the state and federal levels also originates with the local community. Managing development can reduce losses by avoiding encroachment into flood-prone areas, protecting floodplain resources, and building with flood-resistant measures.

Floodplain management minimizes the potential for flood damages to new construction and avoids aggravating existing flood hazard conditions that could increase potential flood damage to existing structures. NFIP regulations require that the lowest floor of all new construction and substantial improvements of existing residential structures be elevated to or above the Base Flood Elevation (BFE) to protect structures in flood-prone areas. Figure 6-1 illustrates the various aspects of a 100-year floodplain.

Oconee County is bordered on all but its northernmost border by rivers and lakes. While these water bodies and their tributaries are the primary drainage outlets for water flowing into and through the County, they can overflow when inundated by heavy rains, causing flooding in low lying areas. Based on data provided in the Anderson and Oconee County Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan, Oconee County has a low level of vulnerability to notable flooding events, with an 18% probability of such an event in any year. However, the Plan notes that the southeastern area of the County has a high potential for flash flooding.

The Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan lists 13 notable flood events that caused $50,000 or more in combined property and crop damages in Oconee County from 1960 through 2015. These events caused nearly $7.89 million in property damage and $452,522 in crop damage. The most recent notable flood event was recorded in September 2004, when widespread flooding of creeks and streams resulted in more than $1.6 million in property damage. The only flood event listed in the NOAA Storm Events Database since 2015 occurred in 2018 in the northern area of the County, resulting in $300,000 in property damage.

Flood hazard areas identified on FIRMs are denoted as Special Flood Hazard Areas (SFHA). The SFHA is an area that will be inundated by flood events having a 1% chance of being equaled or exceeded in any given year – also known as the base flood or 100-year flood. Considered as high risk areas for flooding, SFHAs are denoted on Oconee County FIRMs as Zone A and Zone AE. These areas are found along the shores of Lakes Hartwell, Keowee, and Jocassee; along the Chattooga, Chauga, and Tugaloo Rivers; and along other creeks and tributaries.

Moderate risk flood hazard areas are those between the limits of the base flood and the 0.2% annual chance of being equaled or exceeded in any given year – also known as a 500-year flood. The only area with this designation on the FIRM is found along a Coneross Creek tributary that generally flows from just south of North 1st Street to Cross Creek Drive in Seneca. This hazard area totals less than 13 acres. All other areas outside of the SFHA and higher than the elevation of the 0.2% annual chance of flood are considered to have minimal chance of flood hazard and are denoted on the Oconee County FIRMs as Zone X.

Regulatory floodways are also delineated on FIRMs. A floodway consists of a channel of a river or other watercourse and the adjacent land areas that must be reserved to discharge the base flood without cumulatively increasing the water surface elevation over a designated height. Communities are required to regulate development in these floodways to ensure that there are no increases in upstream flood elevations. As with the 500-year flood zone, the only area in the County with this FIRM designation is located along the Coneross Creek tributary in Seneca and totals less than 25.38 acres.

Oconee County is a participant in the Federal Flood Insurance Program and adopted a Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance in 2009. The Ordinance applies to all areas of special flood hazard as identified by the FEMA maps for Oconee County. The Oconee County Floodplains Manager is responsible for implementing the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance in the unincorporated area of the County. No structure may be located, extended, converted, structurally altered, or developed in the County without full compliance with the regulations. The Cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster have all adopted flood ordinances and administer and enforce those regulations.

Specific flood zone determinations must be made by the Oconee County Floodplains Manager in consultation with FEMA map data. The Manager reviews all development permits to determine if a proposed development is located within a Special Flood Hazard Area. A floodplain development permit is required for all developments identified as within, or including, a SFHA. Such development is required to meet all elevation and flood proofing requirements. For new construction, the lowest floor must be elevated at least three feet above the base flood elevation, with no basements permitted. Non-residential construction in SFHA Zone A may be flood proofed in lieu of elevation provided specific requirements are met, as certified by a professional engineer or architect. Variances may be considered for the wet-proofing of agricultural structures. No fill, new construction, substantial improvements or additions, manufactured homes outside of existing manufactured home parks or subdivisions, or other developments are allowed within designated floodways.

5. Drought and Heat Wave

Drought is caused by a lack of precipitation over an extended period of time, often resulting in water shortages. Unlike other environmental hazards, droughts develop slowly over a period of weeks, months, or years. Periodic droughts are documented throughout South Carolina's climate history, with every decade since 1900 including three or more years of below normal rainfall (SCDNR, 2016). Recent droughts have impacted agriculture, forestry, tourism, power generation, public water supplies, fisheries, and ecosystems. Drought conditions can also impact water and air quality and contribute to public health and safety risks (S.C. Hazard Mitigation Plan, 2018).

There were eight notable drought or heat wave events (with $50,000 or more in damage) recorded in Oconee County from 1960 through 2015, causing a collective $9.65 million in property damage and $16.6 million in crop damage. The 1993 drought and associated heat wave hit at the height of the growing season in May and June, costing $11 million of crop damage in Oconee County. Property damage associated with the 1993 drought reached $9.4 million.

In 2015, all South Carolina counties were in an incipient or moderate drought. By 2016, lack of rainfall caused the State's westernmost counties including Anderson, Pickens, and Oconee to be declared in severe drought status – just one step below the highest designation of extreme drought. Lake Hartwell was down to eight feet below normal level, Lake Jocassee was down 10 feet, and Lake Keowee was down four feet (Greenville News, 2016). The drought status of the three counties was finally downgraded to normal in June 2017 (SCETV, 2017). The extended period of abnormally dry weather brought rain deficits of 15 to 20 inches that significantly impacted agricultural production and prompted voluntary water restrictions in most communities (NOAA Storm Events Database, 2019). As of February 2019, all counties in the State were back to normal drought-free status (S.C. State Climatology Office, 2019). Despite this recent experience with a lengthy and costly drought, the County's Natural Hazard Mitigation Plan reports a relatively low 14% probability that the region will suffer a notable drought within a one-year time frame.

Chapter 7. Community Facilities Element

The most basic and essential services are provided through community facilities. Collectively known as community infrastructure, these facilities include the buildings, facilities, lands and services that support the public health, safety and welfare of Oconee County residents. These assets help shape daily living and work environments, provide the physical framework for the attraction of new businesses and employment opportunities, and provide a foundation for new growth and development. While many community facilities are provided or administered by the local government, others are offered by utilities, hospitals, school systems, and nonprofits.

The Community Facilities Element provides an inventory and assessment of the facilities and services available in Oconee County and its municipalities. The Element profiles community functions including: local government, water and sewer service, utilities, solid waste collection, fire and emergency medical services, police, education, health care, recreation, and libraries.

A. LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Governmental facilities house activities, persons, and records used in government operations - whether local, county, state or federal. The need for new or expanded public facilities is directly related to the growth of a community, since the addition of more people, more homes, and additional businesses and industries prompt the need for new and expanded governmental services. In some cases, increased services can be accommodated using existing space. However, in many cases, a substantial increase in the level and scope of services requires additional operational space or access points.

1. Oconee County

Oconee County was created in 1868 from the western half of Pickens Township. It is the only county in the State that borders on two other states – Georgia and North Carolina. The County is governed under a council-administrator form of government, with a five-member council elected by district. The County Administrator is appointed by the Oconee County Council. Management of the County is carried out through a number of departments, each headed by elected or appointed officials. Oconee County employs 497 full-time staff and 24 part-time employees.

Oconee County owns and maintains public properties throughout the County. The locations of major facilities owned by Oconee County are listed in Table 7-1.

2. Oconee County Municipalities

There are five municipalities in Oconee County, including the cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster, and the Towns of Salem and West Union. The City of Walhalla is the second largest municipality in terms of size and population and is the county seat of Oconee County. The City operates under the council/administrator form of government in which the City Council acts as the governing body, while the City Administrator is responsible for the day-to-day municipal operations. The Council is comprised of six members and the Mayor, all elected at-large.

The City of Seneca is Oconee County's largest municipality in both size and population. The City operates under the mayor/council form of government in which the Mayor has administrative powers, but the legislative function rests with the Council as a body. The City Council is comprised of eight members and the Mayor, all elected at-large.

The City of Westminster is the County's third largest City, only slightly smaller than Walhalla in area but with 1,780 fewer residents than the County seat. The City is governed by a council/administrator form of government, with the Mayor and six council members elected at-large.

The Town of West Union is the County's smallest municipality at less than one square mile in size, but is larger in population than the Town of Salem. The Town is governed by a mayor/council form of government, with the Mayor and three council members elected at-large.

The Town of Salem is the smallest in terms of population, but slightly larger in land area than West Union, although still less than one square mile in size. Salem is governed by a council/administrator form of government, with the Mayor and three council members elected at-large.

3. County Boards and Commissions

All jurisdictions in South Carolina that regulate land use, including Oconee County, must have a planning commission and a board of zoning appeals. Members of both bodies are appointed by the governing body (county, city, or town council) of the jurisdiction covered.

The duty of the planning commission is to develop and carry out a planning program for the physical, social, and economic growth, development and redevelopment of the community. The planning commission directs the development and update of the comprehensive plan and advises the governing body on the adoption of the plan. It also directs the preparation and update of land use regulations, including the zoning ordinance and land development regulations, and provides recommendations on the adoption of such regulations to the governing body. The Oconee County Planning Commission is comprised of seven members appointed by County Council.

The role of the Oconee County Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) is quasi-judicial and includes considering appeals to determinations made by the Zoning Administrator and special exceptions. The Board also conducts hearings and rulings on variance applications from the requirements of the Zoning Ordinance. The Oconee County BZA includes seven members who are appointed by County Council.

B. UTILITIES

Like all communities, the vitality, growth and development pattern of Oconee County depends on a reliable and accessible network of public and private utilities and infrastructure. Utilities include the provision of water, wastewater disposal, solid waste disposal, and electricity. Not only are these services essential for individuals, they are also vital to businesses and service providers and impact the long-term growth and development potential of the County and its municipalities. The availability of water and sewer is a factor in the suitability of an area for future development. Ready access effects the location and affordability of residential development and is a key factor weighed by business and industry in site selection.

1. Water Service, Treatment and Distribution

Access to water service plays an important role in the development pattern of a community. Residential development outside of water service areas must utilize wells, adding to the initial cost of each residential unit. Many businesses and industries require the reliability and access to water that only a public utility can provide. Water service is provided to Oconee County residents by 22 community water systems, including seven public water systems and 15 private systems (Table 7-2 and Map 7-1). Community water systems serve the same population year-round. More individualized systems serve only for a portion of the year (such as a school) or serve transient populations (rest stops, campgrounds, gas stations, etc.).

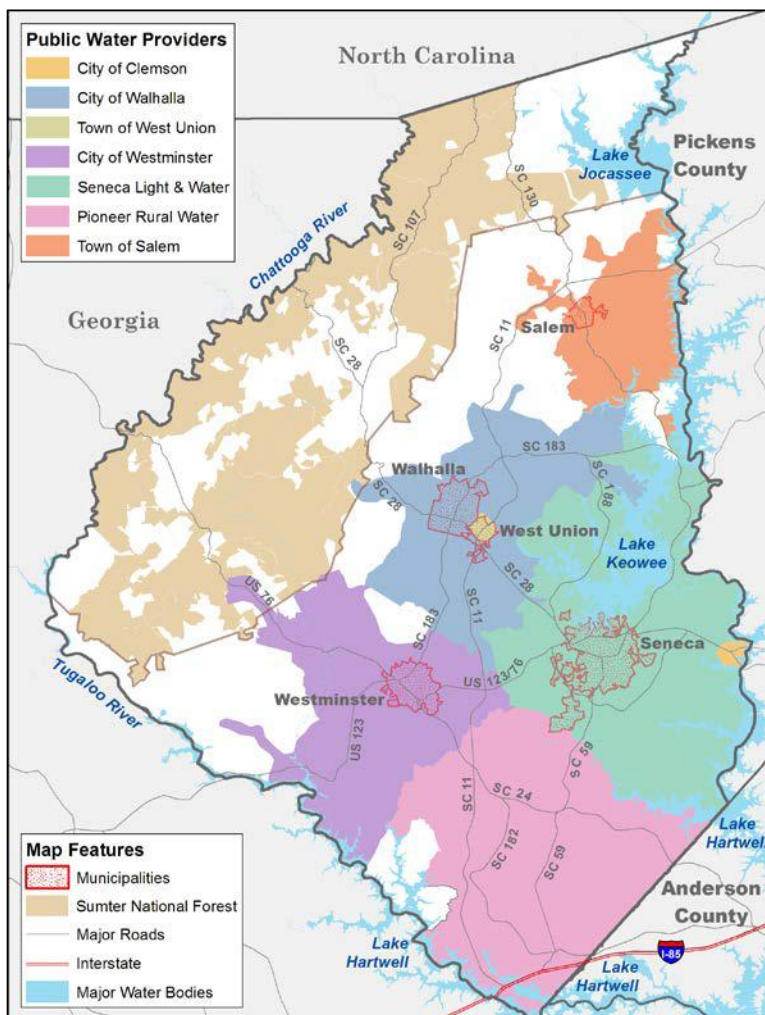

Water treatment is primarily provided by four plant The City of Seneca Water Treatment Plant has a capacity of 20 million gallons per day (MGD), with an average daily demand of 6.5 MGD and current peak demand at 11 MGD. The Plant obtains its water from Lake Keowee. The City of Walhalla Coneross Creek Water Treatment Plant has a capacity of 3 MGD, an average daily demand of 1.9 MGD, and peak demand of 2.3 MGD. Water treated at the Plant is drawn from Coneross Creek. The City broke ground on a new water treatment facility in January 2019 that will have a capacity of 4 MGD. It will draw water from the Cane Creek branch of Lake Keowee, with completion anticipated in fall 2020. The City of Westminster Water Treatment Plant has a capacity of 4 MGD, with an approximate average daily demand of 2 MGD. The Plant draws water from the Chauga River. Pioneer Rural Water District's new Robert J. Stevenson Water Treatment Plant was completed in May 2019. The Plant draws water from Lake Hartwell, with an initial capacity of 2.5 MGD that is upgradeable to 5 MGD. Water treatment at a smaller scale is also provided by several individual systems.

2. Wastewater

The availability of sewer service is critical to supporting higher density residential development, educational and health care facilities, and the location or expansion of business and industry. Residential development outside of sewer service areas must rely on septic systems. State law requires that a parcel of land proposed for a septic system be capable of supporting proper operation of the individual system. Suitability criteria are based on factors including soil type, parcel size, and slope. For most businesses and industries, the availability of sewer service is requisite for new facility location.

Public wastewater treatment in Oconee County is provided by the Oconee Joint Regional Sewer Authority's (OJRSA) Coneross Creek Wastewater Treatment Plant (WWTP). The treatment capacity for the Plant is 7.8 million gallons per day (MGD), with an average daily flow of three MGD.

Public wastewater is managed by five providers, as illustrated in Map 7-2. The OJRSA owns and operates a wastewater conveyance system that includes approximately 60 miles of gravity sewer, 18 pump stations, 20 miles of force mains, and three permanent flow monitoring stations.

Map 7-2. Major Wastewater Providers

Source: Oconee County GIS Department, 2018

Seneca Light and Water (City of Seneca) collects wastewater from 5,745 customers through a system of 150 miles of sewer lines and 25 lift stations for treatment at the Coneross Creek WWTP. The City of Walhalla provides wastewater removal for its 2,000 customers through a system of five miles of gravity lines, four miles of force mains, and three lift stations. The City of Westminster conveys wastewater for its 1,091 customers through 28.5 miles of gravity sewer lines. The Town of West Union operates and maintains a small system that includes less than one-half mile of gravity sewer lines. Wastewater management is also provided by a number of private providers for residential developments in Oconee County.

3. Energy Sources

Electricity is the primary source of energy for Oconee County residents, followed by natural gas (Table 7-3). Two in three (66.9%) County homes are heated with electricity and 17.7% are heated with natural gas. More than nine percent of homes are heated with bottled, tank or LP gas and 4.1% use wood for heating.

a. Electrical Transmission and Distribution

Electrical power is provided to residents and businesses in Oconee County by four providers (Map 7-3). The Blue Ridge Electric Cooperative has the largest service area, including most of the unincorporated area in western and southern Oconee County. The Cooperative's service area encompasses more than 1,800 square miles that also include areas in Anderson, Greenville, Spartanburg, and Pickens counties. Blue Ridge provides service to 64,890 members and is South Carolina's fourth largest electric cooperative (Blue Ridge Electric Cooperative, 2019).

Duke Energy provides electric service to a substantial area of Oconee County that includes the greater Walhalla and West Union area that stretches north from Seneca along Lake Keowee to Lake Jocassee and includes the northernmost area of the County. Duke Energy is one of the largest electric power companies in the United States, serving electricity to 7.6 million electric retail customers in six states. Duke Energy plants that provide electricity to customers in Oconee County and neighboring areas include the Oconee Nuclear Station, the Keowee Hydro Station, and the Jocassee and Bad Creek Pumped-storage Generating Stations. Of particular note is the Oconee Nuclear Station, one of the nation's largest nuclear plants with a generating capacity of 2.6 million kilowatts – enough to power 1.9 million homes.

Seneca Light and Water provides electricity to 6,900 customer meters within the City of Seneca and adjoining areas (Seneca Light and Water, 2019). The City purchases wholesale electricity from Santee Cooper.

The City of Westminster provides electricity to 1,501 customers within the City of Westminster and some adjoining areas. The City annually distributes approximately 30 megawatts of energy obtained through Piedmont Municipal Power Agency, a joint action agency that includes nine other cities that collectively own 25% of the output of Unit 2 at the Catawba Nuclear Station in York County, South Carolina.

b. Natural Gas

Fort Hill Natural Gas Authority is the sole provider of natural gas in Oconee County. The Authority was established by the South Carolina Legislature in 1952 to serve the municipalities and outlying areas of Oconee and Pickens Counties and portions of Anderson County (Fort Hill Natural Gas Authority, 2019). Fort Hill is one of four non-profit, tax-exempt natural gas authorities in the State. The Authority purchases natural gas on the open market for resale to its approximately 40,000 residential, commercial, and industrial customers. Purchased gas is transported to Fort Hill from various sources via interconnects with Williams Gas Pipeline in Anderson County.

4. Internet

High-speed internet service is available within Oconee County from a number of providers including AT&T, Charter Spectrum, Northland Communications, Onetone Telecom, Viasat Internet, and HughesNet. In addition, mobile wireless services are available in the Oconee area from a wide range of carriers including AT&T, Sprint, T-Mobile, and Verizon. A number of local businesses and public facilities also have wireless internet (Wi-Fi) connection capabilities for their customers and employees, including the Oconee County Library and local businesses, restaurants, and motels.

On August 18, 2010, Oconee County received $9.6M in Federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funding to construct a 250-mile broadband fiber optic network under the project name Fiber Optics Creating Unified Solutions (FOCUS). The first phase of the project set out to support the School District of Oconee County, emergency services, E-911 service, and local, state, and federal government locations. The second phase of the FOCUS project focused on connecting business and residential customers. However, in 2012 South Carolina legislative bill H3508 was enacted, requiring FOCUS to modify the original business model used to sell service to customers. FOCUS instead entered into a wholesale arrangement with local Internet Services Providers to provide services to customers. In the 3rd and final phase of the FOCUS project, Oconee County issued an RFP to lease the network out to an operator to maintain and grow the network. OneTone Telecom, Inc., was awarded the contract and continues to maintain the network. The company has expanded the network to 330 miles, adding thousands of customers.

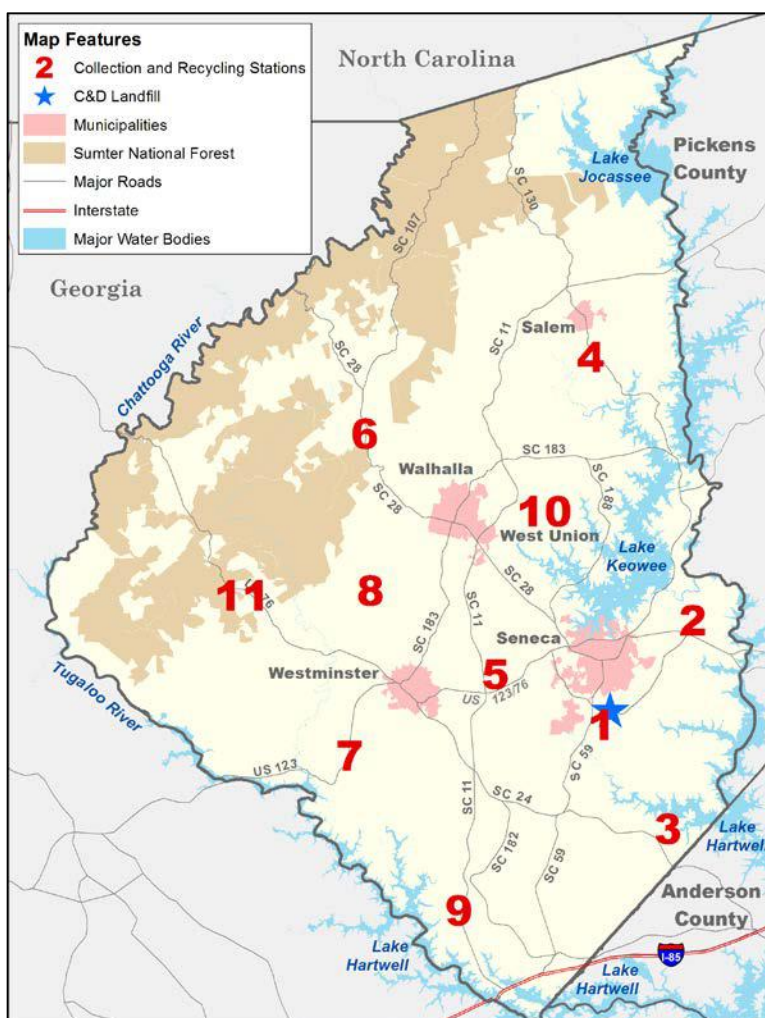

5. Solid Waste

The Oconee County Solid Waste Complex on Wells Highway in Seneca houses the main office, a material recovery facility for recyclables, and a transfer station for loading shipments of municipal solid waste for landfill disposal. Because Oconee County does not operate an active landfill, all municipal solid waste is transported to the Waste Management landfill in Homer, Georgia. However, two closed landfills in the County are managed and monitored.

Oconee County also operates a Class 2 Construction and Demolition (C&D) landfill, mulching facility for storage and sale of ground yard waste, and a concrete, block and asphalt grinding operation located across from the Solid Waste Complex on Wells Highway.

While the County does not provide solid waste collection, it operates eleven manned collection and recycling centers located throughout the County (Map 7-4) and two unmanned centers in the cities of Westminster and Walhalla. The recycling centers are for household trash and recyclables only and do not accept commercial waste. Total managed waste in 2018 was 82,056 tons, including 43,591 tons of waste through the transfer station and 3,355 tons of recyclables (Oconee County Budget Document, 2018-2019). The Solid Waste Department has 35 full-time positions and one part-time position, including administration, equipment operators, a recycling coordinator/educator, and clerks.

Map 7-4. Solid Waste Collection and Recycling Stations and C&D Landfill

Source: Oconee County GIS Department, 2018

Because collection and recycling centers 2, 4, 5, and 6 are located in the major growth areas, Solid Waste Department staff anticipates the need for future expansion to help alleviate traffic, expedite drop-off, and better facilitate recycling and disposal services. The need to upgrade or expand the County's transfer station to accommodate an increased waste stream is also expected within the next three to five years.

C. EDUCATION

Education is a lifelong process that consists of two components. The first is a high quality foundation of basic education through the PK-12 system that is followed by an on-going individualized pathway of higher education and advanced career training opportunities. Communities that promote a philosophy of lifelong learning among residents are better positioned to successfully compete in a global economy. Access to advanced workforce training programs is an integral component of community and individual economic sustainability.

The Oconee Campus of Tri-County Technical College (TCTC) provides County residents with a greater level of access to workforce development programs, facilities, and advanced training and continuing education opportunities. In addition, a number of public and private postsecondary institutions are located within commuting distance for County residents, including Clemson University, Southern Wesleyan University, and Anderson University. The locations of PK-12 schools and the Tri-County Technical College campus are shown on Map 7-5 and profiled in the following sections, along with private schools.

1. School District of Oconee County

The Oconee County School District provides educational services to 10,495 students (S.C. Dept. of Education, 2019), with an annual budget that exceeds $107 million (School District of Oconee County, Fast Facts, 2019). As the largest employer in the County, the District employs 1,591 administrators, teachers and support staff. South Carolina Department of Education headcount data for 2018-2019 indicate the District has the 22nd largest enrollment among the State's 83 districts. The District spent an annual average of $11,069 per pupil in school year 2017-2018. The School District operates ten elementary schools, three middle schools, and three high schools (Table 7-4 and Map 7-5).

In addition to these schools, the District's Hamilton Career Center offers more than 20 career and technology education programs that support over 1,000 students from the District's three high schools as they prepare for transition to institutions of higher education or skilled careers. A new Career Center is planned for co-location in the Oconee County Industry and Technology Park with the new Tri-County Technical College Oconee Campus. Development of the Career Center is a cooperative effort between the School District, Oconee County, businesses, industries, and Tri-County Technical College and is intended to match the needs of the County's current and potential industries.

The District's Oconee Academy is an alternative program for middle and high school students who have been identified as interfering with the learning of other class members and/or refusing to follow the District's Discipline Code. Enrollment is decided by the administration of the student's home school and the Director of Student Services. Students normally attend the program for a minimum of one semester, with transportation and lunch provided. The District also offers Adult Education in the form of a diploma program, High School Equivalency (HSED) classes, literacy programs, and career readiness instruction and testing.

2. Private Schools

There are a number of private schools in Oconee County that range in size from 158 pupils at the Oconee Christian Academy to fewer than ten students at the Poplar Springs Adventist School and New Haven Christian School (Table 7-5). These non-public enrollment numbers do not include the homeschooled students in the County.

3. Tri-County Technical College

Established in 1962, Tri-County Technical College (TCTC) has the fifth largest enrollment among the 16 two-year colleges that comprise the South Carolina Technical Education System. The College serves its three-county service area from its main campus in Pendleton and through four satellite campuses in Anderson (Anderson), Oconee (Westminster), and Pickens (Pendleton and Easley) Counties. The Oconee County campus opened as TCTC's newest campus in 2018. The campus includes a new $5.5 million, 37,000 square foot building. Program offerings at the campus support manufacturing in the region and also include university studies and transfer certificates, business administration, and a high school dual credit program with the School District.

The College enrolls more than 6,000 students annually in 70 associate degree, diploma, and certificate programs (TCHC, 2019). The average age of TCTC students is 22.1 years, with more than 55% of students attending full time. Oconee County residents comprise more than 14% of the total TCTC enrollment.

D. LIBRARIES

The Oconee County Public Library was established in 1948 in Walhalla, with subsequent branches open in Westminster in 1950, Salem in 1952, and Seneca in 1953. New facilities were built for the Walhalla and Westminster branches in 1979 and an expansion of the Seneca branch was completed when the library joined the County system in 1983. The Salem branch began sharing space with the Salem Town Hall in 1981. The Library also provides bookmobile service to communities that are more than 1.5 miles from a public library facility. Table 7-6 lists the current Library locations and sizes.

The Walhalla Library serves as the headquarters and main branch and is the largest facility in the Oconee County Public Library system. The system employs 19 full-time and 12 part-time workers. The collection includes 147,047 books, 4,401 audio books, 207 print periodicals, and 11,218 DVDs. Also included are downloadable audio books, e-books, and magazines. Annual visits to all four branches totaled nearly 225,160 in 2018, with a total circulation of 317,126. Total collection uses at the Oconee County Public Library ranked 14th highest and the number of cardholders ranked 18th highest among South Carolina's 42 public libraries in 2017.

The main library and its branch locations are an important resource for County residents who lack personal access to a computer and internet. The Library's 33 public computers were used by County residents more than 25,740 times in 2018, while many others used the Library's Wi-Fi access to the internet with their personal devices.

E. PUBLIC SAFETY

A safe and secure environment that projects a climate of health, vitality and community spirit among residents of all ages is integral to building a strong community. The personnel, facilities, equipment, and services dedicated to protecting the safety and property of the public are among the most essential community resources.

1. Oconee County Emergency Services

Oconee County Emergency Services is headquartered on Emergency Lane in Westminster and employs 35 full-time staff, including the fire chief; four deputy chiefs - Emergency Manager, Emergency Medical Director, Fire Marshal, and Special Teams Coordinator; training officer; shift supervisors; firefighters; radiological operations planner; administrative staff; a logistics technician; and seven part-time employees. A team of 620 dedicated volunteers provide day-to-day service delivery across Oconee County, supported by career personnel assigned to each station. The Emergency Services team is responsible for fire protection, medical first response, Hazardous Materials mitigation, technical rescue, SCUBA Dive Rescue, emergency management and public safety education.

a. Emergency Management

Although rare in occurrence, Oconee County is vulnerable to various natural and technological hazards. Advance planning and preparation for such emergencies is essential in preparing community leaders, response staff, and the general public to make rapid and informed decisions that will save lives and quickly restore infrastructure and services when manmade or natural disaster strikes. The County's Emergency Management (EM) team provides planning, training, and event coordination between municipal, county, and state agencies for manmade and natural disaster events. A great deal of planning and training is committed to support Duke Energy's Oconee Nuclear Station emergency response plan. The EM staff continuously provides public information and support for special events and incidents as they occur including storms, ice and snow events, and public health concerns.

b. Special Teams

Specialized response services in Oconee County are provided through three teams: Dive, Special Rescue, and Hazardous Materials (Hazmat). Each of these teams is comprised of volunteers with specialized training on equipment needed to effectively deal with situations that may occur. Examples of specialized skills used by these teams include high-angle rescue, wilderness search, confined search, dive rescue, and swift-water rescue. Demand for these services is increasing as the popularity of boating, climbing, hiking, and camping in the remote areas of the County continues to grow.

c. Fire Service

As one of the most fundamental and valuable services provided by local government, fire protection and prevention is of vital importance to every citizen and visitor in Oconee County. There are 18 fire districts in Oconee County, including 14 all-volunteer fire departments, four municipal departments, and the Keowee Fire Special Tax District (Map 7-6). All departments operate under a countywide automatic aid agreement to ensure proper responses to each incident, regardless of the location.

The Oconee County Fire Division is headquartered on Emergency Lane in Westminster and employs 35 full-time staff, including the fire chief, deputy fire chief, fire marshal, training officer, captains, firefighters, radiological operations planner, and administrative staff, and seven part-time employees (Oconee County, SC Budget Document 2018-2019). A dedicated team of 450 volunteers provide day to day service delivery across the County, supported by career personnel assigned to each station.

The fire station of the City of Seneca Fire Department is on West South Fourth Street in Seneca. The Department operates three shifts, with each shift consisting of a captain, lieutenant, and seven full-time firefighters (City of Seneca Fire Department, 2019). In addition to providing fire service within the City, Seneca has an agreement with Oconee County to provide fire service to the unincorporated area within a five-mile radius of the City. The Seneca Fire Department also provides emergency medical services within its service area, with ambulance transportation provided by the Oconee Medical Center.

The City of Walhalla Fire Department is located at East North Broad Street in Walhalla, and employs ten paid firefighters, including the fire chief, six full-time firefighters, and three part-time firefighters, assisted by 37 volunteer firefighters (City of Walhalla Fire Department, 2019).

The Fire Department also provides coverage within the City, for the Issaqueena Falls-Stumphouse Tunnel Park, and within a five-mile radius of the incorporated area based on a contract with Oconee County. The Fire Department also operates as an Emergency Medical Responder.

The City of Westminster Fire Department is co-located in the Oconee County Fire Station Headquarters on Emergency Lane in Westminster, where they lease two bays and office space from the County. Department staff includes the chief, fire marshal, three firefighters, and 27 volunteers (City of Westminster Fire Department, 2019).

The Keowee Fire Department provides service in the Keowee Fire Special Tax District. The District encompasses a 30-square mile area on and near Lake Keowee and includes the Oconee Nuclear Station and approximately 5,000 residences. The District is governed by five elected commissioners. The Keowee Fire Department is headquartered on Maintenance Road, with a substation on Doug Hollow Road. Department staff includes a full-time fire chief, four fire captains, 22 firefighters, seven volunteers, and six support staff (Keowee Fire Department, 2019).

The Town of Salem Fire Department is located on East Main Street in Salem. The Department employs one part-time driver who is available 12 hours a day, seven days a week, joined by 25 volunteers (Oconee County Fire Division, 2019).

Oconee County fire stations are listed in Table 7-7. Map 7-6 provides the location of fire stations in the County.

While the provision of adequate, state-of-the-art firefighting equipment and trained personnel is vital to the preservation of life and property, it also significantly impacts the cost of individual fire insurance premiums in a community. Insurance companies use a classification system provided by the Insurance Services Office, Inc. (ISO) to determine the level of fire protection for each home they insure. Classifications range from 1 to 10, with Class 1 representing the best public protection and Class 10 indicating no recognized protection. Factors that contribute to the classification assignment include the effectiveness of the fire department in receiving and dispatching fire alarms, the number of fire stations, the availability and amount of water needed to fight fires, training provided to local fire fighters, maintenance and testing of equipment, and the distribution of fire stations and service throughout the community. Areas served by municipal or other water services benefit from lower ISO ratings and ultimately, lower insurance ratings.

ISO ratings in Oconee County are 2 in Walhalla, Seneca, and Westminster; 3 in the Keowee Fire Special Tax District, 4 in Salem, and 4 in the unincorporated areas of the County. These ratings are for areas within five road miles of a fire station, which in Oconee County includes approximately 97% of all homes and businesses (Oconee County Fire Division, 2019). ISO ratings for areas beyond five miles of a fire station are higher, with these areas in the unincorporated areas of the County rated 10.

4. Law Enforcement

Efficient and effective law enforcement is essential to the quality of life in a community. Law enforcement in Oconee County is provided by the Oconee County Sheriff's Department and the police departments of the cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster and the towns of Salem and West Union. The locations of the Sheriff's Department headquarters and of municipal police departments are shown on Map 7-7.

A total of 2,331 index crimes were reported in Oconee County in 2017 – a 1.6% decrease from the 2,369 index crimes reported in 2016. There are seven index offenses: murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, breaking and entering, motor vehicle theft, larceny, and arson. Index offenses are categorized either as violent crimes (murder, sexual battery, robbery and aggravated assault) or property crimes (breaking and entering, motor vehicle theft, larceny, and arson). Violent crimes account for 8.8% of all index crimes in the County – lower than the 2016 percentage of 9.5%. The most prevalent violent crime in the County was aggravated assault, accounting for 70% of violent crimes. Only four murders were reported in Oconee County in 2017. Nearly 70% of property crimes and 63.4% of all index crimes were categorized as larceny, which is the unlawful taking of property and includes offenses such as shoplifting, pocket-picking, purse snatching, and thefts from motor vehicles and of motor vehicle parts.

The index crime rate (rate per 10,000 residents) in Oconee County is lower than the statewide rates for similar crimes, with the exception of arson, which is slightly higher. The overall index crime rate for violent crimes in the County is nearly half that of the State rate.

a. Oconee County Sheriff's Office

The Oconee County Sheriff's Office (OSCO) provides law enforcement for the unincorporated areas of the County and within the Town of Salem. The Sheriff's Office is headquartered in the Oconee County Law Enforcement Center on South Church Street in Walhalla. The OSCO also operates from four additional locations, the Seneca substation on Memorial Drive, the Oakway substation on School House Road in Westminster, the Long Creek substation on Long Creek Highway in Westminster, and the Keowee/Salem substation on Maintenance Road in Salem. The Office has 196 employees in a variety of roles, organized within five divisions – detention (47 employees), special operations (36 employees), road patrol (44 employees), criminal investigations/community services (42 employees), and communications (22 employees). Each deputy is assigned a patrol vehicle. The OSCO is assisted by 13 reserve officers and chaplains. The Sheriff oversees a wide range of activities, including law enforcement patrol, criminal investigation, traffic enforcement, animal control, a K-9 support unit, school resource officers, civil process, court security, and management of the Detention Center. In addition, the OSCO answers calls for the City of Westminster and the towns of Salem and West Union when they do not have officers on duty. F. HEALTH CARE

Access to quality health care is an essential component of community well-being. Building a healthy community ensures an acceptable quality of life for all residents and the prevention of many costly problems that inhibit the realization of full individual and community potential. The health care system encompasses a broad continuum of care that begins with preventative care and progresses through end-of-life care. Public health is negatively impacted when service gaps are present in this continuum. The number of practicing health professionals serving Oconee County is detailed in Table 7-8.

The locations of Oconee Memorial Hospital – Prisma Health Upstate, EMS, rescue stations, and the Rosa Clark Free Health Clinic are shown in Map 7-8. These and additional health care services are profiled in the following sections.

The facility, which is scheduled to open in 2020, is intended to house six faculty and 18 residents by 2022. The three-year program seeks to alleviate the shortage of doctors by providing training for primary care in a rural-based practice. Evidence cited by Prisma Health Upstate indicates that physicians tend to stay and practice in the community where they receive residency training.

3. Services for the Elderly

The nation's aging population affects every segment of the social, political, and economic landscape, as significant changes in living patterns and conditions often accompany the aging process. The health and mobility of senior residents is of growing interest due to implications for public policy, healthcare, and long-term care costs. The increasing number of frail elderly is accompanied by a growing demand for home care and for institutional and community-based acute care and long-term care. The segment of the population suffering from dementia and Alzheimer's disease will continue to rise in the coming decades, while the costs of care will rise well above current levels. The financial and time demands on informal family and friend caregivers will also continue to rise. These changing responsibilities will shape housing, employment, and support service needs at the local level, where Oconee County residents aged 65 or older now comprise 21.5% of the population. This is higher than the 15.8% of individuals in this age group statewide (American Community Survey 2013-2017).

a. Senior Services

Most aging services are federally funded through the 1965 Older Americans Act. To that end, the Lieutenant Governor's Office on Aging has divided the State into ten planning and service districts. The Appalachian Regional Council of Governments (ACOG) is the designated Area Agency on Aging (AAA) and Aging and Disabilities Resource Center (ADRC) for Anderson, Cherokee, Greenville, Oconee, Pickens, and Spartanburg counties. The role of the AAA is to plan, coordinate, administer, and assess a comprehensive and coordinated system of quality support services for older citizens. ACOG provides information, referrals, and assistance to older adults and caregivers, and operates a number of related programs. As an ADRC, they subcontract with local service providers for the delivery of services at the local level. Among the services given funding priority are transportation, adult day care, in-home and group respite care, congregate dining, home-delivered meals, insurance counseling, wellness and prevention, information and assistance, outreach, physical fitness, health promotion, and nutrition education and screening.

Senior Solutions is the leading provider of services to senior citizens in Oconee County. Originally known as the Anderson-Oconee Council on Aging, Senior Solutions is a non-profit agency that has served the needs of County seniors since 1977. The Oconee Senior Center on Perry Avenue in Seneca is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and offers games, a computer lab, library, a fitness center, and an outdoor walking track. Participants have access to exercise, dance, and educational classes and opportunities for day and overnight trips. Transportation is available to and from the facility. Lunch is provided daily to participants. Senior Solutions also provides home-delivered meals in Oconee County for persons 60 years of age and older who are ill and incapacitated, unable to leave home unassisted except for essential appointments, unable to purchase or prepare food, or do not have someone in the home who is able to prepare meals on a daily basis.

b. Nursing Homes and Assisted Living Facilities

As detailed in the Housing Element, there are two nursing homes in Oconee County. The Lila Doyle facility at Oconee Medical Center in Seneca provides 120 beds and the Seneca Health and Rehabilitation Center provides 252 beds. The County has six assisted living facilities providing a total of 380 beds, with six of the facilities in Seneca and one in West Union (Table 3-22).

4. Public Health

The Department provides a range of health-related services including immunizations, family planning, pregnancy testing, nurse-family partnerships for first-time moms, postpartum/newborn home visits, services for children and teens with special health care needs, immunizations, tuberculosis testing and treatment, testing for sexually transmitted diseases, and teen education and counseling. The Department also administers the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program that provides food products, health screenings, and health information for women, infants, and children five years of age or younger in qualified families.

5. Rosa Clark Free Medical Clinic

The Rosa Clark Free Medical Clinic on Memorial Drive in Seneca has provided quality, affordable healthcare services since 1982 for area residents who are unable to pay physician costs for such services and for those who receive Medicaid or Medicare. The Clinic also provides referral services for specialty care as needed. A second location on South Oak Street serves as a dental clinic. The Clinic hours of operation are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

G. PARKS AND RECREATION

The provision of quality recreational activities and facilities benefits community residents of all ages. Parks and recreation facilities are valuable tools in showcasing the natural beauty of a community, in preserving open space, in attracting visitors, and in providing healthy and safe recreational options for residents.

Oconee County residents and visitors are fortunate to have access to numerous and diverse opportunities for recreation that include state parks, abundant water resources, nature and hiking trails, and a number of parks and recreation facilities. As detailed in the Natural Resources Element, recreational opportunities in the County are particularly plentiful for outdoor enthusiasts. In addition to the scenic Chattooga and Tugaloo rivers, lakes Hartwell, Keowee, and Jocassee provide miles of shoreline, a number of public and commercial boat landings, and nearly unlimited opportunities for fishing and water sports. Recreation resources in Oconee County are detailed in the following sections and in Table 7-10, with locations of major recreation facilities provided in Map 7-9.

Chapter 8. Agriculture Element

A. OVERVIEW

Agriculture and forestry are critical components of both the landscape and the economy of Oconee County. Based on Oconee County tax data, 51% of the County's land area is currently in use for agriculture or forestry. However, of County land that is not included in the Sumter National Forest, nearly two-thirds is in agriculture or forestry use.

According to the Oconee Economic Alliance, Oconee County has nearly 900 farms encompassing more than 67,000 acres of land. Together, these farms have a market value in products worth more than 121 million dollars. In addition to the economic benefits of agriculture and forestry, both land uses can contribute social, environmental, and health benefits. These benefits are explored in more detail throughout this element.

Forestlands are important to the economy, character, environment, and overall health of Oconee County. Agricultural and forested lands are home to many of the area's critical natural resources and provide valuable wildlife habitat, windbreaks, enhanced water quality, decreased ambient temperatures, groundwater recharge areas, mitigation of stormwater run-off and erosion, and open space. This link to natural resource protection should be respected and enhanced when possible through the use of easements, education, and value-added land use policies such as proper regulation, prevention and mitigation of incompatible land uses, and the appropriate location of public lands and infrastructure.

Farming and food security would appear to go hand in hand, but even counties with significant farm production can have areas where access to healthy foods is non-existent or challenging.

Reliable, convenient access to fresh fruit, vegetables, and proteins is a cornerstone of community sustainability and resilience. A healthy population contributes more to the local economy, uses fewer healthcare resources, and is central to community well-being and quality of life.

B. AGRICULTURE

Over the past century, agriculture in the U.S. has become more mechanized, industrialized, and dependent on and threatened by globalization. While much of the agriculture in the Upstate consists of relatively small farms, these trends have affected farming in Oconee County as well. More than half of Americans were farmers at the turn of the 20th century, and their farms typically were diverse in plants and animals, had a focus on family subsistence, and supported the local area. While this is still true on some small farms, the trend towards specialization and truck farming (producing products primarily for shipment often bypassing local markets) has had its impacts on the Upstate as well. However, a recent return to market-farming or direct-to-consumer farming is changing how some farmers do business.

The number of farming operations in Oconee County has fluctuated over the past 30 years from a low of 789 in 1997 to a high of 884 in 2012. While the number of farm operations fell from 884 in 2012 to 815 in 2017, the average farm size remained 77 acres. In 2007 there were only 804 farms, but the average farm size was larger at 88 acres and the total acreage in farms was almost 71,000.

1. Producer and Income Characteristics

Commonly known as farmers, people who work on farms are called “producers” by the U.S. Census Bureau. The Census Bureau expanded its definition of producer in the 2017 Census to include anyone involved in making decisions for a farm. This change resulted in an increase in the number of people who were reported as producers as compared to previous years. The latest Census also collected information on young producers and new and beginning producers. These new data provide additional insight into the profile of farmers in Oconee County and should help to identify trends that might be significant in supporting local farming.

Source: 2017 Census of Agriculture

Of the 1,343 producers working Oconee County farms in 2017, 749 were aged 55 years or older. The average age for all producers is 56.1 years (Figure 8-3), slightly less than the U.S. average of 57.5 years. Fewer than one-third of all producers in Oconee County has been in operation less than 11 years and less than 40 percent indicated that farming was their primary occupation. The future of farming depends on the successful transition of farms from one producer to another, for young people to see value in the farming way of life, and on successfully supplementing farm income with diversification and non-farm related jobs that provide greater income stability. Only a small portion of the primary producers are young, aged 35 or less years, as characterized by the 2017 Census of Agriculture (Figure 8-4). A larger percent of all producers were characterized as “new or beginning,” defined as no more than ten years of farming experience, which is a title irrespective of age.

Although the number of acres farmed in the County is declining, the net income of farm operations has increased. The greatest increases in the number of farms by farm sales has been in categories with annual sales of $50,000 or more.

2. Commodities

A variety of vegetable, fruit, and animal products are produced on Oconee County farms, but livestock, poultry, and animal products represent 97 percent of the total share of farm sales. Oconee County is South Carolina’s number 1 poultry and egg-producing county. It ranks 77th nationwide out of 3007 counties. A distant second, in terms of sales and rank, is the production of cattle and calves, followed by milk, hogs and pigs, sheep and goats, equine, apiculture and aquaculture. As Figure 8-7 indicates, the number of sheep farms increased significantly between 2002 and 2012, but sheep remain a minor contributor to farm sales overall.

3. Agricultural Land

Soil data provided by the USDA reveals that only 7% of the County's land area (30,650 acres) is prime farmland. Prime farmland, as defined by the USDA, is "land that has the best combination of physical and chemical characteristics for producing food, feed, forage, fiber, and oilseed crops and is available for these uses." Prime farmland soils produce the highest yields with minimal inputs of energy and economic resources and the least damage to the environment. Soils that have a high water table or are subject to flooding may also qualify as prime farmland if protected from flooding or not frequently flooded during growing season. These soils comprise 2.4% of the land area in Oconee County, encompassing 10,138 acres of land.

It is possible for states to define and delineate soils that, while not designated as prime farmlands, may be farmlands "of statewide importance" for the production of food, feed, fiber, forage, and oilseed crops. In general this land includes soils that nearly meet the requirements for prime farmland and that economically produce high yields of crops – some as high as prime farmlands given favorable conditions – when treated and managed according to best management farming methods. Based on criteria set by the State of South Carolina, 10.4% of the land area of Oconee County (44,829 acres) is considered to have soils of statewide importance to agriculture.

Map 8-1 illustrates the location of prime and other important farmlands in Oconee County. Prime farmlands are located throughout the County but are sparser in the higher elevations in the Sumter National Forest.

4. Threats to Prime Farmland

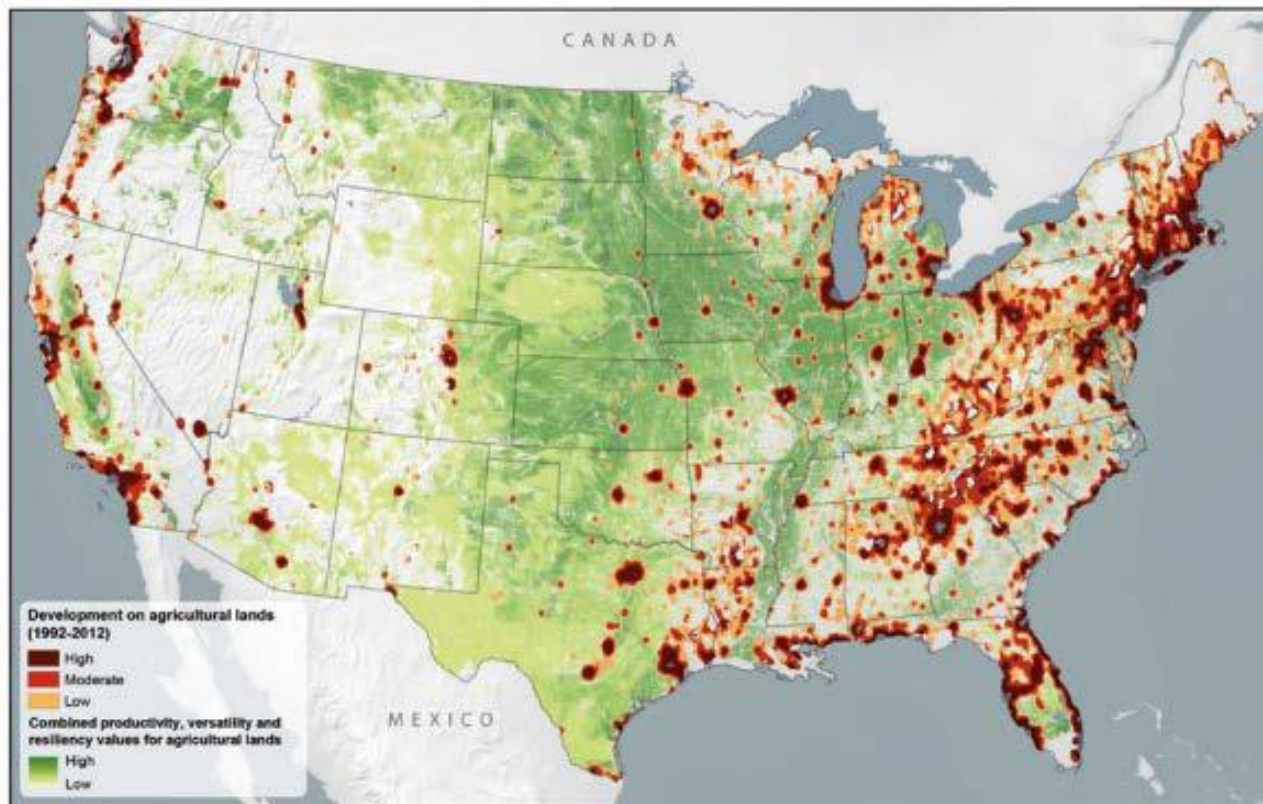

Prime farmland has been disappearing across America as urbanization has crept, leap-frogged, and in some cases, steamrolled across the landscape. The sharp increase in road and utility expansion in the 20th century divided many rural farms, opening vast areas for urban and suburban development. The relatively flat, cleared land preferred by farmers is also preferred by developers looking to minimize the cost of land preparation. However, the loss of farmland is not caused solely by the need for land to accommodate growth. It is also caused by the low relative value placed on farmland as compared to suburban and urban development.

Farm loss isn't just market economics at work, it also represents the collective valuation of farmland by the public. Studies conducted by the USDA Economic Research Service indicate that when people were asked to rank the appeal of various landscapes, farms, particularly cropland, received a low ranking. However, farms were ranked above developed sites in general. Their research provides some insight into the dynamics of farmland conversion, and perhaps is worth considering when crafting public education materials and arguments for farmland preservation.

Between 1982 and 2012, an estimated 395,900 acres of South Carolina's prime farmland were developed (Farmland Information Center, 2016). Conversion of prime farmlands to non-agricultural use is a concern, as the farming industry is forced to bring more marginal agricultural land into production. Marginal farmland has less productive and more erodible soil, often with irregular topography such as steeper slopes that require greater labor, equipment, and material costs. Map 8-2 indicates the entire Upstate experienced moderate to high rates of land conversion from 1992 to 2012.

Map 8-2. Conversion of U.S. Agricultural Land to Urban and Low-Density Residential Development Between 1992 and 2012

The development of agricultural land is shown in relationship to the low-to-high continuum of productive, versatile, and resilient values for agricultural land. The conversion of agricultural land to urban and low-density residential uses between 1992 and 2012 is shown as high (dark brown-red, > 25% conversion within a 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) radius), moderate (light brown-red, 10–25% conversion) and low (tan, 5–10% conversion). Urban areas are shown in gray.

An essential step in protecting valuable farmland is to ensure that policies on growth and development recognize the importance of local farming to the health, well-being, and economy of Oconee County. To accomplish this, the County will need to educate its citizens on the value of local farming activity, the need to promote and support local farmers through right-to-farm policies and similar measures, why it is necessary to allow value-added and farm-related land uses and activities in agricultural areas, and other topics that may arise that are central to preserving Oconee County's farmland. South Carolina has adopted laws to help protect farms from nuisance suits. These laws can be found in Title 46, Chapter 45 of the S.C. Code of Laws §§ 46-45-10 to 46-45-70 (2004).

Farmers often need to diversify to stay in business. Diversification may mean using a part of a cornfield for a Halloween maze, turning raw products like grapes into other products like jelly, direct selling through farm stands, establishing restaurants and ice cream shops, or inviting schools and tourists to tour or participate in farm life and production. Zoning that tightly separates land uses by type ignores the interdependence of different uses and synergies that these types of mixed uses can create. An example is a code that restricts agricultural land to primary production but not the processing of agricultural products. Policies that limit options may make farmland preservation very difficult.

The lack of policies to protect farming from the encroachment of inappropriate land uses can lead to additional problems. Agriculture can be noisy and smelly. Farmers often work in the very early morning hours and late evening hours. Farmland can require chemical application that non-farming residents find offensive or scary. For these reasons and many others, conventional residential subdivisions often do not make good farm neighbors. Clustering, buffering, and controlling residential density near farm borders are ways the County could help protect farmers from nuisance complaints. Another way to protect farmland and provide for residential growth is a new trend called “agrihoods.” These are subdivisions that integrate farmland into their overall design, making it a core feature much like golf courses have been in the past. Agrihoods appeal to people who want good, steady access to local farm produce. Agrihoods already exist in the Upstate, including one in the City of Greenville.

Land subdivision is a threat to many prime agricultural areas in the Upstate. Many communities have tried to deal with this through a policy of requiring very large minimum lot sizes, but is this right for agriculture? Just how small is too small for a legitimate farming enterprise? The answer to these questions has changed over time, especially with the recent emphasis on “eat local” and organic farming. Answers also vary by farming technique and product. For example, hydroponic greenhouses may only need an acre, while cattle farming can require more than 35 acres. Subdividing land into estate lots or gentleman farms and allowing land splits to accommodate family lots can eat away at Oconee County’s prime farmland over time. At the same time, it is crucial to permit subdivisions that support housing for farm laborers and businesses that provide goods and services to the farming community, issues that often are overlooked in local land use policies.

Some counties, such as Charleston County and Henderson County, N.C., have created or are in the process of creating Voluntary Agricultural and Forestal Areas programs. These programs seek to prevent the low-density sprawl development pattern and non-agricultural/forestal use encroachment that can lead to destruction of the agricultural and forestry industry.

C. FORESTRY

Roughly 63 percent of Oconee County’s land area is forested, totaling 251,354 acres (S.C. Forestry Commission, www.state.sc.us/forest/oco.htm, 2019). Much of the county’s forestland lies within the Sumter National Forest. Hardwoods and some pines are the dominant native trees (USDA, Soil Survey of Oconee County, S.C., 1963). While forestry is a key component of the economy in the state and region, Oconee County ranks 45th out of 46 counties in delivered value of timber. This is at least partially due to the lack of major processing mills that exist in or near the County.

Oconee County ranks 45st statewide in delivered value of timber sold, with a harvested timber delivery value exceeding $4.7 million (S.C. Forestry Commission, Value of SC's Timber Delivered to Mills in 2017). South Carolina forest products go to many places including international destinations.

In addition to providing commercial wood-based products, forestland is productive in many other ways. It converts carbon dioxide to oxygen, provides shade to help mitigate hot summer temperatures, serves as critical habitat and food sources for many wildlife and plant species, lessens wind impacts, and conserves water and reduces stormwater impacts by filtering pollutants and aiding groundwater recharge.

Forestland and tree canopy also contribute significantly to the character of Oconee County. Studies conducted by the USDA Economic Research Service indicate that forestland is a compelling factor for where people choose to live. Tree canopy has a positive impact on community appearance and forests are important recreational resources. State-level data recently released by the S.C. Forestry Commission indicate that forest-based recreation contributes $1.6 billion annually to the state's economy.

1. Threats to Forestry

There are many threats to forestlands such as clearing, grubbing, and grading for development, insect infestations and disease, invasive species, inadequate forestry management, and fire. Historically, the greatest loss in forestland occurred when land was cleared for farming. This trend reversed as a result of incentives that encourage the conversion of farmland into forests. Urbanization is now the primary cause of deforestation in South Carolina. The South Carolina Forestry Commission is working with communities across the state to develop urban forestry programs that protect remaining forestland and encourage the re-establishment of forests and tree canopies in urban areas.

Wildfire is a threat to all South Carolina forestland and the urban areas which it abuts. On average, the South Carolina Forestry Commission fights 3,000 forest fires across the state each year. Nearly all are human-related, meaning that humans directly caused or indirectly contributed to fire creation or spread.

Forests contain “fuels” that are highly flammable, including any natural material, living or dead, that will burn. Common fuels include leaf litter, limbs, pine straw, and certain species of shrubs and trees that ignite easily. The greatest area of wildfire concern is in the wildland-urban interface, where development abuts forestland. Wildfires in and adjacent to developed areas present many challenges, not the least of which is access to the fire through developed sites. Business owners and residents often unwittingly provide fuel for fires by using of one or more of the fuels mentioned above in site landscaping. The South Carolina Forestry Commission works with communities to develop community wildfire protection plans to lessen risk to buildings and forestland. Plans provide an assessment of risk and a list of mitigation measures that can be undertaken to minimize wildfire risk. The goal of the Commission is to have as many “fire-adapted” communities in South Carolina as possible. A fire-adapted community is one in which the citizenry is informed, prepared, and taking action to reduce wildfire-related incidents.

South Carolina has many communities that are recognized nationally through the Firewise USA program established and managed by the National Fire Protection Association where residents are actively reducing wildfire risks. Ten of the 33 communities currently listed are in Oconee County including:

- Keowee Key (2006)
- Wynward Pointe (2007)
- Lake Yonah (2009)
- Keowee Harbours (2009)
- Chickasaw Point (2009)
- Waterford Pointe (2009)
- Waterford (2010)
- Beacon Shores (2015)
- Port Santorini (2016)
- Emerald Pointe (2017)

Funding for the USDA Forest Service's National Fire Plan is available through grants to communities wishing to implement a fuels mitigation and educational program. The International Code Council has also created an International Wildland-Urban Interface Code to assist communities interested in using regulation to help reduce wildfire risk.

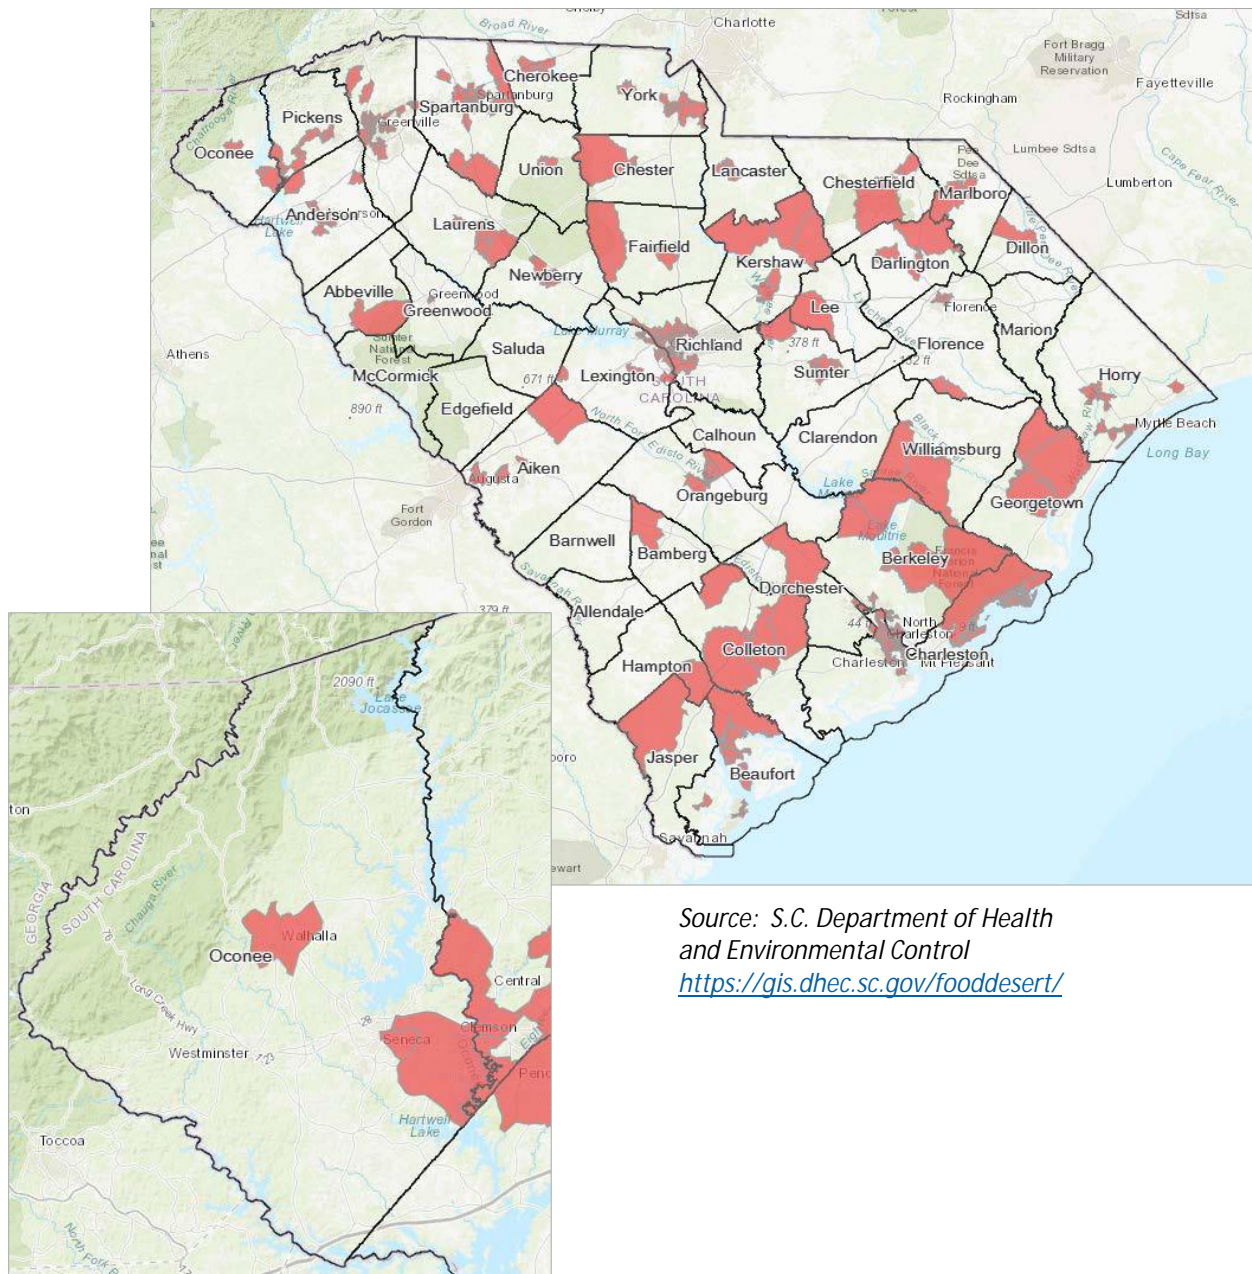

D. FOOD SECURITY

Food access is a critical element of community prosperity and security and should be an integral feature of planning at regional, county, community, and neighborhood levels. Successfully addressing food security requires cooperation and coordination from the public, private, and non-profit sectors, and collaboration with a variety of entities including retailers, transit services, and non-profits focused on healthy food education and childhood nutrition. Collaborative efforts to identify potential funding sources to address needs are also needed.

The lack of access to a variety of fresh and healthy foods can be a problem for many low-income and other transportation-challenged populations. The USDA Economic Research Service defines individuals lacking access as those who live more than one mile from a grocery store or supermarket. Low-income residents in areas without access to a grocery store who cannot raise their food and frequently lack reliable access to transportation often rely on neighborhood convenience stores which typically stock foods that are highly processed, high-caloric, and have a low-nutritional value. Children and the elderly are particularly vulnerable to food insecurity.

The USDA has mapped areas that lack access to fresh and healthy foods, known as food deserts. The S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control has published the USDA map for the state. This data is shown in Map 8-3 along with a focused map of Oconee County.

Map 8-3. Food Deserts in South Carolina and Oconee County

Source: S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control
<https://gis.dhec.sc.gov/fooddesert/>

Although these maps are based on 2015 data, there is little reason to believe food access has improved significantly since then and may have declined. As the maps indicate, there are likely significant access issues around Walhalla and from Seneca to Pickens and Anderson counties.

Ensuring access to healthy food is both a land use and a transportation issue and requires a holistic approach to successfully address the problem. Such an approach can include increasing public transit; making sure land use policies allow a mix of uses in residential areas that allows grocery stores, farmers markets, and similar fresh food outlets; and educating citizens on backyard gardening and food preservation to encourage a certain amount of self-sufficiency where possible. Land use policies that do not allow grocery stores and supermarkets in residential areas create food deserts. Being aware of where food deserts likely exist, as indicated by Map 8-3, and using that information to inform transit service routes is also vital since the market forces that drive retail location favor moderate and high-income areas over low-income communities.

Many communities are turning to gardening as one solution for healthy food access. Backyard gardens may significantly improve healthy food choice. Community gardens are also becoming more popular across the country, as are subdivisions centered around gardens or small community farms, referred to as agrihoods. Some communities have also begun to plan edible gardens instead of ornamentals in public spaces. Gardening encourages physical activity and provides the benefits associated with other outdoor activities. The National Recreation and Park Association now offers advice on how to integrate gardening (backyard, community, public) into parks and recreation programs for children and adults. These programs teach important skills including food preservation.

There is a growing movement centered on eating locally grown and produced foods. To support this in Oconee County, the County should ensure it has no unnecessary barriers that restrict accessory processing on farms and in commercial areas (e.g. jams, jellies, wine, pickles), encourage farmer's markets and farm stands, work cooperatively to link producers with retail consumers (restaurants, bars, etc.) as part of a broader economic development strategy, and assist with marketing local farm products.

Food security can be a much larger problem and impact many more people than shown on Map 8-3 during natural disasters and other emergencies that affect transportation systems and food production. Few emergency management plans currently address food access and security, but more communities are beginning to add this very critical link. In 2010, the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA), in cooperation with USDA's Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) developed best practices and guidelines for state and local emergency response efforts for incidents involving the nation's food supply. Oconee County can request state assistance in developing a local food security and response element for the County's Emergency Preparedness Plan. It should also coordinate planning, prevention, and response efforts regionally since disasters and emergencies frequently affect multiple jurisdictions at one time.

Chapter 9. Transportation Element

The transportation-land use connection influences both land use and transportation planning. While the most significant role that transportation plays in land development is in providing access, transportation facilities serve as a critical element of the built environment, creating both connections and barriers. For instance, a high-volume, four-lane highway may connect key areas of a community for vehicular travel, but safety concerns can deter pedestrians who need to cross the highway to get to resources on the other side. Traffic congestion on a thoroughfare can also be a barrier, causing motorists to seek alternative routes through residential areas. An understanding of these relationships is critical to solving and even preventing transportation related problems such as congestion, higher energy consumption, and impaired air quality, threats to public health and safety, and decreased access to services and employment.

Debate on the relationship between transportation and land use typically hinges on whether the transportation network should be planned to accommodate anticipated land uses and growth, or should the transportation network evolve organically to accommodate traffic generated by the location of land uses and subsequent growth patterns. Ideally, transportation networks should be planned to anticipate and accommodate future needs. However, funding for costly transportation infrastructure is limited, particularly at the local level, with resources focused on alleviating immediate problems such as congestion, road maintenance, and safety issues caused by increased traffic volume.

A transportation system is defined as any means used to move people and products. While roads comprise the majority of most transportation systems, they are not the only viable component. Effective transportation systems are broad, multi-modal networks that include options such as rail, air, shipping, public transit, cyclists, and pedestrians. The Transportation Element provides an analysis of transportation systems serving Oconee County including existing roads, planned or proposed major road improvements and new road construction, existing and proposed transit projects, and proposed and existing pedestrian and bicycle facilities and projects.

A. ROAD NETWORK

According to the 2017-2022 South Carolina Statewide Transportation Improvement Program (STIP), projected demand for travel in the State will continue to rise due to economic growth, as well as increases in the number of resident drivers and driving activity. While travel volume is generally highest on the Interstates, federal, and state highways and many local roads also experience traffic congestion and road wear associated with increased motor vehicle travel. An examination of the local road network will enable Oconee County to work with regional partners to plan for transportation needs for the coming decade, particularly as they relate to future land use.

1. Road Naming and Addressing

The Oconee County Addressing Office administers the assignment of addresses, the naming of subdivisions, and road naming and renaming countywide per the requirements of the County's Road Naming and Addressing Policy. Road names and subdivision names must be submitted and approved by the Addressing Office before preliminary and final plat approval for all new developments.

2. Road Network

There are more than 2,419 miles of roads within Oconee County. The County owns and maintains 659 of these road miles. The State of South Carolina maintains 830.9 miles of roads in the County that include 8.7 miles of Interstate 85, 44.2 miles of U.S. Highways, and 778 miles of primary and secondary State roads. The U.S. Forest Service maintains 189.5 miles of roads in the Sumter National Forest. Nearly 27.6 miles of road are maintained by municipalities, including 20.89 miles in Seneca, 4.21 miles in Walhalla, and 1.3 miles in Westminster. Less than one mile of road is maintained in both Salem and West Union. The remainder of roads in the County are privately owned and maintained. Several large residential developments own and maintain their road systems, including Foxwood Hills, Keowee Key, and Chickasaw Point. Map 9-1 illustrates road ownership in Oconee County.

The County's Roads and Bridges Department has 35 employees divided into several different crews. The Arbor Crew trims and removes trees from rights-of-way, the Mowing Crew mows the rights-of-way, the Construction Crew builds new roads and upgrades existing roads, and the Asphalt Crew repairs potholes and patches and paves new and existing roads. The Pipe Crew installs and repairs culverts, the Maintenance Crew maintains the County's gravel roads, and the Sign Crew installs and maintains street name and traffic signs.

3. Road Paving

Maintaining dirt roads can be costly, while the return on investment for paving can take a number of years. However, the paving of dirt roads provides many benefits to residents as well as local governments. Paving seals the road surface from rainfall, preventing erosion and protecting the base and sub-grade materials. It also eliminates dust, makes vehicular travel much smoother, and accommodates a wider range of vehicles such as tractor-trailers.

The life of a road, regardless of the surface, is affected by the number of vehicles and the weight of the vehicles using it. Generally, the more vehicles using a road, the faster it will deteriorate. For unpaved roads, heavy use can result in potholes, pronounced ruts, and wash boarding that require more frequent road maintenance including scraping and resurfacing.

There are currently 705.5 miles of unpaved roads in Oconee County, representing 29.2% of the County's total road miles. Oconee County owns and maintains 157.3 miles of these unpaved roads that comprise 23.9% of the road miles owned and maintained by the County. More than 48% of unpaved roads (339 miles) in the County are privately owned and maintained and 24.8% (174.7 miles) are in the Sumter National Forest and maintained by the U.S. Forest Service.

All new roads submitted for acceptance into the County public road system must be paved. Private unpaved roads are allowed in new developments, but must be constructed to County standards and must remain privately maintained.

B. FUNCTIONAL ROAD CLASSIFICATION

Streets and roads serve two primary functions – to provide mobility and facilitate access to land. Optimally, the transportation network balances these two functions. On higher capacity roads such as interstates mobility is the primary function, while the primary function of local roads is to provide residential access. Between these two extremes, the level of mobility and access to land vary depending on the function of the network.

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) defines functional classification as the process by which streets and highways are grouped according to the character of service they are intended to provide. Transportation planners and engineers classify roads based on FHWA and State criteria that consider the type of road and traffic volume. Streets and highways are grouped in four categories: freeways, arterials, collectors, and local roads (Table 9-1). The Functional Classification Map for Oconee County roads is shown in Map 9-2.

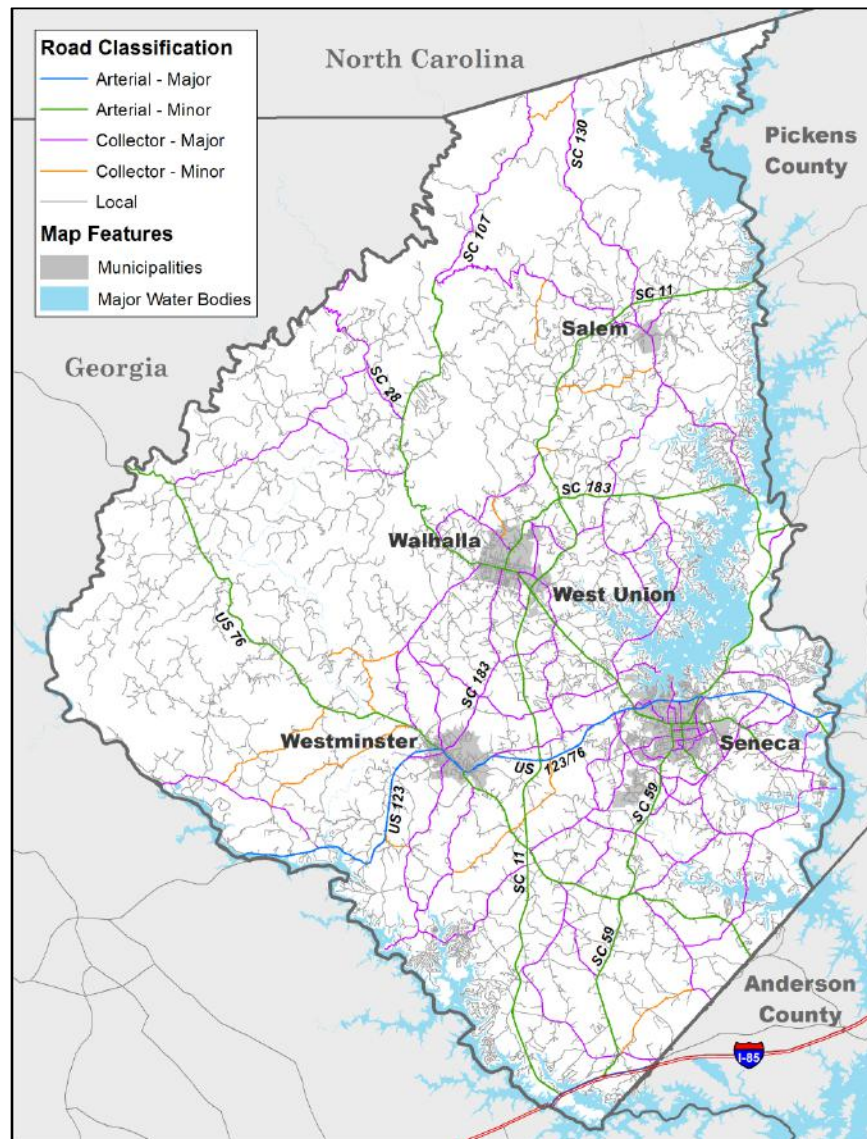

Table 9-1. Functional Road Classifications

Classification	Functional Purpose
Interstates	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Multi-lane divided roadways with no traffic signals to interrupt traffic flow
Arterials	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Provide the highest level of service at the greatest speed for the longest uninterrupted distance Major arterials are connected networks of continuous routes that serve corridor movements and high percentage of area population Minor arterials form a network linking cities and larger towns as part of an integrated network, including arterials not classified as major and placing emphasis on land access
Collectors	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Provide service at a lower speed for shorter distances by collecting traffic from local roads and connecting them with arterials, provides both access and traffic circulation within residential neighborhoods, commercial, and industrial areas Major collectors serve the more important travel corridors within a county Minor collectors penetrate neighborhoods, distributing trips from arterial roads and collecting traffic from local streets

C. TRAFFIC COUNTS

Recent SCDOT traffic counts for the most traveled road segments in Oconee County are listed in Table 9-2 and illustrated in Map 9-3. The counts represent estimated 24-hour, two-way annual average daily traffic (AADT) and reflect seasonal and daily adjustments. Segments of Interstate 85 are the most traveled routes in the County, with AADT counts that range from 42,600 to 45,500. Traffic counts on segments of U.S. Highway 76 are also comparatively high, ranging from 11,200 to 26,300 on the Highway’s busiest segments. Segments of S.C. Highway 28 also posted high AADTs in 2017.

D. ROADWAY SAFETY

Traffic collisions are responsible for billions of dollars in economic losses in South Carolina each year in the form of property damage, medical costs, and lost productivity. Data compiled by the Office of Highway Safety of the S.C. Department of Public Safety (SCDPS) indicates a traffic collision occurs in the State every 3.7 minutes, with an injury due to a traffic crash occurring every 13.3 minutes. Every 9.5 hours one or more persons die in South Carolina due to injuries sustained in a traffic crash (S.C. Traffic Collision Fact Book, 2017).

There are 78,981 registered vehicles in Oconee County (S.C. Traffic Collision Fact Book, 2017). Among South Carolina's 46 counties, Oconee County ranked 24th highest in number of traffic collisions. The County ranked 25th highest in collisions resulting in injury and 21st highest in fatalities caused by traffic accidents in 2017. While only 1.4% of crashes resulted in fatalities, injuries were reported in more than one-third (37.5%) of collisions in the County.

There were 19 deaths as a result of traffic collisions in the County in 2017 – nine on State primary roads, five on secondary roads, three on U.S. primary roads and one each on I-85 and a county road (Table 9-3). Collisions were prevalent on S.C. primary roads and secondary roads in Oconee County, with a high number also reported on U.S. primary roads. Higher percentages indicate that collisions are more likely to occur on state primary roads in Oconee County than on such roads statewide.

In 2018, the Oconee County Community Development Department prepared a Roadway Collision and Fatality Research report for the Oconee County Planning Commission that provides a statistical baseline. The report examines collision data from 2012 through 2017 and provides additional information that can be used in corridor planning, while examining approaches for mitigation of the causes of collisions such as driving too fast for conditions and driving under the influence. The companion report County Wide Citation Data 2013-2017, Highway 76/123 Traffic Data 2006-2016 released in 2018 provides average annual daily trips and citation information including top routes, days and times of issuance, and ticketed offences related to leading collision causes.

E. COMMUTING PATTERNS

More than 71% of Oconee County workers aged 16 and over both live and work in the County, while nearly one-in-four commute outside of the County to work (Table 9-4). Among those that live in a town or city, only 4.1% or 1,137 workers, also work in the same town or city – a much lower percentage than statewide and nationwide at 16.2% and 31.5%, respectively.

Mean travel time to work for Oconee County workers is 24.7 minutes, similar to the commute time for workers statewide at 24.1 minutes, but slightly lower than commuters throughout the nation at 26.1 minutes (Table 9-4). Nearly one-third (31.1%) of Oconee County workers have a commute time of less than 15 minutes to work – a higher percentage than workers throughout South Carolina and the United States. Eight percent of County workers drive an hour or more to work.

Personal vehicles are the primary travel mode for most Oconee County residents. Only 1.5% of County workers bike, walk, or travel to work on public transportation. Among workers living in Oconee County, 84.2% drive solo to work, while 10% participate in carpools. Only 3.3% of County workforce works at home, which is slightly lower than the statewide percentage of 3.6% and the national rate of 4.6%.

Geographic data on worker commuting patterns is provided in Table 9-5. Of the 7,870 Oconee County residents who travel outside the County for work, more than 45% commute to Pickens County employers, followed by workers commuting to Anderson (22.9%) and Greenville Counties (13.1%). These outgoing commuters offer a potential labor pool for new and expanding industries and businesses as additional or better job opportunities are created closer to home.

Nearly 6,580 workers from surrounding counties and nearby states travel to employers in Oconee County. Pickens County residents lead the influx of in-commuters at 42.4%, followed closely by workers from Anderson County at 31.3%. Table 9-5 lists the top counties of origin for workers commuting into Oconee County, as well as the destination of local commuters.

F. TRANSPORTATION PLANNING

Planning for transportation projects in Oconee County is undertaken at the State, regional, and local levels. Likewise, much of the funding for transportation projects is requested by local governments, reviewed and prioritized through the regional councils of governments, included in the State Transportation Improvement Program, and ultimately provided through Federal transportation programs. Administration of major transportation projects utilizing federal funds is provided by the individual regional Councils of Governments such as the Appalachian Council of Governments that includes Oconee County.

Funding for transportation projects is also provided by the State through the “C Fund” program. Locally, Oconee County utilizes “C Funds,” along with additional funds provided through sources including the County's Road Maintenance Fee and Bridges and Culverts Fund, to construct and pave roads, make road improvements, maintain roads and bridges, and address related transportation needs. These programs and funding sources are explained in greater detail in the sections below and in the Priority Investment Element.

1. Statewide Transportation Planning

The South Carolina Department of Transportation Reform Bill (Act 114) is intended to encourage sound infrastructure investment decisions made within the context of the statewide planning process. Specifically, Act 114 requires SCDOT to establish a priority list of projects to be undertaken through the Statewide Transportation Improvement Program (STIP) and in consultation with metropolitan planning organizations using the following criteria:

- 1) Financial viability including a life-cycle analysis of estimated maintenance and repair costs over the expected life of the project;
- 2) Public safety;
- 3) Potential for economic development;
- 4) Traffic volume and congestion;
- 5) Truck traffic;
- 6) Pavement quality index;
- 7) Environmental impact;
- 8) Alternative transportation solutions; and
- 9) Consistency with local land use plans.

The 2017–2022 STIP is the State's six-year transportation improvement plan for all projects and program areas that receive federal funding, including paving, bridges, upgrades, freight, safety, congestion mitigation, air quality, transportation alternatives, railroad crossings, planning, State Infrastructure Bank payments, preventative maintenance and operations, and public transportation. The STIP only includes projects for which there is committed funding available.

Planning for sound infrastructure is also a primary goal of the South Carolina Priority Investment Act of 2007. The Priority Investment Act amends Section 6-29-1130 of the South Carolina Code of Laws and requires that local government comprehensive plans include a separate Transportation Element. The Act requires that the Transportation Element be developed in coordination with the Land Use element to ensure transportation efficiency for existing and planned development. The Act also requires comprehensive plans to include a Priority Investment Element, which must include an analysis of likely Federal, State and local funds available for public infrastructure and facilities, including transportation systems. The Priority Investment Element must also recommend projects for expenditure of these funds over the next ten years, with recommendations coordinated with adjacent and relevant jurisdictions and agencies.

2. Regional Transportation Planning

Transportation planning for Oconee County is provided by the Appalachian Council of Governments (ACOG). ACOG is responsible for conducting the rural transportation planning process for its six-county region in partnership with SCDOT. The primary responsibilities of all designated transportation planning agencies are to:

- 1) Develop a Rural Long Range Transportation Plan (Rural LRTP), which is, at a minimum, a 25-year transportation vision for the metropolitan area;
- 2) Develop a Rural Transportation Improvement Program (RTIP), which is the agreed-upon list of specific projects for which federal funds are anticipated; and
- 3) Develop a Rural Planning Work Program (RPWP), which identifies, in a single document, the annual transportation planning activities that are to be undertaken in support of the goals, objectives, and actions established in the LRTP.

Input on transportation projects is provided through the ACOG public participation plan and by the Regional Transportation Advisory Committee (RTAC), which includes a representative from each county represented by ACOG, including Oconee County. The committee meets quarterly or as needed to review project status, evaluate proposed modifications to the STIP, update the long-range plan and funding priorities, comment on rural functional classification changes, receive input on the rural work programs, and coordinate special studies. The RTAC forwards recommendations for program changes and project prioritization to the Policy Committee (ACOG Board of Directors), which includes six representatives from Oconee County, for final approval.

a. ACOG Rural Long Range Transportation Plan 2040

The Rural LRTP defines the regional goals for transportation, establishes existing and future transportation needs, and allocates projected revenue to transportation programs and projects that address these needs. The ACOG Rural Long Range Transportation Plan 2040, adopted in 2016, identifies a number of transportation improvement projects in Oconee County. Five intersection improvement projects are considered “fiscally constrained” with funding dependent on Guideshare program allocations. The regional Rural LRTP also lists potential projects in Oconee County for which funding has not been identified. Included are six intersection improvement projects, three access management projects, four bridge improvement projects, eight road segments where the condition of the pavement is rated as “poor” and are in need of improvement, and two priority traffic signalization projects.

b. ACOG 2017-2022 Rural Transportation Improvement Program

The 2017-2022 Rural Transportation Improvement Program (RTIP) for the ACOG region is a six-year program of transportation capital projects that includes a seven-year estimate of transit capital and maintenance requirements. While the RTIP is updated as needed, and biennially at a minimum, amendments must go through a rigorous review by ACOG staff, the RTAC, and the public. The RTIP must be financially constrained, meaning that the amount of funding programmed must not exceed the amount of available estimated funding. Specifically, the RTIP identifies transportation improvement projects recommended for advancement during the program years that receive Federal Highway Administration or Federal Transit Administration funds and identifies the criteria and process for prioritization of projects in the RTIP and any changes from past RTIPs. The RTIP also creates an implementation timeline for projects and includes realistic estimates of total costs and revenue for the program period.

The projects proposed by the RTIP for each Council of Government (COG) or Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) are evaluated and incorporated into the Statewide TIP by the SCDOT Commission. The 2017-2022 RTIP for the Appalachian COG region was adopted in June 2016. Oconee County projects included in the RTIP, including regional prioritization, are listed in Table 9-6. The funding source for all of these projects is the Federal Surface Transportation Block Grant program, with funding allocated by the SCDOT through the Guideshare program.

c. ACOG 2020-2021 Rural Planning Work Program

The Rural Planning Work Program (RPWP) identifies work program tasks and presents budget allocations for planning activities to be undertaken in the rural areas of the ACOG region. Tasks identified in the RPWP include administration and planning for transportation projects in the rural portions of the region, coordination of human service transit activities, and coordination of projects with other regional transportation partners. The RPWP is updated annually and documents major transportation planning and related activities for the coming two fiscal years. The most recent RPWP for the Appalachian COG region was adopted in March 2019. The total two-year budget for the 2020-2021 RWTP is $212,500, of which $170,000 is expected to be provided by the SCDOT and $42,500 by local match funding.

3. State and Local Transportation Funding

The State of South Carolina's "C Program" is a partnership between SCDOT and the State's counties to fund location transportation projects and improvements to State, county, and city roads. Program funds, known as C-Funds, are derived from a 2.9925 cents per gallon user tax on gasoline sales. The tax is allocated to each of the 46 counties based on population, land area, and rural road mileage. The allocation per gallon will increase by 0.3325 cent per gallon each fiscal year through 2021, when it will reach a total of 3.99 cents per gallon. As part of the program, each county has a County Transportation Committee (CTC) with members appointed by the county legislative delegation. The three-member Oconee County Transportation Committee is responsible for the formation of a county transportation plan, and is empowered with the authority to select and approve projects to be funded utilizing C-Funds.

C-Funds may be used for construction, improvements, or maintenance on the State highway system; local paving or improvements to county roads; street and traffic signs; and other road and bridge projects. Resurfacing, sidewalk construction, and drainage improvements may also be paid for with C-Funds. By law, counties must spend at least 25 percent of C-Fund allocations on construction, improvements, and maintenance related to the state highway system, with the remaining 75% available for local transportation system projects. The FY 2018-2019 C-Fund apportionment for Oconee County was $1,951,600 (SCDOT, 2019). The County may request C-Funds based on the annual apportionment amount, however the amount requested by Oconee County has generally been less than $600,000

Oconee County residents are also assessed a tax millage of 2.1 for Road Maintenance and 1.0 for Bridges and Culverts maintenance (Oconee County 2018-2019 Budget Document). Revenue budgeted in FY 2018-2019 totaled $1,171,920 from Road Maintenance and $530,000 for Bridges and Culverts. Road Maintenance funds are primarily used for road paving, maintenance, and repair, while Bridges and Culverts funds are used to replace and repair the County's bridges and culverts.

Additional funding for transportation projects is also provided from other sources including grants. Oconee County receives grant funding from the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) for transportation improvements. National Forestry Title I funding is provided to counties with National Forest lands, with allocation based on gross receipts from all sources such as timber and special permits. The County received $220,000 in FY 2019 from the National Forestry Title I grant.

4. Road Projects Funding Summary

A summary of allocated and anticipated funding from federal, state, and local sources for transportation projects is outlined in Table 9-7 and is based on recent funding levels.

G. TRANSPORTATION FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

Securing funding for needed transportation improvements is a top priority for South Carolina communities. Communities must seek alternative funding resources for much needed transportation projects including road maintenance, paving, bridge repair, transit, sidewalks, greenbelts, connecting trails, and traffic mitigation. The following sections discuss options available to local governments in the Palmetto State.

1. SCDOT Transportation Alternative Program

Oconee County and its municipalities are eligible for transportation enhancement funding under the Transportation Alternative Program (TAP), formerly known as the Transportation Enhancement Project Program, administered by SCDOT. TAP projects are federally-funded, community-based projects that provide opportunities for local governments to pursue non-traditional transportation related activities such as pedestrian and bicycle facilities and pedestrian streetscaping projects that might not otherwise be possible.

The TAP grant program provides funding on a reimbursement basis as part of the Federal-aid Highway Program funded through the FAST initiative. Costs are eligible for reimbursement only after a project has been approved by the State Department of Transportation or a Metropolitan Planning Organization and the FHWA division office. Eligible project areas authorized in FAST for the Transportation Alternatives Program and the SCDOT Commission include pedestrian and bicycle facilities and streetscaping projects. Eligible costs include preliminary and final engineering work such as project development, environmental work, cost estimates, construction plans, utility relocations, construction engineering, construction costs, and right-of-way acquisition. TAP funds generally account for 80% of the total project cost, with local governments required to provide a 20% match.

Available SCDOT program funding is provided in two population-based divisions. Urbanized areas with a population of more than 200,000, also known as a Transportation Management Area (TMA), are eligible to compete for a share of more than $2.9 million designated for urbanized areas of the State. Areas of the State with a population greater than 5,000 other than urban areas have a designated funding pool of more than $1.8 million. The SCDOT has also designated $2.6 million for areas with a population of less than 5,000. Oconee County and the City of Seneca, with populations of 73,375 and 8,228, respectively, are currently eligible in the second category, while the County's other municipalities are eligible under the third category.

Projects proposed by governmental bodies located in areas outside of Transportation Management Areas, such as Oconee County and its municipalities, are considered under the statewide program, with distribution of funds determined by the SCDOT Commission. Such projects are limited to a maximum of $400,000.

2. One Percent (Penny) Sales Tax

A number of South Carolina counties have implemented a one percent sales tax to address capital projects and transportation needs in recent years. Voters in other counties have rejected one percent tax plans, including in Oconee County where voters most recently rejected a proposed one percent sales tax in 2014.

Section 4-37-30 of the South Carolina Code of Laws empowers counties to levy, by ordinance, a special sales and use tax as a source of revenue for highways, roads, streets, bridges, mass transit systems, greenbelts, and other transportation-related facilities including, but not limited to, drainage relating to highways, roads, streets, bridges, and other transportation-related projects. The one percent tax equates to an additional penny on every dollar spent. The public must approve the tax through a referendum. The key advantage to such a tax is that out-of-county workers and residents and tourists who shop in the receiving county also contribute to the tax revenues through their purchases, helping to offset the costs of roads and other facilities.

Under the legislation, counties that implement a one cent sales tax must share the proceeds with their municipalities using a formula based on population and must specify a period of time to collect a set amount of money for the identified projects (not to exceed 25 years or the length of payment for the specified projects). Implementing counties must appoint a commission to consider proposals for funding capital projects and formulate the referendum question for public vote. In addition to funding transportation facilities, revenue from the one cent tax may also be used for civic, educational, and cultural facilities; water and sewer projects; flood control and storm water projects; and dredging, dewatering, and constructing spoil sites.

3. Exactions

An exaction is a form of land use regulation that requires a developer to donate something for the public good in exchange for the right to develop property. By sharing the cost with new residents, exactions aid in protecting the community from the costs of providing additional infrastructure associated with growth. Exactions provide a way for jurisdictions to pass a portion of the cost of public facilities on to a developer at the time the development begins, rather than later through the collection of tax revenues or service charges from new residents. Exactions are formal cost-sharing agreements between the developer and the local government to fund the additional community infrastructure needed to serve the new development.

Several types of exactions may be used by local governments for transportation facilities. A dedication requires that a developer donate land or facilities for public use. For example, a developer may be required to dedicate land for use as a trail or greenway for the residents of the development and connection to existing or future facilities outside of the development. A fee-in-lieu requires the developer to pay a fee instead of providing a public facility on-site. For example, the developer can choose to pay a fee rather than dedicate land for an on-site greenway or trail. This type of exaction provides greater flexibility to local governments to place facilities where they are most needed and appropriate. Impact fees are scheduled charges applied to new development to generate revenue for the construction or expansion of capital facilities located off-site of the new development, but that benefit the contributing development.

The 1999 South Carolina Development Impact Fee Act (SC Code § 6-1-910, et seq.) allows counties and municipalities to impose by ordinance a requirement for payment of development impact fees by a land developer as a condition of development approval. The Act defines a development impact fee as “a payment of money imposed as a condition of development to pay for a proportionate share of the cost of system improvements needed to serve the people utilizing the improvements.” System improvements are capital improvements to public facilities which are designed to provide service to a defined service area. Public facilities include water, wastewater, solid waste and stormwater services, roads, public safety, street lighting, capital equipment, and parks and recreation. Impact fee amounts must be based on actual improvement costs or reasonable estimates of the costs. The process for adopting an impact fee ordinance begins with a resolution by council that directs the planning commission to conduct the necessary studies and recommend an ordinance developed in accordance with the Impact Fee Act. The Act requires detailed calculations to determine impact fees, maximum impact fees, and the developer's proportionate share.

In 1989, Oconee County adopted a Sewer Impact Fee for all users of the wastewater treatment facility and industries specifically permitted to discharge wastewater into the wastewater treatment system. The purpose of the fee is to "obtain revenue for the future renovation, modernization and expansion of the existing wastewater treatment plant and the construction of any new plant." Per the County's Ordinance, the impact fee is an initial charge based on the "permitted or projected volume of wastewater discharge or contribution to the system." Wastewater impact fees are also in place for several of the County's municipalities.

Several court cases have provided guidance in establishing exactions that are reasonable and defensible. First, there must be an "essential nexus," or reasonable connection, between the infrastructure need and the new development (Nollan v. California Coastal Commission, 1987). Essential nexus extends to the establishment of a reasonable connection between the expenditure of the fee collected and the benefits received by the development. Second, there must be a "rough proportionality" in both the nature and extent of the exaction and the impact of the proposed development (Dolan v. Tigard, 2005).

H. PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Affordable and reliable transportation is a necessity for all residents. However, the lower incomes and limited mobility experienced by many special needs populations can magnify the importance of affordable and reliable transit options to maintain employment, receive support services, and access health care and other needed support programs.

Public transit is provided in a number of ways in South Carolina communities. Fixed-route transit service uses passenger vehicles operating on fixed routes and schedules. Route deviation services operate as conventional fixed-route bus services that allow buses to deviate from the route alignment to serve destinations within a prescribed distance of the route. Passengers use the service by calling to request a pickup, or by telling the bus operator if they need to be taken off-route. A demand response service is a transit mode that includes passenger cars, vans, or small buses that operate in response to calls from passengers or their agents to the transit operator, who dispatches a vehicle to pick up the passengers and transport them to their destinations. The vehicles generally do not operate over a fixed-route or on a fixed schedule and may be dispatched to pick up several passengers at different pick-up points before taking them to their respective destinations.

1. Clemson Area Transit

Clemson Area Transit (CAT) provides public transportation in Oconee County. The fare-free service is provided by Clemson University, the City of Clemson, the Town of Central, the Town of Pendleton, the City of Seneca, SCDOT, and the Federal Transit Administration (Clemson Area Transit, 2019). The CATbus system includes three routes that provide service along U.S. Highway 123 to destinations in the City of Seneca (Map 9-4). The Seneca Business and Residential routes operate Monday through Friday from 6:20 a.m. to 6:20 p.m. and the Seneca Express runs Monday through Friday from 5:45 a.m. to 6:25 p.m. In addition to the Seneca routes, the CAT system provides service to destinations in the City of Clemson, Clemson University, Tri-County Technical College, Southern Wesleyan University, the Towns of Central and Pendleton, and Anderson County.

CATbus service in Oconee County is provided through an intergovernmental agreement between the Cities of Clemson and Seneca. Similar agreements are also in place between Clemson and Tri-County Technical College, Southern Wesleyan University, and the Towns of Central and Pendleton.

Map 9-4. CAT Bus Routes in Oconee County

Source: Clemson Area Transit, 2019

CAT operates an all-electric bus fleet, including four zero-emission transit buses and charging stations at Norton Thompson Park and at Oconee Memorial Hospital that serve the Seneca area. The City of Seneca was recently awarded a $1.45 million Low or No Emission Bus Program grant from the Federal Transit Administration to purchase two additional electric buses that will enable expansion of bus service in Oconee County. Discussions are underway on new or expanded routes to be served by these new buses.

All CAT buses are equipped to accommodate persons with disabilities. The system also operates a fixed-route deviation service within three-quarters of a mile of its fixed-routes with curb-to-curb service for persons with disabilities. Requests for this service must be made 24 hours in advance.

2. Senior Solutions

Senior Solutions provides transportation options for Oconee County seniors and their spouses under age 60 and for dependents with disabilities. Pick-up and delivery services are available Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. to non-emergency medical appointments, the Oconee Senior Center, and daily errands such as trips to the grocery store and pharmacy. Handicap-accessible vehicles are available as needed. Reservations for Senior Solutions transportation services must be made three days in advance by calling the agency's Oconee County Transportation Office.

I. BICYCLE AND PEDESTRIAN

Well-designed systems of walkways and trails can provide residents with safe, inexpensive transportation alternatives to access jobs, education, and services. Alternative modes of travel can also help to improve air quality and reduce energy use. According to the 2012-2016 American Community Survey, 246 Oconee County residents reported walking to work and 299 reported traveling to work by taxi, motorcycle, bicycle, or other means.

Information provided by SCDHEC lists multiple benefits of cycling or walking to destinations. In addition to reduced (or no) transportation cost, health benefits include a reduced risk of cancer, diabetes, stroke, and heart attack, along with weight loss and control (Benefits of Alternative Transportation, 2010). The sedentary lifestyle of Americans is largely attributed to the fact that "walking and cycling have been replaced by automobile travel for all but the shortest distances" (Journal of the American Medical Association, October 1999).

As detailed in the Natural Resources Element, there are nearly 193 miles of trails in Oconee County. Most of these trails provide access to parks or natural resources such as water bodies or scenic views or opportunities for hiking or mountain biking. However, very few outside of the County's municipalities provide linkages between residential areas and destinations such as work, shopping, entertainment, recreation, or other residential areas. Dedicated bike lanes are also very limited in the County, with cyclists generally competing with motorized vehicles when traveling public roads. However, there is an increasing interest in providing travel options in Oconee County. The Oconee County Highway 123 Corridor Study and Plan currently under development will include pedestrian and bicycle connections to adjacent and regional amenities and services with features such as sidewalks, street furniture, lighting, and cross walks intended to make the corridor a more friendly, safe, and inviting environment for pedestrians and cyclists.

The S.C. Departments of Transportation and Parks, Recreation and Tourism have jointly proposed two bicycle touring routes through Oconee County (Map 9-5). However, these routes are not currently designed for bicycle touring and may not include bike lanes. In Oconee County, the Savannah River Route follows S.C. Highway 28 from the northern Georgia border through Mountain Rest to Walhalla, then south along S.C. Highway 11 to I-85. The entire 286-mile route generally parallels the course of the Savannah River from the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains to the coastal community of Beaufort. The Northern Crescent Route begins at the Pickens County border and follows S.C. Highway 11 west through the Salem and Tamassee areas, then south to West Union before heading east on S.C. Highway 24 to I-85. The entire 360-mile route runs just south of the North Carolina border to the City of North Myrtle Beach.

J. AIRPORTS

Aviation services for Oconee County and the surrounding area are available at the Oconee County Regional Airport (CEU) on Airport Road in Seneca (Map 9-6). The Airport is owned and operated by Oconee County. CEU has a 5,000 feet by 100 feet paved runway with a precision GPS instrument approach and a non-precision GPS instrument approach. The Airport is home to 75 aircraft, with the ability to host up to 75 transient aircraft with ramp and tie-down spaces. It is home to the Clemson University Flight Department and Clemson Flying Club and is popular with hobby flyers, Clemson football fans flying in for games, and with corporate executives traveling to nearby facilities. Available services include aircraft maintenance, rental car services, fueling services, pilot lounge, WIFI, full kitchen, conference room, and weather and flight planning room.

The Greenville-Spartanburg Airport (GSP) is located approximately 60 miles and an hour west of Seneca and Walhalla. GSP serves more than 2.3 million passengers and ships 60,000 tons of cargo annually through six major passenger carriers and numerous freight carriers (Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, 2019). GSP offers an average of 50 non-stop flights to 19 destinations and is the site of a 120,000 square foot FedEx facility. Air operations are conducted on an 11,001 feet x 150 feet runway. The GSP terminal has 322,446 square feet of space, including third level jet bridge boarding and 13 departure gates. Listed as one of the nation's top 100 commercial service airports, GSP continues to expand to meet growing demand. Recent expansion and renovation of the terminal increased capacity to 4 million passengers per year and completion of a new cargo terminal is expected in mid-2019 (Upstate Business Journal, 2019).

The Hartsville-Jackson Atlanta International Airport (ATL) is approximately 124 miles and a two hour drive from Seneca and Walhalla. ATL is the busiest and most efficient airport in the world, offering nonstop service to more than 150 domestic and 75 international destinations. The terminal complex is more than 6.8 million square feet in size, with seven concourses that include 152 domestic and 40 international gates. Air operations are conducted on five runways with lengths that range from 9,000 feet to 12,390 feet. The Airport is a primary hub for Delta Air Lines and a focus location for many other carriers, serving an average of 275,000 passengers daily. ATL is also a major cargo hub, with three cargo complexes with total space equaling 1.3 million square feet and an adjoining Foreign Trade Zone to reduce operating costs associated with international trade.

K. RAIL AND SHIPPING

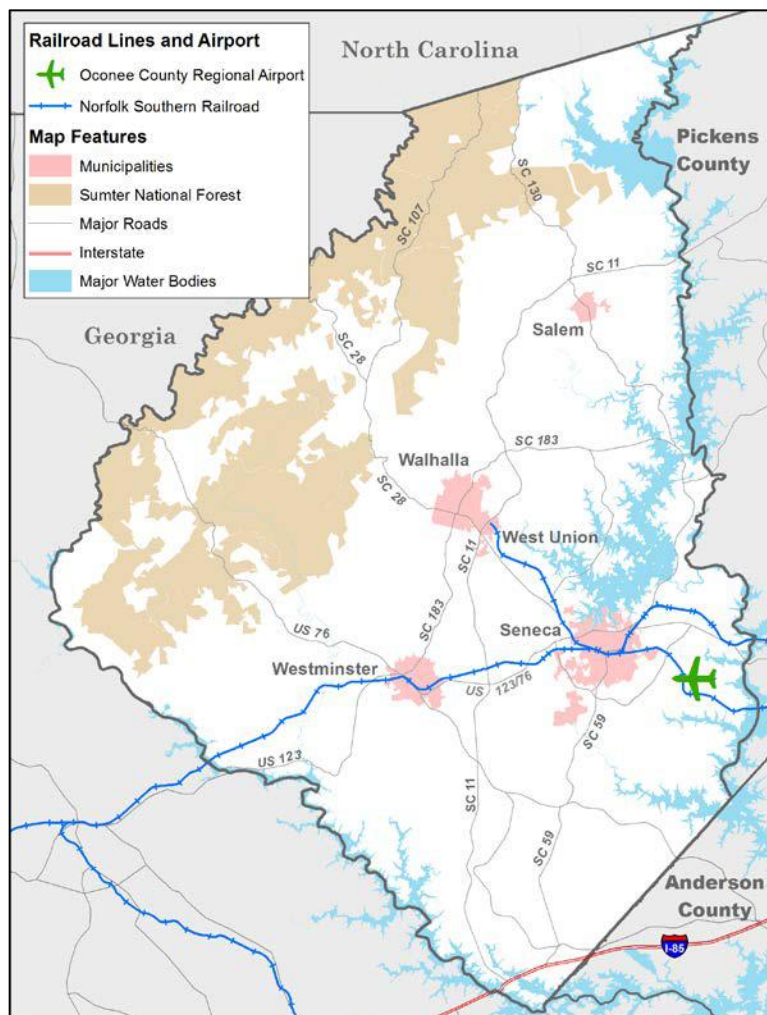

In today's global economy, commercial transportation is critical to a region's potential for business and industrial development. Time sensitive transportation services are increasingly important to gaining a competitive advantage in manufacturing and service-based industries. Transportation options for the mass transport of passengers are also growing in importance, as travelers seek alternatives to individual automobile travel, whether for short commutes or long trips. Convenient and efficient connectivity to areas nationwide and overseas is attractive to businesses and industries. This option is an incentive for economic development and also contributes to the quality of life for area residents.

1. Railroads

The Norfolk Southern Railway provides freight rail service in Oconee County. As shown in Map 9-6, the Norfolk Southern rail line bisects the County from east to west, traveling through Westminster and Seneca, with a spur also running north to Walhalla. Norfolk Southern is the second largest carrier in South Carolina, with 679 miles of rail that account for 30% of the State’s rail system (S.C. Statewide Rail Plan, 2014). The railroad operates a total of 21,500 route miles in 22 states, connecting Oconee County to Greenville, Columbia, Greer, Spartanburg, and Charleston in South Carolina; Augusta and Atlanta in Georgia; and Charlotte, North Carolina and beyond. Access to Amtrak passenger rail service is available nearby in the City of Clemson.

Map 9-6. Railroad Lines and Airport

Source: SCDOT, 2019

Railroad safety is an important issue in transportation planning. There have been only two railway accidents reported in Oconee County in the past decade (FRA Office of Safety, 2019). In 2016, a freight train struck a vehicle at a crossing near Seneca, with no injuries reported. An Amtrak passenger train struck a large tree near Seneca in 2017, with no injuries reported.

a. High Speed Rail

The Passenger Rail Corridor Investment Plan is a study to improve passenger rail service between the cities of Atlanta, Georgia and Charlotte, North Carolina (Georgia Department of Transportation, 2019). The Plan is part of the Southeast High Speed Rail corridor (SEHSR) passenger rail initiative by the Federal Railroad Administration. The corridor extends to four major sections – Atlanta to Charlotte, Charlotte to Raleigh, Raleigh to Richmond, and Richmond to Washington, D.C.

As illustrated in Map 9-7, the SEHSR Corridor Investment Plan identified three alternatives for the Atlanta to Charlotte Passenger Rail Corridor. Two of the alternatives, the Crescent and Interstate 85, are proposed to travel directly through Oconee County, with a stop in Clemson proposed for the Crescent alternative and one in Anderson for the I-85 option. The Crescent alternative would share use with the Norfolk Southern rail line, while the I-85 alternative would predominantly use the I-85 right-of-way. The first tier of the planning process has been completed, with the I-85 alternative ranking highest among the six reviewed, followed closely by the Crescent option. During the second phase (tier II) of the project, analysis will include greater detail on potential environmental impacts for the three alternatives.

2. Trucking

Truck transport “is a cornerstone to the national freight transportation system,” with trucks transporting 70% of all the tonnage in the United States to and from rail, water and air transportation hubs and providing direct service between destinations for the transport of goods and materials (South Carolina Statewide Freight Plan, 2017). Lower operating costs and a higher level of service customization can make shipping by truck a cost effective and attractive alternative to shipping by rail or air. Truck movements in South Carolina totaled 300.6 million tons valued at $506.2 billion in 2011. Primary freight corridors include the State’s five interstates, with major U.S. and State highways also accommodating significant freight flows.

Oconee County’s strategic location along I-85 provides attractive intermodal freight network access for existing and prospective industries. The section of I-85 within Oconee County was used to transport between 25 and 50 million tons of freight in 2011. The portion of U.S. Highway 123 from Pickens County to Westminster was used to transport from one to five million tons of freight and as much as 1 million tons of freight was transported on other major federal and state roads in Oconee County including U.S. Highway 76 and S.C. Highways 107 and 76 during 2011.

3. Ports

The South Carolina Legislature established the South Carolina Ports Authority (SCPA) in 1942. SCPA facilities handled 2.3 million containers at its seaport terminals in Charleston and Georgetown and the inland port in Greer in 2018, a 6.4% increase in volume from the previous year (SCPA, 2019). The SCPA and the State of South Carolina and other agencies and partners are investing $2.4 billion in port-related infrastructure in the coming decade.

Port service for Oconee County is available within five hours southeast (255 miles) through the Port of Charleston – one of the busiest container ports along the Southeast and Gulf coasts and the fastest growing major port in the nation. The Port consistently ranks among the top ten container ports nationwide and ranks 8th in dollar value of goods handled in 2017.

The infrastructure plan for Charleston includes construction of the new 286-acre Hugh H. Leatherman, Sr. container terminal, with completion of a significant portion of the anticipated work in 2021. While the Port currently has the deepest channels in the region, dredging is underway by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to deepen the Charleston Harbor channel from 45 feet to 52 feet, a move that will make the Port even more attractive to freight carriers as the deepest port on the eastern coast.

South Carolina’s first Inland Port opened in 2013 less than an hour east of Oconee County in Greer. The Inland ports extend the Port of Charleston’s reach by providing an inland area connected by rail from which goods could be distributed to the Southeast. Norfolk Southern serves the inland port through its main rail line and the facility is positioned along the Interstate 85 corridor between Charlotte and Atlanta, where Norfolk Southern operates additional rail yards. Rail service maximizes tonnage moved per gallon of fuel for importers and exporters, helping them save costs and lower their carbon footprint. The Port serviced 13 top shipping container lines and 117,812 containers in FY 2017-2018 – a growth rate of 28.5% over the previous fiscal year (S.C. Ports Authority, 2019). The Greer Inland Port adds an additional benefit – access to empty containers – for regional shippers, who can send trucks to Greer for the containers they need to move their goods. The Greer Inland Port recently received a $25 million grant to expand terminal capacity and allow for additional storage and processing tracks. The SCPA opened a second inland port in Dillon in April 2018. This facility is served by CSX railroad.

Chapter 10. Priority Investment Element

The South Carolina Priority Investment Act (PIA) was signed into law in 2007. The PIA amends Title 6, Chapter 29 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, also known as the South Carolina Local Government Comprehensive Planning Enabling Act of 1994. The legislation introduced the two new elements of Transportation and Priority Investment to the comprehensive planning process. The Priority Investment Element is intended to facilitate the coordination of major capital improvements and provide direction for implementing recommended strategies of other Plan elements that call for capital improvements. The Priority Investment Element encourages local governments to examine future capital improvement needs, as well as identify planned funding sources for these improvements in the coming decade.

In addition to encouraging local governments to plan for long-term capital improvement needs and financing, the Priority Investment Element encourages stronger intergovernmental planning and coordination. Specifically, the legislation calls for comprehensive plans to include: "a priority investment element that analyzes the likely federal, state, and local funds available for public infrastructure and facilities during the next ten years, and recommends the projects for expenditure of those funds during the next ten years for needed public infrastructure and facilities such as water, sewer, roads, and schools. The recommendation of those projects for public expenditure must be done through coordination with adjacent and relevant jurisdictions and agencies."

A. INTERGOVERNMENTAL COORDINATION

While many of the public facilities such as governmental buildings and parks in Oconee County are owned and maintained by the County, many others are owned and maintained by entities such as the State of South Carolina, the School District of Oconee County, Tri-County Technical College, private utility providers, and the municipalities of Seneca, Walhalla, Westminster, Salem, and West Union. Many improvements to facilities throughout the County have been and will continue to be accomplished through coordination and cooperation with multiple public and private entities. Regional solutions to needs shared by more than one jurisdiction or organization can result in greater efficiency and less cost to taxpayers. Regional cooperation should be encouraged in setting priorities, identifying shared needs, and finding collaborative solutions, particularly where it is critical to the success of an initiative, such as the development of a safe and efficient transportation network.

The South Carolina Priority Investment Act requires that the recommendation of capital improvement projects requiring public expenditure be done through "coordination with adjacent and relevant jurisdictions and agencies." The Act defines adjacent and relevant jurisdictions and agencies as "those counties, municipalities, public service districts, school districts, public and private utilities, transportation agencies, and other public entities that are affected by or have planning authority over the public project." Adjacent and relevant jurisdictions and agencies identified as providing public facilities or related services within Oconee County are listed in Table 10-1.

B. FUTURE CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT NEEDS AND FUNDING SOURCES

A number of public infrastructure and facilities needs have been identified for Oconee County for the coming decade through the development of the required elements of the Comprehensive Plan, as well as previously developed plans and studies. These capital improvements include those that will be funded and accomplished by the County or its municipalities, as well as projects that will be funded and accomplished by other entities such as the Appalachian Regional Council of Governments, the School District of Oconee County, and local utility providers. Oconee County must continue to explore new partnerships and funding sources to meet capital needs, while ensuring that the most critical needs are met.

The top public infrastructure and capital investment priorities in the coming decade will require that Oconee County:

1. Provide quality public services, facilities, and infrastructure to accommodate the current and future needs of current and future residents, businesses, and visitors, to ensure health and safety and meet applicable local, federal, and state requirements.
2. Provide a modern, functional, and multi-modal transportation system to reduce traffic congestion and provide affordable transport for all citizens, particularly the work force.
3. Preserve, protect, and enhance the County's natural, cultural, recreational, agricultural, and historic resources.
4. Study and address the land use, transportation, and development issues related to fast growing and changing areas of the County.
5. Provide, maintain, and improve public recreation facilities to accommodate the current and future needs of County residents and visitors of all ages.
6. Provide the facilities, infrastructure, workforce, and support needed to attract and retain quality industrial and commercial development and diversify the County's employment and tax base.
7. Provide, maintain, and improve public education facilities to accommodate the current and future lifelong learning needs of County residents of all ages.

Anticipated funding from federal, state, and local sources for public infrastructure and facilities during the next ten years is outlined in Table 10-2 and is based on recent funding levels.

C. OCONEE COUNTY FACILITIES

Capital improvements are defined as major expenditures for construction of facilities, highways, parks, land acquisition, and related needs. For the purposes of the Comprehensive Plan, capital improvements focus on areas that apply more directly to land use, including paving, building, and land expenditures. The 2018-2019 Five Year Capital Plan for Oconee County provides short and long-term capital expenditure goals (Table 10-4). Updated annually and included in the annual budget presented to County Council, the Plan provides a blueprint for future economic, land use, and infrastructure development and redevelopment. It is intended to assist in "implementing policies and programs that accomplish the ideals set out in the County's mission and vision statements in a manner that ensures financial sustainability over the long term."

D. TRANSPORTATION AND ROADS

Planning to meet current and future transportation needs is accomplished through programs at the state, regional and local levels. For Oconee County, transportation planning and funding allocations are provided by the South Carolina Department of Transportation (SCDOT), the Appalachian Council of Governments (CMCOG), and the Oconee County Transportation Committee.

1. Regional Rural Transportation Program

As the designated transportation agency for the non-urbanized areas of the Appalachian Council of Governments Region, the ACOG is responsible for carrying out the rural transportation planning process for the six-county region that includes Oconee County. The primary responsibilities of the ACOG are to:

- Develop a Rural Long Range Transportation Plan (LRTP) to provide the 25-year rural transportation vision; and
- Develop a Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) with a list of specific projects for which federal funds are anticipated.

The primary transportation needs in Oconee County are detailed in the Rural Long Range Transportation Plan 2040 that was adopted in 2016 and in the Oconee County Transportation Element. These needs include five intersection improvement projects with funding dependent on Guideshare program allocations. Potential projects for which funding has not been identified to date include six intersection improvement projects, three access management projects, four bridge improvement projects, eight road segments where the condition of the pavement is in need of repair, and two priority traffic signalization projects.

The ACOG Rural Transportation Improvement Program (RTIP) is the region's six-year transportation improvement program for all capital projects or program areas receiving federal funding. The 2017-2022 RTIP for the Appalachian COG region was most recently amended in 2019. As detailed in Table 8-6 of the Transportation Element, there are four RTIP projects in Oconee County, totaling $300,000 for FY 2017, $750,000 for FY 2018, $2 million for FY 2019, $850,000 for FY 2020, $1.8 million for FY 2021, and $2.75 million in FY 2022. These projects include planning, right-of-way acquisition, and construction for intersection improvements on U.S. Highway 123 at Davis Creek Road, S.C. Highway 24 at Oakway Road, S.C. Highway 59 at S.C. Highway 182/243, and J.P. Stevens Road at West Cherry Road and at Martin Creek Road. The U.S. Highway 123 intersection project is ranked first in priority among all intersection improvement projects in the ACOG region.

2. SCDOT Transportation Alternatives Program

Oconee County is eligible for transportation enhancement funding under the Transportation Alternatives Program (TAP) administered by SCDOT. TAP projects are federally-funded, community-based projects that provide opportunities for local governments to pursue non-traditional transportation related activities such as pedestrian and bicycle facilities and pedestrian streetscaping projects that might not otherwise be possible. Transportation Alternatives funds generally comprise 80% of the total project cost, with a 20% match from local governments.

SCDOT funding is provided through three population-based programs. Jurisdictions with populations of less than 200,000 and greater than 5,000, including Oconee County and the City of Seneca, have a designated funding pool of more than $1.8 million. SCDOT has designated $2.6 million for areas with a population of less than 5,000, which includes the other municipalities in Oconee County. Projects proposed by governmental bodies located in areas outside of Transportation Management Areas, such as Oconee County and its municipalities, are considered under the statewide program, with distribution of funds determined by the SCDOT Commission. These projects are limited to a maximum of $400,000.

3. C-Fund Allocation

At the local level, C-Funds are available for construction, improvements, or maintenance on the State highway system; local paving or improvements to county or city roads; street and traffic signs; and other road and bridge projects. Resurfacing, drainage improvements, and sidewalk construction may also be accomplished with C-Funds. C-Funds are derived from a statewide 2.9925 cent per gallon user tax on gasoline sales that are deposited in the County Transportation Fund and allocated to the counties through a formula based on total number of vehicles registered and miles of road within each county. The allocation per gallon will increase by 0.3325 cent per gallon each fiscal year through 2021, when it will reach a total of 3.99 cents per gallon. At least 25% of the allocated C-Funds must be spent on state roads. Each county has a County Transportation Committee with members appointed by the county legislative delegation. The Oconee County C-Fund Committee has the authority to select and approve projects to be funded utilizing C-Funds. The C-Fund apportionment for Oconee County was $1,951,600 in FY 2018-2019.

4. Other Road Improvement Funds

Oconee County assesses an annual millage of 2.1 for road maintenance. Road maintenance funding is used to maintain roadways including repair of pot holes and road shoulders and road resurfacing within the County. Revenue from the road maintenance millage was $1,171,920 in FY 2019. An additional 1.0 mill is also assessed for the replacement and repair of bridges and large culverts on County-owned roads. Revenue from the Bridges and Culverts millage was $530,000 in FY 2019.

Oconee County also receives grant funding from the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) for transportation improvements. National Forestry Title I funding is provided to counties with National Forest lands, with allocation based on gross receipts from all sources such as timber and special permits. The County received $220,000 in FY 2019 from the National Forestry Title I grant.

E. PUBLIC K-12 SCHOOLS AND HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

1. School District of Oconee County

The School District of Oconee County (SDOC) operates ten elementary schools, three middle schools, and three high schools, providing educational services for nearly 10,500 students in grades pre-K through 12. The District's Hamilton Career Center offers more than 20 career and technology education programs that support over 1,000 students from the District's three high schools as they prepare for transition to career and college. The District also offers adult education in the form of a diploma program, High School Equivalency classes, and career readiness instruction and testing.

Construction began in April 2019 on the School District's new Hamilton Career and Technology Center. The $35 million, 140,000 ft² Center will be co-located in the Oconee County Industry and Technology Park with the new Oconee Campus of Tri-County Technical College. Completion of the Center is anticipated in August 2020. Once the new facility is completed, the current Hamilton Career Center building will be repurposed as the home of the Oconee Academy alternative school and Adult Education. The $400,000 renovation will also accommodate the District's maintenance and food services departments, as well as the early learning program. The remodeled building is expected to be ready for occupation in August 2020.

SDOC has two additional projects slated for the coming decade. Construction of a new Seneca Middle school is planned at an estimated cost of $40 to $45 million, with completion anticipated in August 2023. An addition is planned for the James M. Brown Elementary School that will add six to eight classrooms and a gymnasium at an estimated cost of $8 to $10 million, with projected occupancy in August 2025.

2. Tri-County Technical College

Tri-County Technical College (TCTC) is the fifth largest of the 16 public, two-year colleges that comprise the South Carolina Technical Education System. The Oconee County campus in the Oconee County Industry and Technology Park opened in 2018. The campus will house the School District's new Career Center. The campus includes a new $5.5 million, 37,000 ft² instructional and administrative building. Although the College will monitor usage and space needs on the Oconee County campus, there are currently no plans for new construction in the next decade.

F. WATER FACILITIES

Access to water services is available in many areas of the County through seven primary public providers: the cities of Clemson, Seneca, Westminster, and Walhalla; the towns of Salem and West Union; and Pioneer Rural Water District. Water is also provided by several individual systems. Seneca Light and Water draws surface water from Lake Keowee, the City of Walhalla from Coneross Creek, and the City of Westminster from the Chauga River. Water for the City of Clemson, the towns of Salem and West Union, and the Pioneer Rural Water District is purchased.

The City of Walhalla began construction on a new water treatment facility in January 2019 that will draw water from the Cane Creek Branch of Lake Keowee, with a capacity of 4 MGD. The cost of the new facility is $20.8 million, with completion expected in the fall of 2020.

The City of Westminster has applied for a ConserFund loan from the S.C. Office of Regulatory Staff to upgrade its pumps to five variable frequency drive pumps that will be more energy efficient. Completion of the project is anticipated in 2020 at a projected cost of $414,556.

G. WASTEWATER FACILITIES

The availability of sewer service is limited in Oconee County, with access concentrated in the developed areas in and near the cities of Seneca, Westminster and Walhalla, along the U.S. Highway 123 corridor between Seneca and Westminster, the S.C. Highway 11 corridor that connects Walhalla to U.S. Highway 123, and along the S.C. Highway 59 corridor extending south from Seneca. Access to wastewater treatment is provided by five primary providers, the Oconee Joint Regional Sewer Authority (OJRSA), the Town of West Union, and the cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster. Public wastewater treatment is provided at OJRSA's Coneross Creek Wastewater Treatment Plant, with a capacity of 7.8 MGD.

The OJRSA is working with Oconee County on an expansion of the wastewater conveyance system to the Fair Play community in the southern area of the County. The purpose of the project is to provide reliable sewer service and enable economic development opportunities along the I-85 corridor. The S.C. Rural Infrastructure Authority has approved $935,566 and the Economic Development Administration of the U.S. Department of Commerce has approved $3.7 million in funding for the estimated $5.29 million project. Oconee County will also be contributing $655,570, including engineering and permitting, for the project. Construction is expected to take approximately two years, with completion anticipated in 2021. This project is included in the Oconee County 2019 Strategic Planning Report (Table 10-5).

H. RECREATION FACILITIES

Oconee County owns, operates and maintains three public parks and leases eight public boat ramps. The parks all include campsites with water and electricity, picnic shelters, playgrounds, and other recreation opportunities. While Chau Ram County Park includes a 40-foot waterfall, suspension bridge, and miles of hiking trails, High Falls and South Cove County Parks offer waterfront access to Lake Keowee, including boat ramps, fishing piers, and swimming areas.

Oconee County purchased a 218-acre parcel of land adjacent to Chau Ram County Park in the summer of 2019, at a cost of $765,000, including $500,000 in grant funding. The purchase will enable the County to plan for expansion of camping and hiking opportunities, as well as mountain biking. Master planning for the site is expected at a later date.

Oconee County is working with Duke Energy on the possibility of an expansion to the High Falls County Park. The potential expansion would add 36 acres of land in a lease agreement with Duke Energy. A master plan for High Falls II has been completed in partnership with Duke Energy and is awaiting funding availability. The expansion will include a new campground, boat ramp, rental cabins, and associated infrastructure at an estimated cost of $5 to $7 million.

I. AIRPORT

Aviation services for Oconee County and the surrounding area are available at the Oconee County Regional Airport (CEU) on Airport Road in Seneca. The Airport is owned and operated by Oconee County and includes a 5,000 feet by 100 feet paved runway with a precision GPS instrument approach and a non-precision GPS instrument approach. Airport staff report a dramatic increase in airport use in recent years spurred by local manufacturing companies, new home owners, vacationers, construction crews, military traffic, and visitors to Clemson University events. Air traffic related to Clemson games requires that CEU utilizes a temporary control tower on game day weekends and for the Greer approach as needed.

Plans for the Oconee Regional Airport include relocation of Mt. Nebo Road out of the Runway Protection Zone to the Airport. The Road will be re-routed around the Mt. Nebo Church parking lot to connect with Harbin Acres Road. The project serves two purposes – to improve safety in CEU's airspace safety buffer and to provide additional aircraft parking on an adjacent area for peak air traffic times such as Clemson home football games. The project will be funded primarily by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Airport Improvement Program, with additional funding provided by the S.C. Aeronautics Commission and Oconee County. This project is included in the Oconee County 2019 Strategic Planning Report (Table 10-5).

J. LIBRARY

The Oconee County Public Library system includes four facilities: the main branch in Walhalla constructed in 1979, the Seneca branch that was built in 1953 and expanded in 1983, the Westminster branch constructed in 1979, and the Salem branch that shares space with the Salem Town Hall.

In 2014, the Library developed a facility plan to build, replace, or upgrade aging facilities to serve the current and future needs of the community. The following projects are listed in the order of priority, with funding sources yet to be identified. Estimated project costs were provided in 2014 and are subject to increases. However, though the Library Board approved this plan, the Oconee County Council has not voted on the plan.

- Replace the aging Seneca Library with a new 32,000 square foot facility at an estimated cost of $9 million.
- Renovate and expand the aging Westminster Library by 3,250 square feet for a total building size of 8,300 square feet at an estimated cost of $1.3 million.
- Select and purchase sites for new Salem and Fair Play library locations, with estimated costs of $110,000 and $150,000, respectively.
- Renovate and reconfigure the aging Walhalla main library at an estimated cost of $1 million.
- Construct new 7,000 square foot facilities for the Salem Library and the Fair Play/South County Library at an estimated cost of $1.9 million for each building.

K. COORDINATION AND NOTIFICATION

As required by the provisions of the South Carolina Priority Investment Act, Oconee County notifies and coordinates with adjacent jurisdictions and relevant agencies when recommending expenditures on public infrastructure and facilities projects. Throughout the development of the Priority Investment Element, Oconee County consulted the numerous municipalities, adjacent jurisdictions, and relevant agencies listed in Table 10-1. These consultations addressed current public capital facilities needs and the past, on-going, and future capital facilities projects that currently serve or are planned to serve the residents and employers of Oconee County. A draft of the Priority Investment Element was also sent to each identified jurisdiction and agency for review and comment prior to adoption. Existing plans from other jurisdictions or agencies that impact the provision of capital facilities and related services for County residents were also consulted and incorporated by reference in the appropriate Comprehensive Plan elements.

Chapter 11. Land Use Element

Land is a finite resource. Planning for land use plays an essential role in balancing the demand for specific types of uses with the need to protect the community's amenities, character, and resource base. The goal of land use planning is to guide a more efficient land development pattern that maximizes community resources and enhances the overall quality of life for Oconee County residents.

The Land Use Element is the centerpiece of the Comprehensive Plan, representing a culmination of the issues, information, analyses, goals and objectives of the other eight required plan elements. These elements provide the foundation of the Land Use Element and illustrate the need for various types of land uses to include residential, agricultural, commercial, industrial, public, institutional, and recreational land.

Preparation of the Land Use Element is also the most challenging task in the comprehensive planning process. The Element recognizes current and historical trends while providing an opportunity to reflect on strengths, challenges, and opportunities. Because the process relies on multiple variables, crafting a future land use plan is not an exact science. While data plays an important role, less quantifiable factors like public opinion, beliefs, and values are equally important. Variables including market demand, land availability, population and economic trends, the environment, transportation, community character, current policies, natural disasters, and the provision of community facilities and services must also be taken into account in land use planning.

The purpose of this chapter is to profile existing land use patterns and forecast future land use. An existing land use inventory has been developed by County staff using the parcel-based land use data in the County's Geographic Information System (GIS). The Future Land Use Plan reflects the community's desire to guide and direct growth, supplemented with goals, policies and strategies that support the eight preceding plan elements. The Future Land Use Map in this chapter serves as a visual representation of the land use goals, policies and strategies that have been derived from community and Planning Commission input as part of the other eight planning elements. Relevant documents have been referenced and incorporated where appropriate.

A. EXISTING LAND USE

In order to plan for future development in Oconee County, it is necessary to inventory current land uses, assess development patterns and trends, identify undeveloped properties, examine the impact of existing land use regulation, and evaluate the capability of existing conditions to accommodate the future land use needs of the community. An inventory of existing land uses within the County was developed through a geographic information system (GIS) analysis of digital mapping data. The mapping of existing land uses integrates land use category definitions with Oconee County Assessor tax parcel data, as well as County staff knowledge.

Land uses in the unincorporated area of Oconee County were classified and mapped using the following ten categories as profiled in Table 11-1 and Figure 11-1 and depicted in the Existing Land Use Map (Map 11-1).

- Agriculture and Forest – Land used primarily for agricultural and forestry purposes, including uses accessory to agriculture or forestry such as residences for farm owners or workers and storage for equipment or crops. Properties that are less than five acres in size and are classified in the Oconee County Assessor’s database as agricultural for taxation purposes but include a residence are not included in this land use category. Land in agriculture or forestry use is the most prevalent in Oconee County, accounting for more than half or 191,778 acres of the County’s total unincorporated land area.
- Commercial – Land used to conduct businesses, trade activities, professional activities or services, administrative activities, or personal services. Included are establishments for wholesale or retail sale of goods and services, restaurants, entertainment facilities, administrative or professional offices, gas stations, grocery stores, personal services, furniture stores, clothing stores, car sales, hotels and motels, and nursery or garden centers. Commercial land uses comprise 1.5% or more than 5,726 acres of the County’s unincorporated land area.
- Industrial – Land used to manufacture, assemble, process, or fabricate goods and/or to store or transport goods. Examples include manufacturing plants, industrial parks, truck terminals, and warehouses. Industrial land use comprises 0.5% or more than 1,917 acres of the total unincorporated County land area. Much of Oconee County’s industrial development has occurred along major transportation routes including U.S. Highway 123 and S.C. Highway 28 between Seneca and Walhalla, S.C. Highway 11 from Walhalla south past U.S. Highway 123, along Wells Highway near Seneca, and near Interstate 85.

- Single-Family Residential – Land used for detached single-family residential structures and manufactured homes on individual properties. Properties that are less than five acres in size and are classified in the Oconee County Assessor’s database as agricultural for taxation purposes, but have residential improvements on the property, are included in this land use category. Single-family residential uses comprise 11.2% or nearly 41,892 acres of the unincorporated land area in Oconee County. While single-family residences are located throughout the County, much of the County’s single-family development is concentrated near the County’s municipalities and Lake Keowee and Lake Hartwell.
- Manufactured Home Parks – Land with improvements and utilities to accommodate the long-term parking of three or more manufactured homes. Eighty-six manufactured home parks have been identified, totaling more than 422 acres.
- Multi-Family Residential – Land used for residential structures other than those included in the Single-Family Residential land use category, including structures containing two or more dwelling units, duplexes, zero lot line developments, patio home developments, condominium developments, and townhouses. Higher density multi-family residential uses account for only 300 acres in the unincorporated area of the County.
- Parks and Recreation – Land used for public active and passive recreation or for open space preservation. Examples of park and recreation uses include ball fields, golf courses, tennis courts, parks, greenways, public gardens, playgrounds, conservation areas, nature preserves, state parks, wildlife management areas, and recreation centers and facilities. Residents of Oconee County have access to numerous recreational opportunities, with nearly 8,730 acres (2.3% of all unincorporated land area) classified as Parks and Recreation.
- Public and Institutional – Land used primarily for private, public, quasi-public, religious, philanthropic, or other activities undertaken to provide for the social, cultural, educational, health, or physical betterment of the community and public governance. Examples include schools, churches, hospitals, congregate care facilities (nursing homes), postsecondary institutions, community non-profits, libraries, cemeteries, and government offices. More than 9,901 acres of land (2.6% of all County unincorporated lands) are in Public and Institutional use in Oconee County. Uses in this category are located throughout the County, with many concentrated in the vicinity of Seneca and Walhalla and along major roads. Clemson University owns more than one-third of all public and institutional land in the unincorporated area of Oconee County. Most of this 3,314 acres is located west of Seneca near the Pickens County border and close to the University.
- Sumter National Forest – Lands within the Sumter National Forest. At more than 83,633 acres, these Federally-owned lands comprise the second largest land use in Oconee County, accounting for 22.3% of all unincorporated land area.
- Utility – Land used for utilities including electricity, natural gas, water, sewer, and communications. Utilities comprise 3.1% of all land use or almost 11,437 acres in unincorporated Oconee County. Duke Energy is by far the largest single owner of land in utility use in the County at more than 4,200 acres.

- Vacant Land – Land area not developed for a specific use or assigned a land use classification. More than 18,745 acres (5% of all unincorporated land) is classified for land use planning purposes as vacant or undeveloped. However, much of the County's 191,778 acres currently in Agriculture and Forestry use does not include physical improvements such as buildings and could also be considered undeveloped.

B. FUTURE LAND USE

The Future Land Use (FLU) Map is a reference for the physical development of Oconee County and sets the context and provides the vision for future growth and development in the County for the next ten years. As detailed in the Population and Housing Elements, by 2030 the Oconee County population is projected to increase by 7,678 persons, accompanied by nearly 3,335 new dwelling units.

1. Future Land Use Map

Development of the Future Land Use Map is anchored by land use data provided by the existing land use map and supplemented by staff knowledge of current development trends and potential future development areas. As illustrated in the Existing Land Use Map, the Sumter National Forest comprises a large percentage of all unincorporated land in Oconee County and much of the remaining land is primarily rural in nature (Map 11-1). Commercial areas, industrial development, and residential areas have evolved and matured over time and have been incorporated in the Future Land Use Map. For consistency, the following future land use categories used in the 2010 Comprehensive Plan for Oconee County have been updated for use in the 2030 Comprehensive Plan and are depicted in Map 11-2.

- Agricultural Preservation identifies areas deemed to be prime or special agriculture lands that are vital to the continuation of agricultural enterprise in Oconee County. Because agriculture-related activities typically impact most aspects of life within such areas, uses should be limited to those that are compatible with ongoing agricultural activity and can coexist with the secondary effects commonly associated with such activities.
- Rural/Agricultural identifies those areas characterized by a continuing rural lifestyle, farming, agricultural activities, and open lands. This area is generally sparsely populated, but includes pockets of commercial uses and mixed-use development. Although not identified as a preservation area, new uses should not negatively impact existing land uses.
- Rural Suburban identifies those areas that have undergone conversion from rural lands to a mix of uses, but remain predominantly characterized by a rural landscape and farming. Infrastructure sufficient to support additional development is reasonably accessible, and pockets of significant development exist throughout. New uses should be compatible with existing, with limited impact on the overall character of the area.
- Suburban Transitional identifies areas of densest development. These areas are well served by infrastructure and are suitable for continued development. New uses may vary in nature and intensity, but should not negatively impact existing land uses.
- Residential are those areas deemed to be appropriate for development primarily focused on residential uses. Such areas may contain significant clusters of existing residential developments, as well as pockets of agriculture, rural, commercial, and other land uses. Although new uses may vary, they should not detract from the overall residential character of area, and not impose negative secondary impacts on nearby properties.

- Parks and Recreation lands are primarily reserved for recreational use, and as such are reasonably open to the public.
- Industrial areas are reserved for existing, planned, and future industrial or commercial uses. This in no way imposes a limitation on the location of such uses in other future land use categories or other land uses in the industrial category, where appropriate.
- Sumter National Forest includes all federally-owned and managed lands within the Sumter National Forest.

The analysis of future land use in Oconee County provided in Table 11-2 does not include land areas within the cities of Seneca, Walhalla, and Westminster and the towns of Salem and West Union because the County does not conduct land use planning and regulation within the incorporated borders. Table 11-2 contains the breakdown of land uses in the County.

Table 11-2. Future Unincorporated County Land Use by Area

Future Land Use	Acres	%
Rural/Agricultural	118,762.4	31.7%

The U.S. Highway 123 corridor that connects Seneca and Westminster is designated primarily as Suburban Transitional, but is also designated as Industrial on the Future Land Use map. The intention of this dual designation is to encourage the continued development of a mixture of higher intensity uses including industrial, commercial, and support activities, with convenient access to U.S. Highway 123 and to S.C. Highway 11 that provides a direct connection to I-85 to the south.

2. Future Development Opportunities and Challenges

Oconee County has an abundance of opportunities to support future growth and development. The County's strategic location along the busy I-85 corridor that connects the Greenville, Atlanta, and Charlotte metropolitan regions makes it attractive to prospective businesses and industries, as evidenced by the County's expanding manufacturing base. The County's location is also a draw for potential residents who are seeking a more rural or smaller town lifestyle within an easy drive of employment centers within Oconee County or in nearby Clemson, Greenville, and Anderson. Retirees are increasingly drawn to the area. The need for higher educational attainment and specialized job skills to meet the needs of existing and prospective higher wage industries and businesses is being addressed through job training programs and facilities provided at the new Oconee County campus of Tri County Technical College. The desirability of Oconee County as a place to live, work, and play is further enhanced by an abundance of natural, historic, and cultural resources and a strong sense of community.

A wide range of factors will shape this development potential including the economy, development intent of private property owners, affordability and obtainability of housing, regional growth trends, and the availability of infrastructure. As is the case in any growing community, Oconee County faces a number of challenges in the coming decade. However, each challenge also presents opportunities for positive growth and change.

A number of areas in the County are in transition in terms of character, density, and land uses. Formerly rural areas are transitioning to more suburban residential development. Student-oriented housing developments and accompanying commercial development are drawn to major corridors near Clemson University. New residents and visitors are increasingly attracted to the County's lakes, rivers, and other natural resources. Proximity to a major university and nearby metropolitan areas, coupled with its quiet rural character are also appealing. These changes boost the local economy and bring much needed commercial activity to Oconee County residents. However, increased housing density and associated commercial development will result in higher traffic volumes on key transportation routes and can increase travel times and cause congestion during peak hours. A growing and increasingly more diverse population in terms of age, income, and expectations will likely impact schools and infrastructure and can bring differing expectations for a range of issues such as public services, land use, recreation, and community appearance. The County has been proactive in addressing these issues and recently conducted a focused study of the U.S. Highway 123 corridor. Planning for growth along these corridors provides an opportunity to explore options to encourage development while ensuring traffic safety; accommodate pedestrians, cyclists, and transit; and create an attractive and functional environment for residents and visitors.

Oconee County enjoys mutually beneficial working relationships with its municipalities, adjacent jurisdictions such as the City of Clemson and Pickens County, Clemson University, Duke Power, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, home owners associations, and other organizations. With so many related groups and jurisdictions, it is challenging to maintain regular communication while building on established relationships and initiatives. However, the mutually dependent nature of these relationships provides opportunities to establish new and enhanced ways to share information and ideas and coordinate and cooperate where appropriate and needed. Such formal and informal lines of communication are necessary in emergency situations, but are also vital to providing reasonable and consistent land use planning and requirements in growth areas that span municipal boundaries and for planning for the provision of infrastructure, recreation, and services.

Oconee County is working with the OJRSA to expand the wastewater system to the Fair Play community in the I-85 area. This and other future infrastructure expansions will provide reliable water and sewer service to residents and businesses and enhance economic development efforts in these areas. However, as with the fast-growing major transportation corridors, opportunities for growth also present challenges in terms of increased traffic and associated transportation issues. Planning for growth in these areas provides opportunities to encourage new developments, businesses, and industries while ensuring traffic flow and safety and an attractive and productive addition to the community.

Oconee County has several ordinances in place related to land use regulation, including the Zoning Enabling Ordinance and Unified Performance Standards that regulate sexually-oriented businesses, airport height, communications towers, group residential developments, tattoo facilities, and signs, and include land development and subdivision regulations. Administration and enforcement of these regulations can pose a challenge to staff as they navigate multiple ordinances that include redundancies and contradictory requirements and definitions. However, this also presents an opportunity to consolidate land use regulations into one comprehensive document to improve clarity, remove duplication, ensure consistency, and streamline staff review and administration.

Housing affordability data in the Housing Element indicate that 45% of all renters and nearly 30% of all homeowners in Oconee County are cost-burdened, paying more than 30% of household income for homeowner costs or rent and associated costs such as utilities, taxes, and insurance. Local agency and community representatives indicate that it is difficult for young families, professionals, and others who would like to live and work in the County to find homes in moderate price ranges that are safe and in good condition. This presents an opportunity for the County to work with developers and public and private organizations to encourage and enable development of affordable housing options and to rehabilitate existing housing where feasible to meet this need.

Oconee County is blessed with unparalleled natural resources, as detailed in the Natural Resources Element. Additionally, the County has a rich agricultural tradition that continues to thrive. Stewardship of these resources creates both challenges and opportunities. Perhaps the most critical challenge is how to balance protection of these resources with encouragement of appropriate and complimentary growth and development. Included in that challenge is the need to provide reasonable and safe access to the County's lakes and rivers for residents and visitors, while protecting the rights of private property owners. Much of the land in the County is in the Sumter National Forest, which protects many of the County's natural resources. Likewise, agricultural lands are in private ownership. However, as the County continues to grow, it has an opportunity to explore ways to incorporate procedures, guidelines, requirements, and educational programs that will protect natural resources and agriculture from incompatible or potentially harmful land uses without unduly limiting growth and development.

In addition to abundant natural resources, Oconee County residents and visitors have access to the Sumter National Forest, four State parks, three county parks, the Stumphouse Tunnel/Issaqueena Falls Park that includes a new Mountain Bike Park, and 193 miles of trails ranging in size from small spurs of less than a mile to the 77-mile Foothills Trail. Many of the trails lead hikers to nearly 150 waterfalls and other destinations as detailed in the Natural Resources Element. The Oconee passage of the Palmetto Trail connects Oconee State Park to the Oconee Station State Historical Site. These resources serve as the foundation of the opportunity to further incorporate trails and greenways to connect neighborhoods, parks, employment centers, essential services, and other key locations in the County and encourage travel alternatives such as biking and walking. In Walhalla, a greenway plan has been proposed that would connect the Stumphouse Tunnel Park to the City's downtown and serve as the western terminus of the Palmetto Trail. Transportation corridor studies can also accommodate pedestrians and cyclists, as was done in the County's U.S. Highway 123 Corridor Study.

The Land Use Element is the culmination of the goals, objectives, and implementation strategies developed in the other eight plan elements and provides a blueprint for the development of the community for the coming decade. The Future Land Use Map and the accompanying goals, objectives and implementation strategies provide the basis for policy decisions impacting the general location, density, and intensity of land uses. These are grounded in the overarching goals of enhancing and preserving community character; protecting natural, cultural and historic resources; reducing sprawl; ensuring adequate public services; promoting sound fiscal management and allocation of resources; and meeting long-term community needs for infrastructure, facilities, and employment opportunities.

The benefits of land use planning are many. Planning for growth enables the County to facilitate the delivery of more efficient and cost-effective services by encouraging development in areas where services already exist or can be more easily provided. The Plan protects property values of residents and businesses, while encouraging additional investments by providing a reliable idea of how and where growth will occur. Sound planning helps balance the need for quality of life amenities and the economic activity that is necessary to sustain this quality of life for the County and its residents.
